Summer-Like Weather Due for L. B. Today

New Pacific Storm Shifts From State, Goes Farther North

Unseasonable warmth will continue today, with the Long Beach area basking in temperatures near 80 degrees. Peak temperature here Saturday was 83 degrees, making Long Beach one of the warm spots in the nation.

Official forecast reads: Mostly sunny Sunday and Monday, but increasing high cloudiness. Local fog patches late Sunday night and early Monday near the coast. High Sunday near 80. Cooler Monday afternoon.

Other temperature extremes from around in Southland Saturday were Los Angeles 83, San Diego 88, Burbank 84, Santa Barbara 74 and Newport Beach 70.

Unseasonal high temperatures continued for the most part as many record peaks for January were reached. Rapid City, S. D., posted a mild 74, while Medford, Ore., where below-freezing temperatures are the rule at this time of year, recorded 68 degrees. Billings, Mont., and El Paso Texas, each reported 67.

Weathermen Saturday revised their forecast of a new heavy winter storm slated to howl in from the Pacific ocean on the heels of Friday's big blow. They said that storm center was whipping northward and would only skirt the north portion of Washington, by-passing Oregon and California.

The Pacific storm had knocked out power and telephone lines, washed out several bridges and caused landslides that blocked highway and rail lines from Washington to Northern California. At Aberdeen, Wash., power lines snapped in winds up to 95 miles an hour.

Rain was expected on the Northern California coast from the eastern fringe of a storm moving northeast from the Pacific.

Unseasonal warmth has melted the Sierra snow pack to a degree which caused a Pacific Gas & Electric Co. spokesman to express concern over a possible summer water supply problem.

A rush of water in the American River burst a 40-foot temporary dam project. The suddenly released water swept away some installations at the $57,870,000 Folsom project, and may cause some delay in construction work there.

U. S. Highway 40 over Donner Summit to Nevada was reopened to all traffic Saturday, and other major highway were open.

Storms centered in New England, the Southeast, and the North Pacific Coast states, dropped up to three inches of ice on some transcontinental highways and cut off power in about 100,000 homes.

And the Weather Bureau said there were prospects of more heavy snow and freezing rain in the northeastern part of the country already, hard hit.

In Waterbury, Conn., where a power failure silenced radio stations.

Ships Collide in Dense Fog

DEAL, England.—(AP) A French freighter and a Costa Rican tanker collided in dense fog near the treacherous Goodwin Sands and both ships reported they were taking water.

There were no immediate reports of casualties. There are about 50 men on both ships.

The 4345-ton French cargo carrier Fauzon reported it had a hole in the bow. The 7053-ton Costa Rican tanker Aster said water was pouring in through her port side.

An unidentified British vessel was standing by the disabled ships. Two salvage tugs were en route through the fog that has cut visibility to a few yards.

L.A.C. SAYS:

City Employee Pensions

An amount equal to almost three-fourths of all the taxes collected by Long Beach this year must be used to finance pensions for city employees. It is almost impossible to believe this statement, but we assure our readers it is true. All city taxes collected this year are estimated to be about $4 million. The amount necessary to finance all city employee pensions is shown to be $2,696,950. This includes the old fire and police pension and the new system, including employees' contributions. It is estimated a third or more of this cost could be saved if the city switched to the federal social security plan instead of the state plan. The employees would get as good, or better, benefits. They would save money which could be used to purchase additional annuities. The city would save money which could be used to increase pay for

Missile Takes Off on Wings of Flame

GROUND-TO-AIR GUIDED MISSILES which exceed speeds of 1500 miles-an-hour were U.S. experiments more than five years ago, the Defense Dept. revealed Saturday. This picture showing a pilotless aircraft leaving a trail of flame as it zooms from its Alamo-gordo, N. M., launching platform during Boeing Airplane Co. tests, was taken in 1949. The Defense Dept.'s announcement flicked back the curtain further with the information that since these experiments a "new, advanced" technique was established.—(AP Wirephoto.)

Huge Waves Lash South Coast, 30 Families Flee

LOS ANGELES.—(AP) Huge waves lashed the Southern California coast Saturday, beaching boats, washing out streets, inundating stores and homes, shattering small piers and forcing 30 families from their homes in one beach community.

The giant combers, created by an intense storm over the Pacific Ocean, were expected to continue tomorrow.

Although more than 200 miles of beaches from San Diego to Santa Barbara were affected, neighboring Redondo Beach was the hardest hit. There the city council declared a state of emergency.

State aid was sought to eliminate 80 feet of breakwater in Redondo which, engineers said, was causing a destructive whirlpool of waves.

Despite the violence of the sea, only one injury was reported. Palmer Nichols, skipper of a 65-foot cabin cruiser, suffered three broken ribs when a 20-foot high wave tossed the cruiser ashore at Huntington Beach.

At Redondo Beach, waves blasted inland more than a block, flooding stores. Some combers crested over the tops of two-story buildings.

Southern California Edison crews cut off power in inundated sections.

Crowds gathered at hard hit areas and were warned by lifeguards to stay out of the angry surf.

Surfside Colony Set for Pounding Waves

Surfside Colony residents braced themselves Saturday night for the return of pounding waves riding the crest of a 5.5 ft. pre-dawn tide which will roll up the beach at 5:17 a. m. today.

Heavy equipment prowled the low-tide beach Saturday removing heavy timbers which otherwise would have become battering rams in today's attack from the sea.

Shadow of Sickle Cuts Across Cardinal Rite

VATICAN CITY.—(UP). The shadow of communism's anti-church campaign will hang over the Vatican on Monday when Pope Pius XII meets in secret consistory with the Sacred College of Cardinals to create 24 new cardinals. None of the two old and the two new cardinals from Communist countries will be on hand for the solemn ceremonies which will bring the Sacred College up to its full membership of 70 for the first time in 250 years.

Josef Cardinal Mindszenty, primate of Hungary, is in a Communist jail. Chinese Cardinal Thomas Tien, Ken-Sin, barred from his Communist-dominated homeland, is ill in the United States.

Yugoslav Archbishop Aloysius Stepinac and Polish Archbishop Stefan Wyszynski are from Communist countries and refuse to leave their posts in the present circumstances to come to Rome for their elevation.

Their absence will give added meaning to the Pope's own name for the Catholic Church in Communist countries—the Church of Silence.

The consistory begins on Monday and ends late Thursday afternoon. The list of the 10 non-Italian new cardinals who will participate was completed with arrival by air of the Rt. Rev. James Francis McIntyre, archbishop of Los Angeles, and Mons. Josef Wendel, archbishop of Munich, Germany.

The American prelate, last to arrive, smiled broadly as he stepped off the plane and was greeted by some 100 members of the American colony who had come to the Rome airfield.

He left the North American College Saturday afternoon for the first time since his arrival to drive around Rome and to stop for religious articles to be given to friends in the United States on his return. Earlier he sat for a color photograph in his cardinal's robes.

Although the white-haired prelate was reluctant to don the brilliant garments while still an archbishop, he consented in order to have the photograph ready for publication in his archdiocesan newspaper early this week.

Saturday night he dined in a hotel with members of the party who accompanied him from Los Angeles. He planned to retire early and celebrate mass at 9 a. m. in the American Church of Santa Susana.

Protocol requires McIntyre to pay calls in the Vatican this morning on the co-secretaries of state, Mons. Domenico Montini and Giovanni Battista Tardini.

Probably the first public mass he will celebrate as a cardinal will be Friday morning in the crypt of Saint Peter's above the tomb of the first apostle.

Red Hat to Cap Church Career of L. A. Archbishop

By SPENCER CRUMP

The red hat of a cardinal... That thought probably was farthest from the mind of a tall, gangling, 13-year-old lad in a stiff white collar who, at the turn of the century, scurried along New York's Wall St., running errands for financial houses to help support his sick father.

So well did the youth, James Francis Aloysius McIntyre, perform his duties that when he reached manhood he was offered a coveted partnership in a brokerage firm. He declined the honor for a higher calling. He entered the priesthood.

On Monday, new Archbishop McIntyre of the archdiocese of Los Angeles, he will receive the red hat—symbol of his new rank of cardinal in the Roman Catholic Church—at a secret consistory of the Sacred College of Cardinals in the Vatican.

Archbishop McIntyre is among 23 archbishops throughout the world who will take the pontifical hat, bringing the college to its full complement of 70 members.

The spiritual head of 1,000,000 Catholics in the archdiocese of Los Angeles, Archbishop McIntyre has led the area in the past four years in unprecedented church growth.

A frequent visitor in the Long Beach area, the new cardinal has dedicated new parishes here and has officiated at masses locally for special occasions.

Archbishop McIntyre was accompanied on his airplane flight to Rome by Monsignor Bernard J. Dolan, pastor of St. Anthony's Church of Long Beach and one of the ranking monsignors in this archdiocese.

U. S. Bombers Rip Four Rail Yards in North Korea

SEOUL (Sunday)—(AP) U. S. B-29s, battling through hot anti-aircraft fire and Red fighter plane opposition, blasted four North Korean rail yards with 11 tons of bombs Saturday night and early today in a stepped up Air Force campaign against Communist supply routes.

The Superforts from Japan and Okinawa threw 11 tons of bombs on rail yards at Sonchon, Onju, Naewonsan and Anju. The yards feed Red war supplies from China and Russia into the big rail hub of Sariwon and eventually the Red front line.

The attacks came in the wake of a fierce blow by 300 Allied fighter-bombers Saturday afternoon on a vital Communist rail and road bridge center just north of Sinanju.

Sinanju is 40 miles north of the North Korean capital of Pyongyang. Sariwon is about the same distance south of Pyongyang.

The Air Force said B-29 pilots reported attacks by four Red planes. No announcement was made of any Allied losses or damage in the raids.

The 300-plane attack sent smoke rising in huge columns that were seen 30 miles away, pilots reported.

Ired MacArthur Blames Desertion On Truman Policy

Ike Cementing Amity With South Demos

Praises Dixie Solon;
L. A. Man Chosen in Labor Dept. Position

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON.—(AP). President-elect Eisenhower has taken concrete steps toward cementing relationships with the Southern Democrats who may provide the margin for congressional approval of some of his legislative proposals.

In at least one instance, Eisenhower has written a "Dixie" legislator praising the latter's record and suggesting a conference on general legislative matters after the inauguration.

In this instance, the Congress member involved did not openly support Eisenhower in the election campaign. For Democrats who did—mostly state officials—the reward has been even more concrete, through consultations on patronage.

For members of Congress who backed his Democratic opponent, Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois, Eisenhower had a cheery Christmas card, if nothing else.

This sort of activity is regarded here as likely to give the new President-elect some whopping majorities in Congress as long as the honeymoon atmosphere prevails.

The test will be whether he can cement enough Southerners to his cause when Democratic Party leaders drop their wait-and-see attitude in the next few months and begin shooting at the Republican President's proposals.

That shooting could begin along about April, when Congress gets down to doing something about the $78,600,000,000 budget President Truman submitted to Congress last week.

Some of the Democrats who regard themselves as liberals are ready to point out any missteps the Republicans might make.

The southern Democrats are likely to go along with most economy moves Eisenhower makes and may support many of his other proposals. In fact, Sen.

SALTONSTALL STARTS INQUIRY INTO REASONS MEN SKIPPING SERVICE

By RONALD AUTRY

NEW YORK.—(AP). Gen. Douglas MacArthur Saturday night heatedly blamed any excessive American military desertions on what he called President Truman's "policies of appeasement." It was a new peak in the feud between the Chief Executive and the man he fired as Far Eastern commander of United Nations forces fighting in Korea. MacArthur used the most biting language he has yet applied in answering Truman's charge that the general, whom he called "insubordinate," helped increase desertions that lately have run to a total of 46,000.

Gen. MacArthur said:

"If such desertions are indeed excessive, despite the recent denials by the Defense Department, they can more realistically be ascribed to a lack of faith in President Truman's policies of appeasement."

And MacArthur termed some of the President's attacks on him as "puerile," "unjust and arbitrary," "obvious spleen," "completely untrue," "unfounded and, indeed, venomous," "savage methods."

Perhaps, too, MacArthur added in his blistering statement, Truman "is animated by pique" at President-elect Eisenhower's "interest in ascertaining my views on Korea."

In Washington, the White House withheld comment on Gen. MacArthur's statement.

In Boston, the Globe said, Chairman Saltonstall (R-Mass.), of the Senate Armed Services Committee has begun "gathering the facts" on desertions—to "determine why there are desertions and, in doing this, to examine the boys' side thoroughly, too."

The newspaper quoted Saltonstall as saying he has asked Ashton B. Tamm, chief counsel of the preparedness subcommittee, to check with the staffs of all services.

"What information we already have indicates that the figures look bigger than they really are," the Globe quoted Saltonstall. "The rate is only half that of World War II."

The Army said last Wednesday that 46,000 enlisted men have deserted since the start of the Korean War but that all except 11,000 have been picked up or returned voluntarily.

For all the services—the Air Force, Navy and Marines as well as the Army—the current count of deserters still at large was given by Pentagon officials at about 13,790. These figures do

Pay Raise Due 19,000 in L. B. Douglas Plant

A two-million-dollar pay-boost melon will be cut Jan. 16 by the 19,000 Long Beach Douglas Aircraft Co. plant employees, thanks to action Saturday by the Wage Stabilization Board.

The WSB ruling also insures latter pay checks for 5500 aircraft division employees of Rheem Manufacturing Co., Downey.

Wage adjustments were announced in San Francisco by Arthur P. Allen, regional chairman, who said they affect 82,000 workers in California and Arizona.

All wage adjustments are retroactive, Douglas to Aug. 25, 1952, and Rheem to Dec. 1, 1952.

The WSB ruling authorized Douglas to pay a five-cent-an-hour general wage increase. The Rheem figure is six cents an hour.

The Douglas ruling also affects employees of the El Segundo and Santa Monica plants which jointly total 26,000 workers.

Allen said the adjustments tend to equalize the industry's wage structure.

Rulings followed the pattern set in the WSB decision on the North American Aviation Co. arbitration case, Allen said.

Other companies affected by the WSB ruling include Consolidated-Vultee Aircraft Corp., Weber Aircraft Corp., Marquardt Aircraft Co., and Grand Central Aircraft Co., all of Southern California, and Hughes Aircraft Co., Tucson, Ariz.

The board also approved fringe benefit adjustments allowing all companies to make minor changes in various employment provisions. This included hours of work, overtime, shift differentials, call-in and report pay, vacation and holiday schedules, paid holidays, flight bonuses, and travel expenses.

Cycle Skids, Impales Rider in San Pedro

A puncture wound deep in the upper abdomen, suffered in a motorcycle crash in San Pedro, left Bernard Stephens, 29, of 25402 Walnut St., Lomita, in critical condition today.

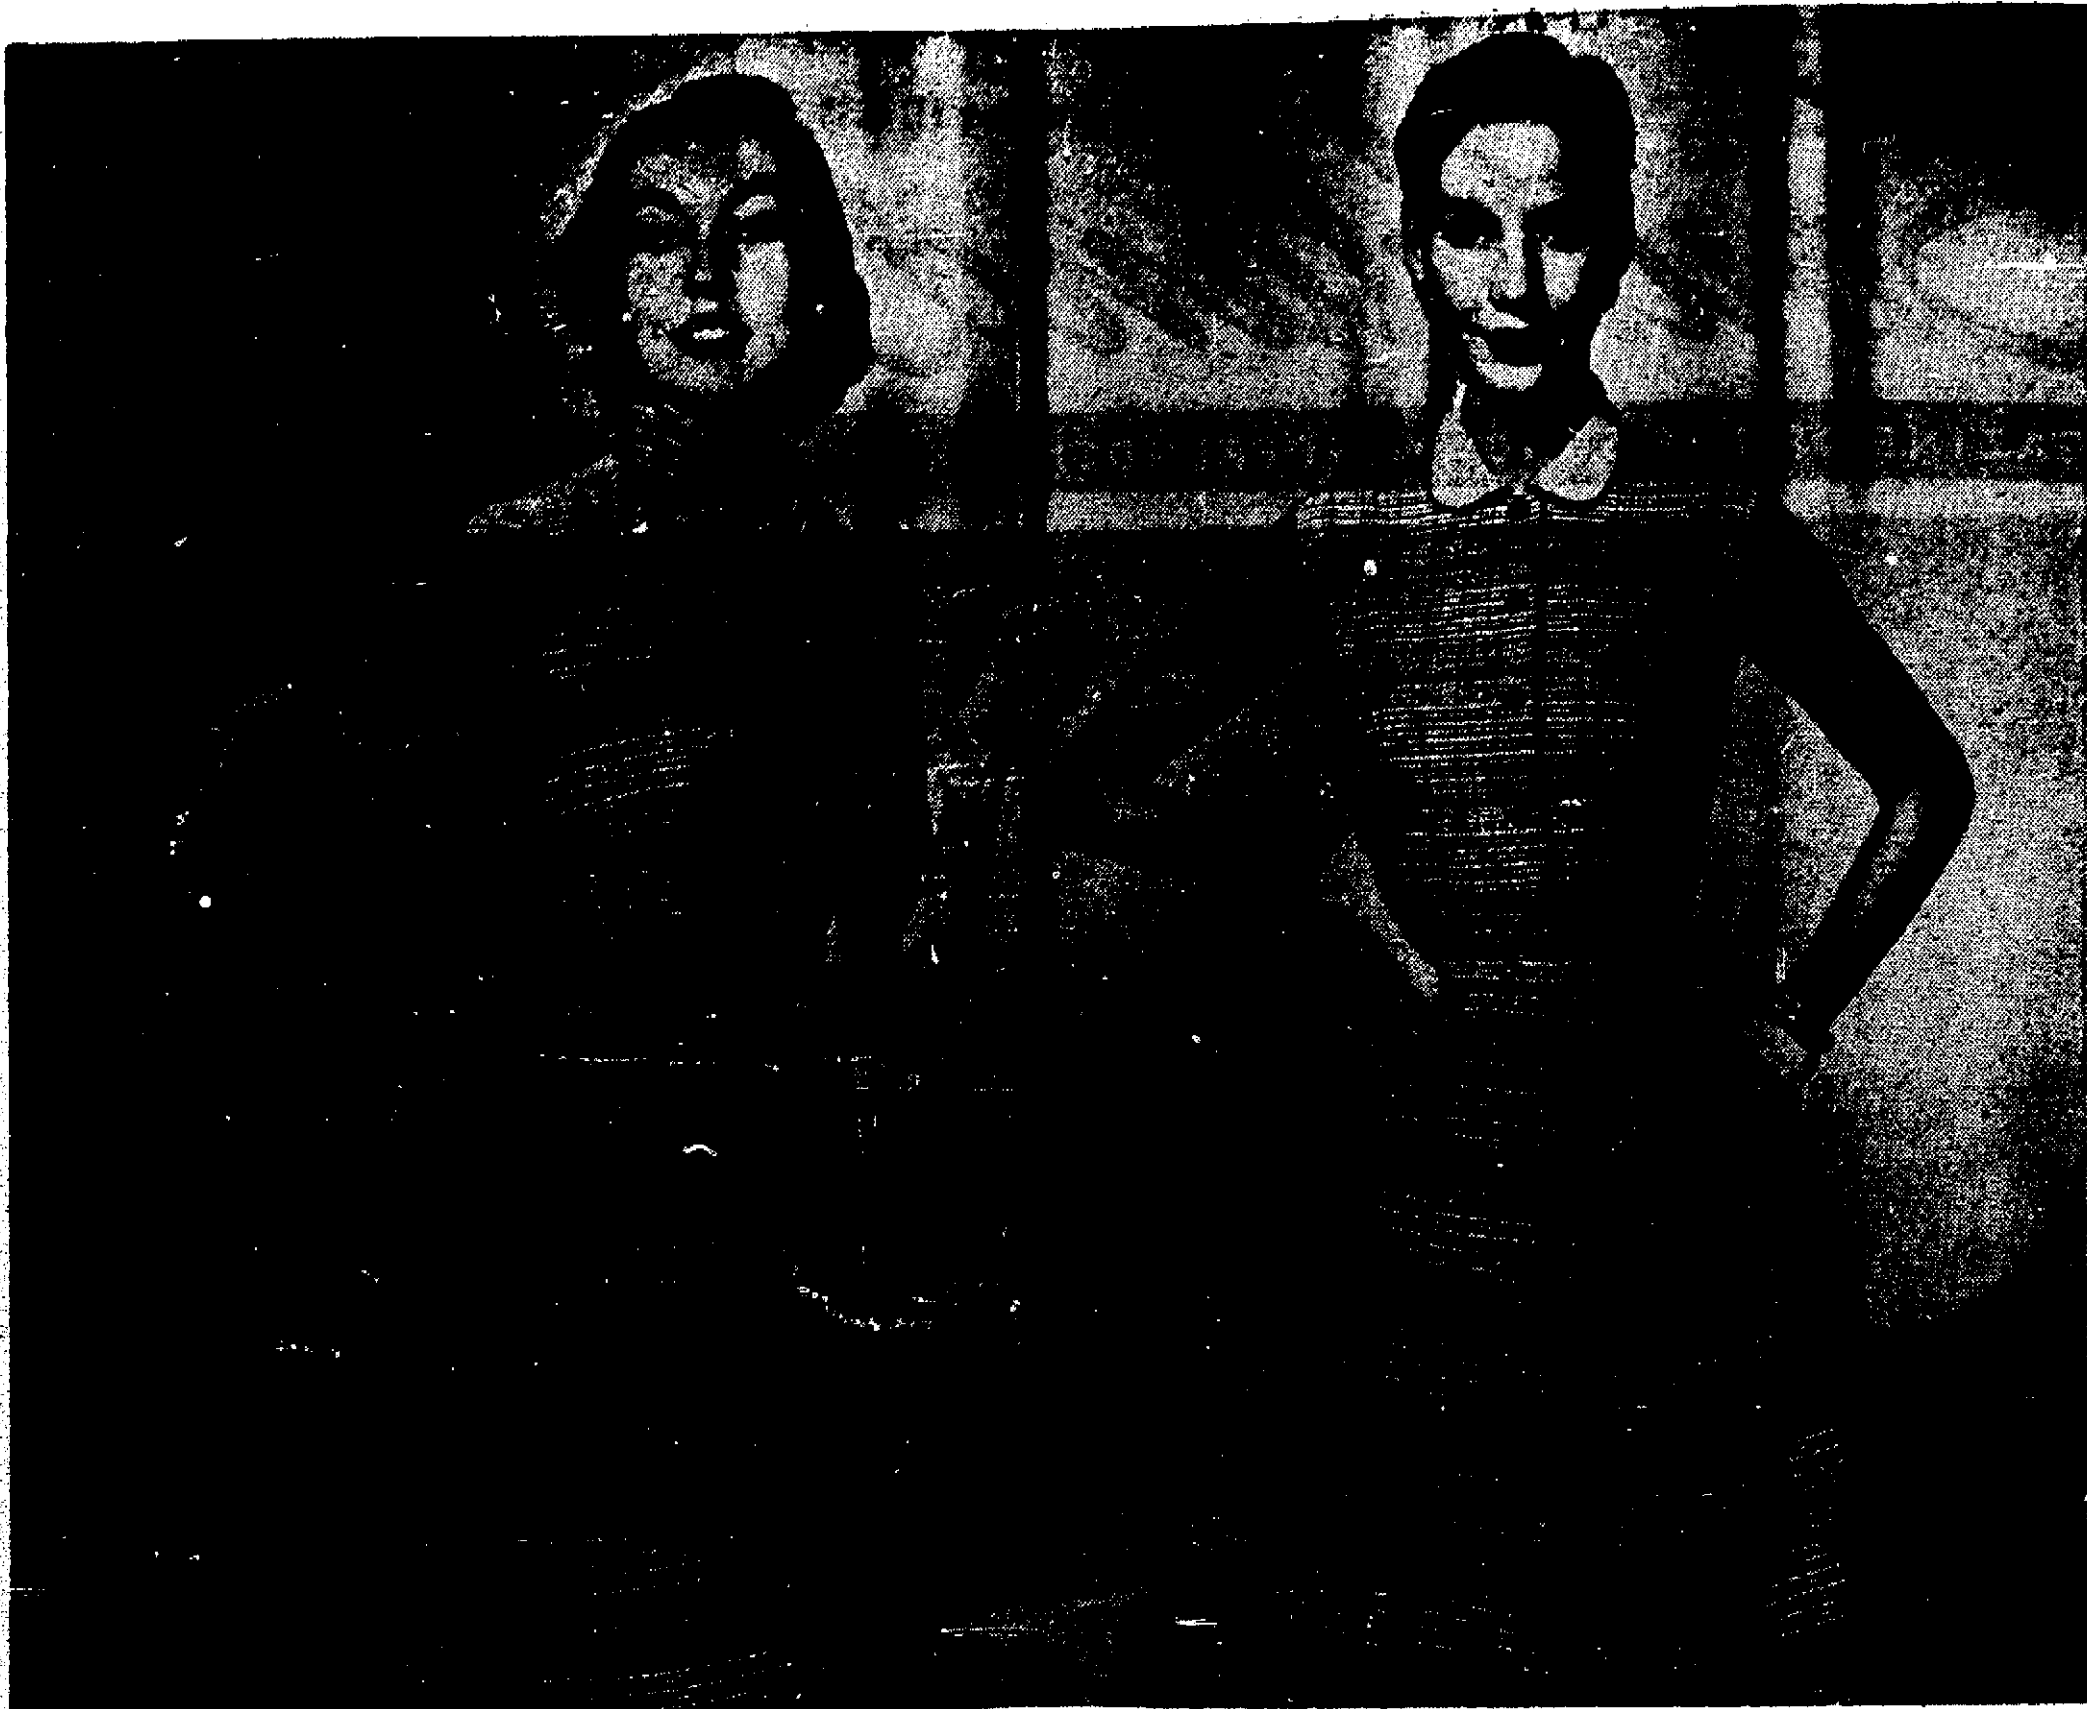

San Pedro police said Stephens was riding his cycle Saturday at 5 p. m. when it skidded and threw him at First St. and Pacific Ave., San Pedro. Stephens was taken to San Pedro Emergency Hospital and treated for the puncture wound, possible internal injuries and shock. He was transferred to Harbor General Hospital, Torrance.

Meanwhile four persons remained in critical condition at Harbor General Hospital, where they were taken following a fatal three-car smashup in Wilmington Friday.

The quartet are William Bal-ew, 30, of 30 Cayoita Ave., Long Beach; Mrs. Hortense Chavez, 40, of 784 1/2 W. 16th St., San Pedro; Kenneth J. Deem, 24, of 460 W. 14th St., San Pedro, and 4-year-old Becky Valdez, 784 W. 16th St., San Pedro.

Killed in the crash was the 4-year-old's mother, Mrs. Mary Valdez, 40.

Fast Life

By PETRONIUS JR.

IT IS A PRETTY SERIOUS situation when you can't get a bed in a hospital when you really need it.

That is actually the situation here on many days when the hospitals are jammed.

AND YET WE HAVE no serious epidemic, nor have we had a disaster.

It all goes to show that top priority should be given hospitals when tideland oil money is released.

BUT, IT IS IMPORTANT to set up the system of how a number of city-owned hospitals will be operated.

The people are not likely to approve $16,000,000 of expenditures and turn the results over to any group not directly responsible to the city council and city manager.

IT IS IMPORTANT to know how things are to be handled before propositions are placed on the ballot.

DO stockmen do a lot of traveling or is it just that a lot of people put on stockmen's togs when they travel? I was in Union Station in L.A. the other eve to meet a visitor and was much impressed by the big hats and high-heeled boots I saw all over the place. Didn't see anybody who looked like an ordinary cowboy—they all wore the special garb of the gents who own the ranches and hire cowboys.

Maybe there was some kind of a cattleman's convention under way, but I hadn't heard of it, and it seems to me I'm always seeing boots and Stetsons in trains and stations.

One thing seems certain—no stockman ever puts on ordinary street shoes and headgear when he takes off.

BY THE WAY, what's the best route to take from downtown Long Beach to Union Station?

Having had some pretty gruelling experiences on Alameda at heavy traffic periods, I took somebody's advice and drove up Atlantic to the Santa Ana freeway.

It was in the 5 to 6 p.m. time bracket, and I was a little late in starting. Traveling on Atlantic was slow but not too bad until I got within shooie distance of the freeway entrance from Atlantic in East Los Angeles.

There I ran into a vast pile-up of cars. It was a tight plug and nothing seemed to happen even when lights changed up ahead. Afraid of missing the train (Coast Daylight) arrival at Union Station, I was getting pretty jumpy and hot under the collar before I finally managed to edge my way into the freeway.

From there on, it was a breeze, but I was already late. There was another traffic jam when I tried to get off the freeway into Union Station (it goes right by, you know) and it was a minute or two after train time when I leaped from my car and raced into the station.

When I came breathlessly up to the concourse where you meet incoming passengers there was nobody around. The bulletin board there told me why—the Coast Daylight was 20 minutes late getting in.

ALL OF THIS brings up another question: Why doesn't the Southern Pacific make some better arrangement for getting passengers from Union Station to Long Beach?

The transfer to another depot and the ride down on the P.E. seems a little antiquated (it's especially inconvenient if you have baggage) in view of the population growth and proportionate travel increase here. I know a woman who travels here frequently from San Francisco and won't come by S.P. because of that.

A train-side bus connection looks like one possible answer. This dept. has offered some favorable comment on certain S. P. trains recently, but I wish I could do the same for its passenger service to L. B. As an old S.P. fan—I lived on the main line 25 years—I hate to hear those un-nice things said about it.

THERE'S A CAT in Long Beach that tries to play basketball on television.

It's a girl feline named Tyke, property of John Norris of 1438 Pacific Ave.

When there's a game on the screen, Tyke gets up there close and tries to steal the ball. She nearly wore herself out the other night staying in for two overtimes when UCLA and UC tangled on TV.

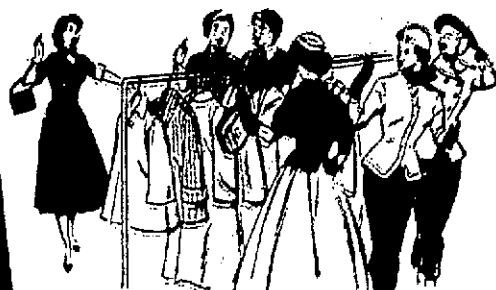

A great TV fan, Tyke almost went through the screen the next night when there were some chinchillas in the picture.

QUITE a movement of local GOP faithful toward Washington for the coming inaugural, not to speak of our 52 palominoes whose political affiliations are uncertain.

It has been a long time since the Republicans have had a chance to howl. In fact, one wonders if they're a little rusty in the celebrating dept.

After the Ike victory, the GOP seemed uncommonly quiet and restrained, everything considered. Maybe they'd forgotten how to make whoopee. If so, they'll probably have re-developed that talent by Jan. 20.

$58,500,000 in Projects Surveyed by City's 'How to Spend It' Group

End of Mission Nears for Fund Advisory Staff

By GEORGE WEEKS
(Independent-Press-Telegram City Hall Reporter)

Eighteen months after its appointment, a unique civic group that was formed to meet an unprecedented set of circumstances is about to finish its first big assignment, involving projects estimated to cost nearly $60,000,000.

This is the mayor and city council's Citizens Committee for Public Improvement, believed to be the only organization in the world which came into being because a city had more money than well-explored plans for spending.

Within two weeks the committee will conclude its mission by submitting to the City Council a program of capital improvements with recommendations for financing and priorities. Its findings are only advisory; but the work it has done is expected to supply the framework for public works to be developed over a period of many years.

The net result, if all goes well, will be to transform Long Beach's shoreline, expand its park system, modernize its health facilities and make its citizens more secure from natural and man-made disasters.

TREASURY GUARDIANS

Aside from all that, the committee has the practical duty of keeping the city from going broke, committing itself to over-expansive projects that will prove burdensome to taxpayers of the future.

"That's what makes our job unique," says Committee Chairman Eugene E. Tinsler. "Many other cities have had capital improvement programs and advisory committees, but I don't know of one where the money was already on hand and the main emphasis was on what to do with it."

With that hazard in mind, the committee from the start, by direction of the City Council, has prepared working estimates of maintenance and operating costs of all projects, along with initial costs.

It also was instrumental in adoption of the charter amendment last November requiring proposed improvements to be approved by voters before becoming eligible for financing from tideland oil funds. The amendment will become effective soon upon ratification by the Legislature. The first list of projects is due to be submitted to the voters at a special municipal election April 3.

$58,500,000 PLANS

So far, public works estimated to cost $58,500,000 have received various degrees of approval by the four subcommittees of the citizens committee. By coincidence, that is approximately the amount of tideland oil money that will be available when one-half of the total accumulated revenue is transferred to the new public improvement fund.

However, that $58,500,000 figure is due for sharp slashing when the full committee takes a final look at the tentative list.

"The work of the subcommittee is strictly exploratory," Tinsler explained. "The various city commissions, the city manager's office and other groups interested in public works have been invited to bring in their ideas and make a case for them. They have done that, and the impression may have been created that we are already about to spend all the tideland money."

"Actually all the work so far has been preliminary. Nobody should be surprised if the committee's final recommendations turn out to be modest in comparison with some of the figures we have been hearing."

With assistance from the Planning Department, all four subcommittees have followed a set pattern of listing projects in various stages of progress, from survey to construction, and in three categories of priority—urgent, desirable and reserve.

CRITICS HEARD

Critics as well as advocates have been invited to public hearings, the last of which is set for 2 p. m. Wednesday before the subcommittee on parks, recreation and shoreline development. At that time park and recreation projects to cost more than $16,000,000, including the $10,000,000 small-boat harbor in Alamitos Bay, will be considered.

Other projects on the tentative list approved by subcommittees, and subject to review by the full committee and the City Council, are: Hospitals and health facilities, $16,400,000; art center, $1,000,000; Municipal Auditorium, $1,850,000; Municipal Airport, $3,400,000; civic center, $3,000,000; Fire Department, $2,850,000; libraries, $3,500,000; city yards, $1,200,000; storm drains, $3,600,000; highways, $200,000.

The City Council's choice of Tinsler for committee chairman rested on 35 years of civic activity, most of it in unsalaried positions. As commissioner of public affairs in 1917-21—an elected office equivalent to city councilman—he headed the city's first Planning Department. Since then he has served 20 years on the Board of Education, including six years as president.

This committee chairmanship has been completely different from anything I have done before," he said. "It has been pleasant work. Nobody has subjected us to undue pressure to approve any specific projects. On the contrary, everybody has seemed concerned about getting maximum benefit from our oil money."

He gave credit to the other committee members for their year and a half of unpaid work. The members are Jack Arnold, Dr. Charles R. Brantingham, Mrs. Walter Case, Jack Chuck, Mrs. Jack Drown, Harold Hines, Rex L. Hodges, Earl B. Miller, Dr. Lorin G. Nelson, Mrs. Frances Nielson, Peter Plain, Francis Reider, Harry E. Ridings Jr., Werner Rucht, George P. Taubman Jr., Roy Van Alstine, Lloyd S. Whaley, Paul Wilcox, Dr. C. B. Wildman and Kenneth Wing. Wilcox, Wing, Van Alstine and tions and the police and fire alarm systems, the Waterbury American had no power to receive news, set type or print.

Trees and power lines were taxed to the breaking point by tons of ice.

Twenty-two persons died in New England, seven in New Jersey, three in upstate New York, and four in Indiana.

The deaths came largely from over-exertion and automobile accidents.

In New York City, ice fell from skyscraper ledges and police were forced to rope off some streets. A pedestrian who passed the Chrysler Building as ice crashed to the pavement said it "sounded like an air raid."

Ships were confined to New England harbors as the storm reached its peak. The Norwegian tanker Giert Torgeson was forced to call on tugs when engine trouble developed after the vessel left Boston Harbor.

A British tanker, the SS Wave Commander, with 40 men aboard, ran aground at the entrance to Chesapeake Bay in murky weather.

A Marine fighter plane crashed and sank in Albemarle Sound off Virginia, and the pilot was missing and presumed dead.

Elsewhere foggy, rainy weather prevailed in the Midwest; but temperatures were above normal.

Slaight Renamed Patrol President

Alvin S. Slaight Saturday was re-elected president of the Mount of El Bekal Shrine Temple.

Ike Promotes Amity With South Demos

Daniel, (D-Tex.), has predicted the Dixie lawmakers may be found more often in Eisenhower's corner than some Republicans.

This support could be critical in the Senate, where the Republicans outnumber the Democrats by one vote, with one Independent.

Eisenhower chose two more cabinet under-secretaries Saturday—a long-time friend who held high posts in the Truman administration and another AFL official.

He named Gen. Walter Bedell Smith as under-secretary of state and Lloyd A. Mashburn of Los Angeles, California labor commissioner and a member of the AFL, Wood, Wire and Metal Lathers Union, as under-secretary of labor.

Smith is chief of the Central Intelligence Agency had served for three years as ambassador in Moscow after World War II. He was Eisenhower's chief of staff in Europe during the war.

James C. Hagerty, Eisenhower's press secretary, said he did not know Smith's political affiliation, associates of Smith said he had never declared any political affiliation and always described himself as non-political.

Mashburn is a Republican, unlike Martin P. Durkin, Secretary of Labor-designate, whose appointment was described by Sen. Taft of Ohio as "incredible." Durkin, a Democrat who supported Gov. Stevenson, headed the AFL plumbers union.

Mashburn was appointed in 1951 by Gov. Warren as chief of the Division of Labor Law Enforcement in California's Department of Industrial Relations. Whoever holds that office is, by state law, also state labor commissioner.

General's Son Arrives for Inauguration

TRAVIS AIR FORCE BASE—(AP) Maj. John Eisenhower, 30, son of President-elect Eisenhower, returned from Korea Saturday to attend his father's inauguration.

Greeting broadly, the tall, blond young man stepped from a Pan American military-chartered plane here and said:

"I'm happy to be home—but I'll hate to say goodbye to all over again."

The assistant intelligence officer of the U. S. Third Division in Korea was given a 15-day leave to attend the inauguration. Then he must return to the battle zone, where he had been since last July.

Immediately after the plane landed Air Force officers, Secret Service men and security agents hustled young Eisenhower into a reception room to telephone his mother in New York.

He emerged a short time later, a smiling khaki-clad figure wearing only the blue Combat Infantryman's badge on his battle jacket. Just 61 minutes after the plane arrived, he left in the company of Secret Service men to visit an old family friend, retired Army Col. Paul A. Hodgson at Mill Valley. Hodgson was his father's room mate at West Point.

He stayed there until late afternoon, then boarded an American Airlines plane for Washington.

Boy Dies in Pond

SAN DIEGO—(AP) A 5-year-old boy fell from a raft and drowned Saturday in a 10-foot-deep pond. The youngster, Richard Bramer, was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Bramer. His father is at sea off the coast of Washington aboard the USS Frontier. The body was recovered.

8-Engine Jet Bomber Ends Test Flight

FORT WORTH, Texas — (AP) The YB-60 came home to Carswell Air Force Base Saturday, ending the return trip of the first cross-country heavy jet bomber flight in aviation history.

The all-jet, eight-engine bomber touched down at the Carswell runway at 5:26 p. m. 4½ hours after it took off from Edwards Air Force Base near Muroc, Calif.

An Air Force crew took the plane to California Wednesday for jet engine thrust tests. Edwards Air Force Base has the only thrust meter capable of testing so large an aircraft.

Convair officials said no attempt was made to establish speed records on either flight as the trip was for testing only.

OLD BEER CANS LYING AROUND? HERE'S ANSWER

DICKSON CITY, Pa.—(AP) Joseph Srebo has found a limited use for his old beer cans—as an antenna linked to his new ultra high frequency television set.

Srebo reported Saturday that when he first tried his new set he was barely able to pick up a recently commissioned UHF station at Wilkesbarre, 25 miles away.

As an experiment he fastened two empty beer cans to a lead wire and hung them out a window. His TV reception improved tremendously, Srebo said.

MacArthur Blasts Truman 'Appeasing' for Desertions

not include men merely absent without leave.

MacArthur issued his second blast in two weeks at Truman—after months of relative reticence—as a reply to statements attributed to the President by columnist Doris Fleenor of the Bell Syndicate.

Miss Fleenor said Truman blamed politically-inspired attacks on his Korean War policy for desertions. Her interview with the chief executive was described Saturday by the White House as an accurate one.

In the interview, Truman called MacArthur "insubordinate" and said he had "set a bad example... when he didn't obey and wouldn't report to his commander in chief."

The President, Miss Fleenor added, "points an accusing finger at the Chicago Tribune, the Scripps-Howard and the Hearst newspapers, together with their hero, Gen. MacArthur."

In Chicago, Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher of the Tribune, said in a statement: "Truman is an infernal liar as well as a fellow traveler in trying to destroy the Republic of the United States."

In his statement issued Saturday night through Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney, an aide, MacArthur fired back his own round of salvos.

"Mr. Truman's obvious spleen against me, given mounting expression since the election, is undoubtedly political, not military."

"It arises in my opinion from his realization that his unjust and arbitrary actions connected with my relief and related incidents, coupled with the bankruptcy of his policies in the Far East, played a large part in his overwhelming repudiation by the American people at the polls."

MacArthur took up Truman's statements to Miss Fleenor point by point.

On desertions, he said, Truman's policies had created a lack of faith because they "forbade victory to our forces committed to battle in Korea when such victory was easily within their grasp 20 months ago" and created "the growing fear that such policies will inevitably plunge us into another world war."

Then he went on to the President's charge that he failed to obey orders and said:

utrupe as shown by the testimony given before the Congressional inquiry following my return."

MacArthur was referring to his return from Japan after Truman summarily relieved him from duty some two years ago in a disagreement over policies.

MacArthur referred to the insubordination charge and said: "His querulous complaint of insubordination because I did not call upon him following my return is querie in view of the circumstances attending my relief."

The latest MacArthur-Truman tangle followed a previous fuss by less than two weeks.

At that time the United Press quoted Truman as saying in an interview that he relieved MacArthur because the general "wanted to involve us in all-out war in the Far East."

The next day MacArthur issued a statement that those remarks were "inaccurate and misleading."

1953's Most Heralded Birth

Lucille Ball, January 17, 1913

By Vera Williams

ALL "I LOVE LUCY" fans—and that means practically everyone who has television or access to television—know that Lucille Ball and her husband, Desi Arnaz, are going to have a baby.

Monday night by Monday night in recent weeks as the popular comedy has come on the screen, the fact has become increasingly obvious, and for several weeks now the TV drama has centered around the blessed event which had not taken place as this goes to press, but is officially slated for the latter part of this month.

In fact, some Ball-Arnaz fans believe this is the most widely heralded heir apparent in the history of the world, royalty included (sponsors say that 32,000,000 people watch the program regularly).

The couple already have a daughter, Lucie Desiree Arnaz, born July 17, 1951.

Miss Ball, who has overcome many setbacks along the road to stardom, thus passes another milestone in her career.

At the end of her first year in dramatic school, Lucille was told that she was wasting her money. Her first four Broadway jobs, as a chorus girl, ended in four prompt dismissals. Just as she began to gain recognition as a model, she almost lost her life in an automobile accident and was told she never would walk again. It took her eight months in bed and three years of persistent, painful effort to reverse the doctor's gloomy prediction.

Born in Jamestown, N. Y., the daughter of Fred and Desiree Ball, mining engineer and concert pianist, respectively, Lucille was taken at the age of two to Wyandotte, Mich.

Mrs. Ball started her daughter's music lessons at the age of 5, then enrolled her in Chautauqua Institute of Music for two seasons. At 15, Lucille entered a dramatic school in New York and was told at the end of the first year of study that she would be better off applying her energies in some other field.

Determined to show her teacher that she could make good in show business, Miss Ball landed a chorus job in the third road company of Ziegfeld's "Rio Rita"—and lost the job after five weeks of rehearsal. Three other chorus jobs followed, none of which lasted beyond the rehearsal period. Her "first real job on Broadway" was as a soda fountain girl in a drug store.

A JOB as a $25-a-week model for a wholesale dress company led to a modeling job with Hattie Carnegie. Then came a tragic accident in Central Park, and three years and eight months of learning to walk.

Back as a model, Lucille was featured in magazine and billboard cigaret advertisements, and Hollywood scouts brought her to the film capital for a showgirl role in Eddie Cantor's

"Roman Scandals."

Columbia Pictures gave her a contract as a stock player and Lucille, convinced that her luck finally had turned, sent for her mother, grandmother and sister to join her in California. BUT the morning after she wired her family, the studio decided to dissolve its stock company. When the family arrived, Lucille was working as an extra at Paramount.

Bit parts and extra roles in a number of pictures kept Lucille busy but not prosperous, until she was cast in "Roberta." RKO officials, impressed by her work, gave her a contract. When not busy before the cameras, she was a mainstay of the studio's Little Theater.

Her performance in the second lead in "The Girl From Paris" drew Broadway's attention, and she was offered a lead in the musical, "Hey, Diddle, Diddle." After satisfying her desire to perform on the Great White Way, she returned to Hollywood for "Stage Door" and "Too Many Girls." In the latter picture she was costarred with Desi Arnaz. They were married Nov. 30, 1940, in Greenwich, Conn.

BACK from her honeymoon, Lucille walked into her first really big break, a role in "The Big Street," based on a story by Damon Runyon. Overnight it made her a star. In it, she played a showgirl paralyzed from the waist down. Her own three and one-half years in a similar predicament enabled her to play the role so convincingly that she had every studio bidding for her services. She signed with MGM on her birthday, Aug. 6, 1942. Her first assignment at MGM was the title role in the Technicolor production, "DuBarry Was a Lady." Stellar roles followed in "Best Foot Forward" and "Meet the People." After completing "Easy to Wed" with Van Johnson, she headed for New York to be with her husband, then out of the Army, and on his way to success in the orchestra business.

Shortly after completing "Her Husband's Affairs," Miss Ball went on tour as star of Elmer Rice's play, "Dream Girl."

This scene, of Lucy and her living room, is a familiar one to the thousands who watch her television program.

Between pictures and stage appearances, Lucille and her husband live at Desilu, their five-acre ranch at Chatsworth. The Arnazes raise cattle, chickens, dogs and cats and dabble in farming. Enthusiastic fishermen, they spend a lot of time on their boat.

tall and weighs 120 pounds, sleeps in a bed 7 by 7 feet. She likes spicy dishes and enjoys knocking around the house in dungarees.

In her role as Lucy Ricardo in "I Love Lucy," she is starred as the feminine half of a closely knit married couple. And that's her role in real life.

If Lucy and Desi appear a trifle bored at being photographed at breakfast, perhaps you'll understand; for they're a closely-knit couple in married life, too.

June Marston of Long Beach places miniature boy and girl dolls under an apple tree that is loaded with blossoms.

Her Dolls Do All but Talk

By Jule Armin

IN A wee house at 309 W. Seventh St., elbowed by city apartments, lives a woman who makes dolls that look amazingly like the people after whom they were modelled.

A sweet-faced nun, hands demurely folded over her tiny rosary, stands between a sultry belle of the Gay 90's and a dashing senorita. Tousle-haired boys, modeled after her daughter's twin sons, stare wide-eyed at a dancing lady. Dolls in silks, dolls in homespun and dolls in costumes made of a fairylike substance their creator says once was common milk filters. Life-sized dolls, pint-sized dolls, puppets and character dolls.

"I've always loved dolls," June Marston, their creator, says. "I am a native Californian and I started my collection right here. Later I traveled over the world collecting dolls. In Long Beach Recreation Commission art and craft classes, I learned to make puppets and that led me to experiment in making dolls.

"Creating is much more fun

than collecting. In the past 20 years, I must have made 100 dolls."

The character dolls are her own creation, too, from their wire "bones" to the tips of their waxed thread "eyelashes."

"I bend rather stiff wire into the general body shape first," Mrs. Marston explains. "Then pad the wire with cotton to form the body contour. Inch-wide strips of crepe paper wound over this makes the skin. I tint this 'skin' with oil paints so I can vary the color.

"Life-like hands are the hardest part to make on tiny figures." She holds up a miniature doll. Long, graceful fingers are tipped with fingernails no bigger than the head of a pin.

"I mold the head and facial contour from a mixture of fine screened sawdust mixed with paste to bread dough consistency," Mrs. Marston says. "This is covered with French crepe, pulled literally 'skin-tight.' When it is thoroughly dry, I paint the flesh color and features with oil colors. I use real hair whenever possible so I can dress it in pin curls, then comb it out or do it up in the style appropriate to the character of the doll. Eyelashes and eyebrows are of waxed thread. Then comes the fun of dressing my little people."

THE DANCING DOLL prouettes on one ballet-slipped toe, her sequin-dotted net skirt sparkling as it swirls about her knees. A saucily plumed hat the size of a dime sets off her platinum blonde hair. She has a complete set of pearl jewelry—ring, bracelet, necklace, earrings, even tiny seed pearl buckles on the tips of her dancing shoes.

Hugh and Eric, the little boy twins, have big brown eyes and dark, curly hair. A brightly-dressed Mexican senorita commemorates friendships over the border. The long lashed, sloe-eyed beauty in rustling, mauve taffeta, wearing a tiny cameo brooch and heavy gold earrings looks like an actress ready to step on a Gay 90's movie set.

Sometimes June Marston makes whole stage sets in miniature. A tree of apple blossoms shades a foot-square playground where a group of Tom Thumb boys and girls climb its branches, swing under its boughs and romp in its shade on the clipped paper lawn. On another plot close by, half a dozen brightly costumed girl dolls gaily wind a Maypole.

California's Cardinal and Heraldry of His Faith

His Eminence James Francis Cardinal McIntyre, D.D.

A RED HAT FOR THE ARCHBISHOP

the archbishop's appointment by the fact that he is the first cardinal to be named from the west coast, and also the first prelate to don the red hat from west of St. Louis.

It is the College of Cardinals that acts as the Pope's senate and advisers. And on the death of the Holy Father, it becomes the duty of the cardinals to choose one of their number as the new Pope.

There has been speculation that the next Pope may be an American-born prelate. It is possible that this prime honor might go to Cardinal McIntyre, whose highly praised abilities have enabled him to rise rapidly to high offices in the Catholic Church.

It is pointed out that Cardinal-designate McIntyre is regarded as a good candidate for papal secretary of state, the office held by Cardinal Eugenio Pacelli, the present Pope, before his elevation.

Although the ceremonies in which the cardinal officially is among the most spectacular in the Catholic Church, nothing could be more heart-warming than Archbishop McIntyre's rise.

Ironically, until his arrival in Los Angeles in 1948 to assume duties as archbishop, the cardinal-designate spent most of his life in New York City—mostly between 28th and 51st Sts.

He was born June 25, 1888, in Manhattan. His father, James Francis McIntyre was a native New Yorker and his mother, Mary Pelley McIntyre, was a native of Kiltorma, County Galway, Ireland.

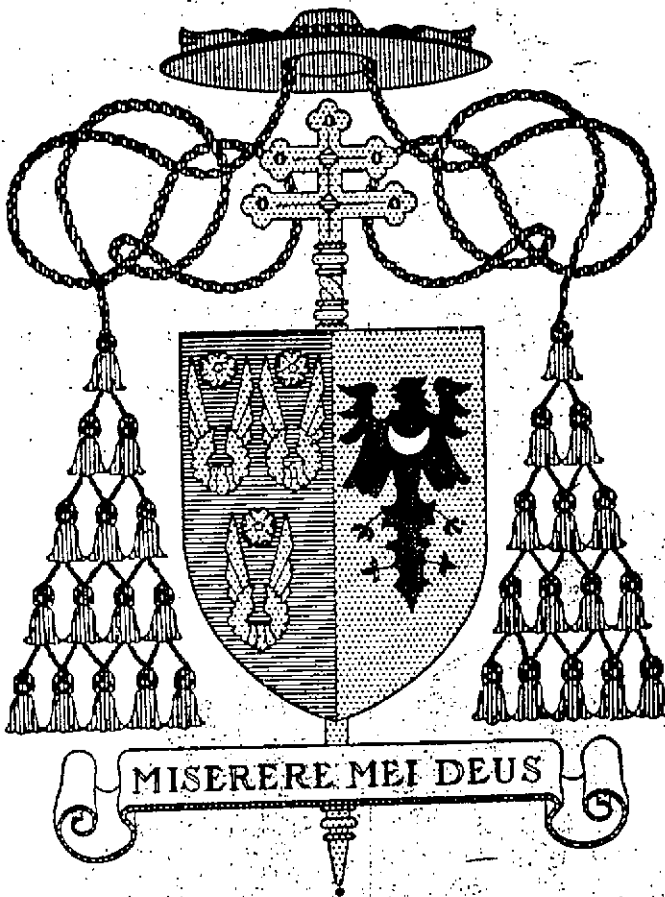

His mother died when he was 10 and his father became an invalid shortly thereafter. A cousin, Mrs. Robert F. Conley, helped to raise the boy.

A month after he was graduated from public school on his 13th birthday, he got a job as an errand boy for the New York Stock Exchange. His full-time pay was $3 a week.

While he worked, helping to support his father, he served as an altar boy. At night, he studied first at high school and then at New York City College and Columbia University.

The year 1915, when he was 29 years old, became a time of decision for the young man. His father had just died. The brokerage firm for whom he worked offered the future cardinal a lucrative partnership.

The offer was tempting, but the young man always had wished to become a priest. He left Wall Street immediately and enrolled as a student at

COAT OF ARMS—James Francis Cardinal McIntyre's heraldry represents the archdiocese on the left side of the shield. The right half bears his personal arms. The archdiocesan half contains three sets of golden angels' wings on a field of azure, each guarding a golden rose. The rose is one of the Virgin Mary's livery badges and the angels' wings symbolize Los Angeles.

His Eminence's shield is blazoned as follows:

Gold, an eagle displayed in red and on its breast a silver crescent. A red eagle with wings extended on a gold field or background was the ancient original coat of the McIntyre clan. The crescent, symbolic in ecclesiastical heraldry of the Immaculate Conception of Mary, is a personal detail. This symbol was selected from many figural symbols of Our Lady in heraldry because, under the title of the Immaculate Conception, she is the patroness of the United States.

The motto, "Miserere Mei Deus," is taken from Psalm 56. External ornaments of rank are a golden cross with a double traverse indicating the jurisdiction of the archbishop and the red pontifical hat with 15 scarlet tassels denoting the cardinal's office.

Cathedral College, preparatory seminary for the archdiocese of New York. A year later he entered St. Joseph's Major Seminary.

After he was ordained a priest in 1921, the future cardinal's first assignment was as assistant pastor of San Gabriel's Church on New York's E. 37th St.

His ability as an administrator was recognized immediately and two years later Patrick Cardinal Hayes named the then 37-year-old priest as assistant chancellor of the archdiocese. He was promoted to the office of chancellor in 1934, the same year in which Pope Pius XII elevated him to the rank of papal chamberlain (monsignor). Two years later he was made a domestic prelate.

More recognition followed in the ensuing years. The future cardinal became titular bishop of Cyrene and auxiliary of New York in 1940; vicar general in 1945; gained Knighthood of the Grand Cross of the Holy Sepulchre in 1946 and, in the same year, became archbishop of the Titular See of Paltus and coadjutor archbishop of New York.

Since becoming archbishop of the Archdiocese of Los Angeles in 1948, Cardinal-designate McIntyre has guided the establishment of 25 new parishes, 82 parochial schools and has recorded an increase of 250,000 in the area's Catholic population.

When Archbishop McIntyre accepts the red hat of the cardinal, it may well be the beginning of even more achievements in his already illustrious career.

Hero of Kon Tiki Heads Expedition to Ecuador Isles

GUAYAQUIL, Ecuador — (AP) Swedish Scientist Thor Hayerdahl who drifted across the Pacific from Peru to Rariora Reef near Tahiti in 1947 on the raft Kon Tiki, sailed Saturday for the Galapagos on a 180-ton motor-ship.

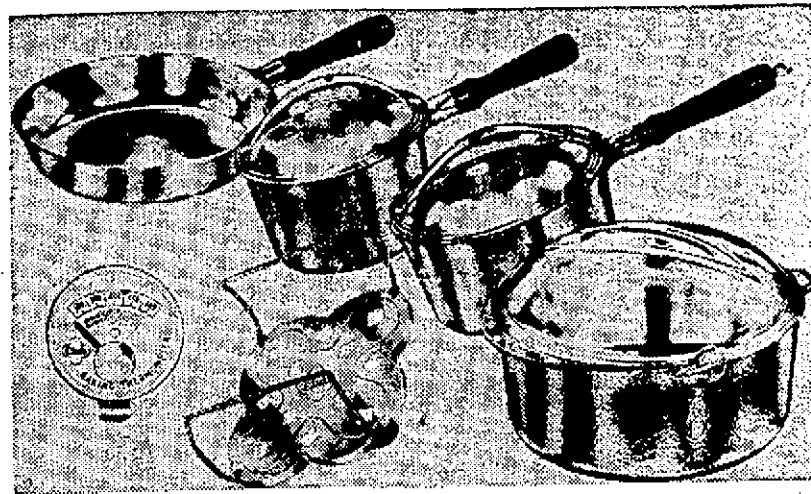

Hayerdahl is heading an archeological mission which plans to spend about six weeks in the Ecuadorian archipelago. He was accompanied by two archeologists, Arne Fekjolsvold of Sweden and Erick M. Reed of the United States. The Ecuadorian government has approved the mission and promised any help needed. The mission is expected to land Thursday at the port of Baquerizo on Cristobal Island. It will visit at least six other large islands in the area to gather data in an attempt to support the theory that the first inhabitants of the Galapagos came from the American continent and were not Spaniards as recorded by some history books.

Daniel Boone--'53

Shades of Daniel Boone! Hundreds of Southern Californians are reviving the fine art of shooting the old muzzle-loading arms. In fact, they have banded into a select fraternity known as the Muzzleloaders Association, and the more than 250 members in Long Beach gather the second Thursday of each month (7 p. m. at Silverado Park Clubhouse) for gabfests. Some are real champions.

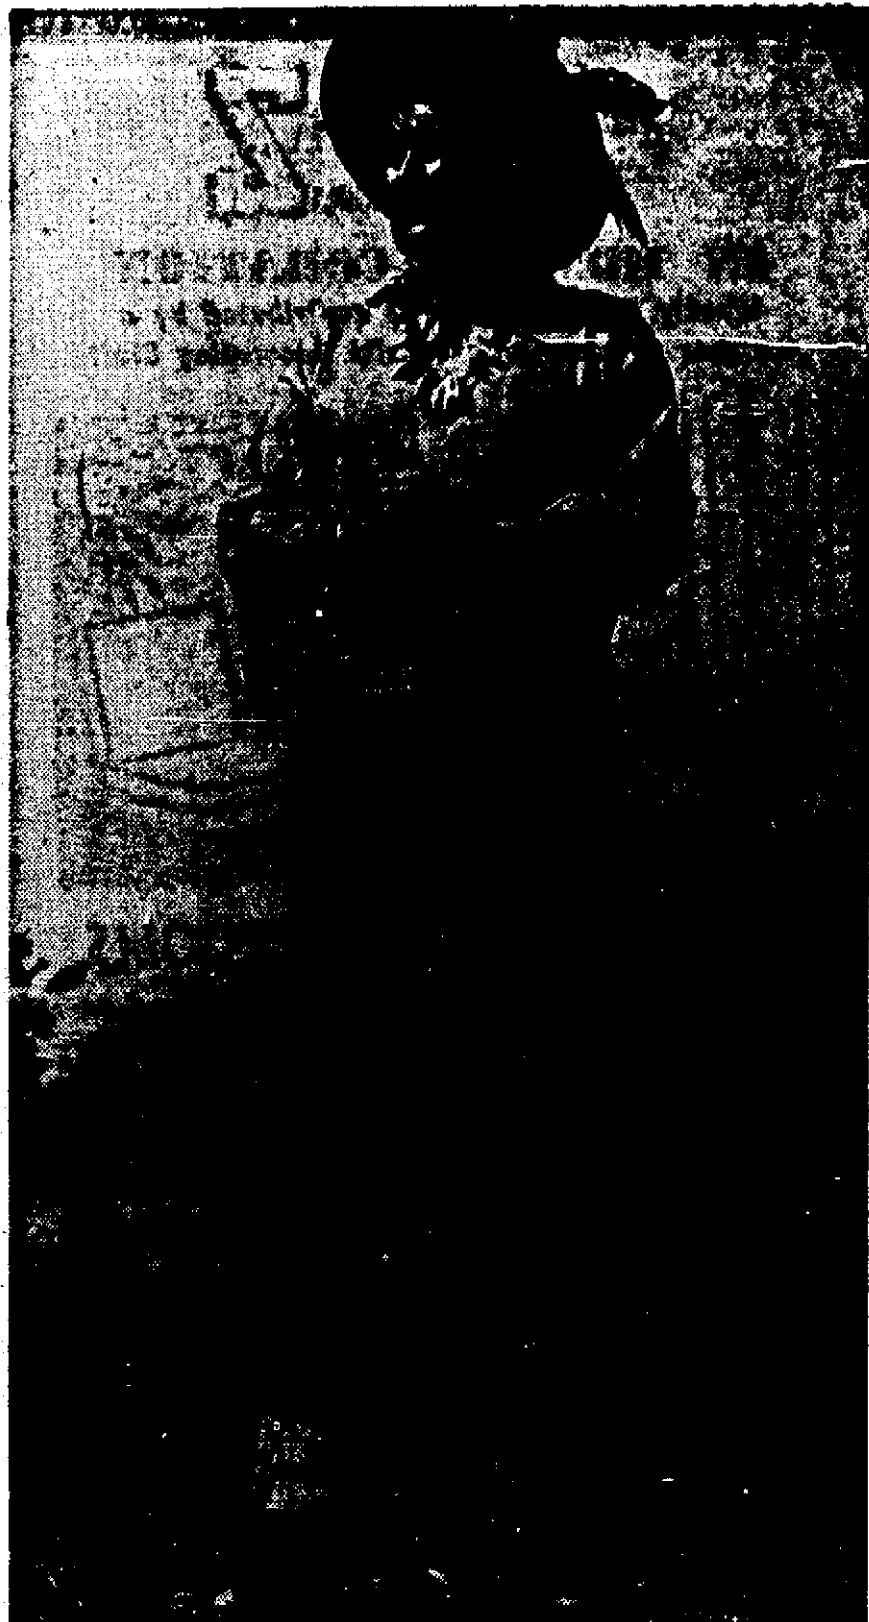

Muzzleloaders in this area meet the first and third Sundays of each month (10 a. m. at the Long Beach Pistol Range) for real, old-fashioned shoots.

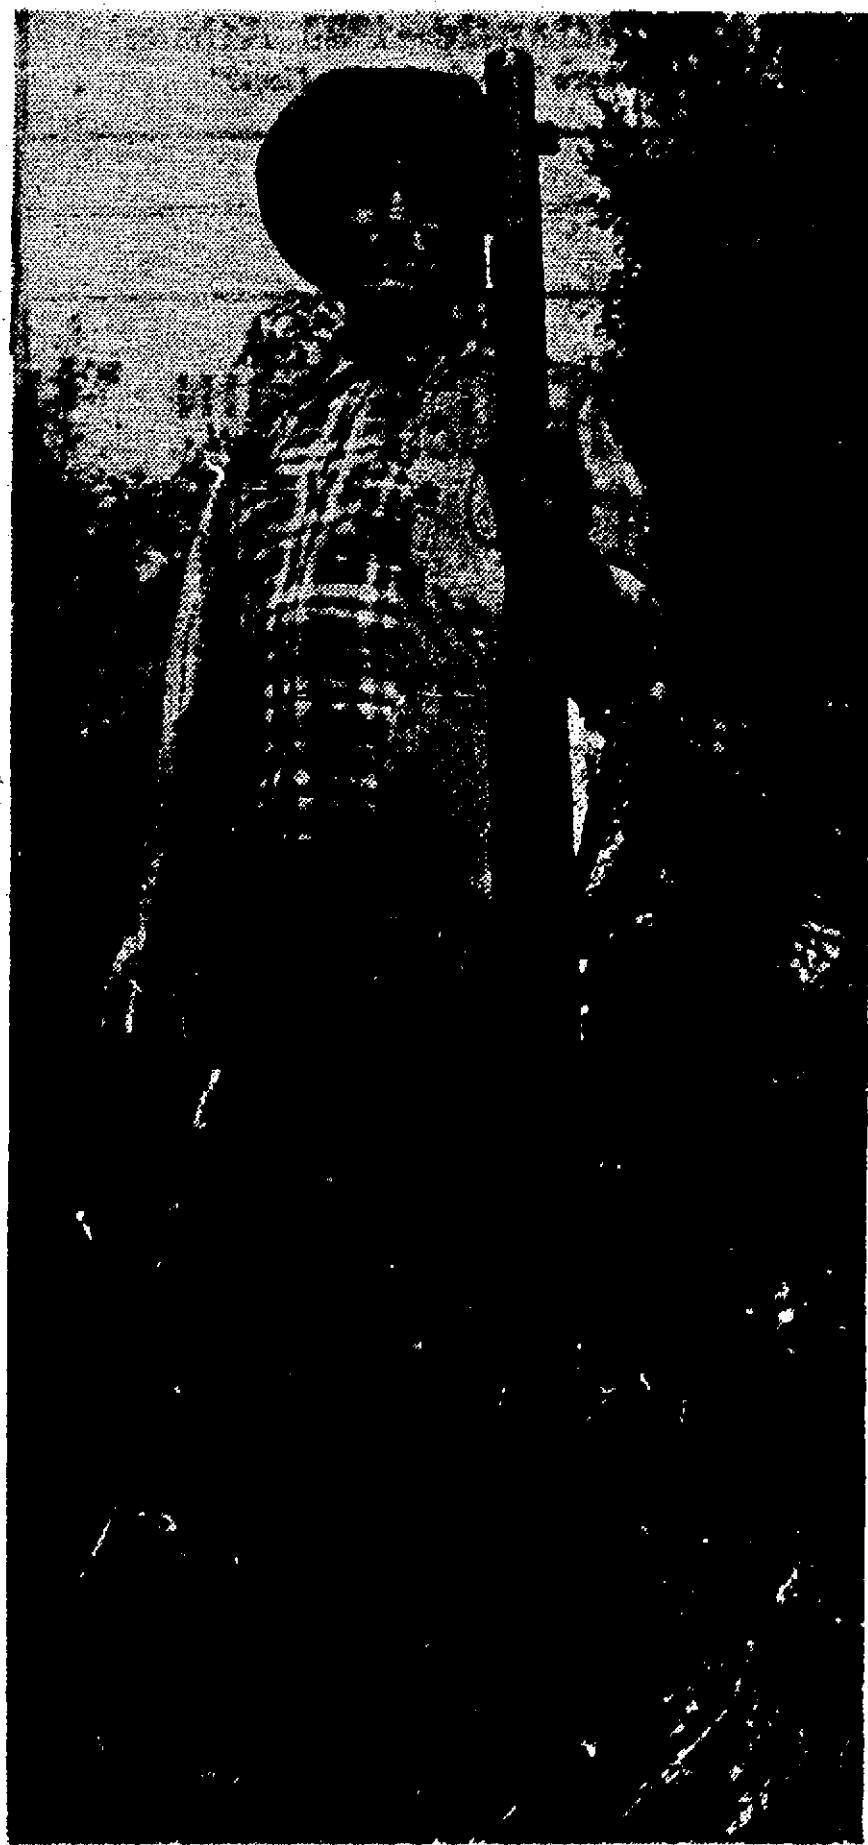

Patches, black powder, ramrods are only part of the paraphernalia it takes to load a muzzleloading gun. But these gents love everything about shooting.

This Muzzleloader checks his score through a telescope. Best marksmen at local shoots go to national meet which last year was held at Friendship, Ind.

Meet Daniel Boone of '53! Mile Taylor, Long Beach, shown in frontiersman's garb and holding his old Kentucky, is National Muzzleloading Slug Gun Champ.

IN HOME DECORATION

Weekly Decorating Helps contributed by a member of the Aaron Schultz Decorating Staff

DE-CLUTTER SMALL ROOMS

Few of us have rooms as large as we think we'd like them to be. Some look larger than they are, thanks to decorating ingenuity that you can easily adapt to your own home.

Uncluttered surfaces make small rooms seem larger. The larger the smooth surface, the more effective. De-clutter small rooms by clearing table tops of useless scarves and figurines. Let something as simple as a bowl of fresh fruit be the only decoration. Clear walls of little fussy pictures, ornate brackets, mementos and hangings. Leave one or perhaps two pictures in simple frames.

Treat a series of windows like one large window. Hang draperies ceiling to floor without a break. Select monotone, rather than print fabrics, with interest supplied by texture variations.

Your furniture, too, can contribute to the airy, openness that enlarges rooms. Tops of glass, tapered frames, so called "floating" design . . . all these minimize bulk in their appearance.

These are but a few of the ideas you can put to work to "enlarge" your own home. Come to Aaron Schultz home consultants without charge or obligation.

Happy Garden of

Home in the full sense of the word, and set in a happy, friendly neighborhood is Friendship's Garden, the residence of the Harold Freemans in Garden Grove.

By Margaret Pitcairn Strachan

THE HAROLD C. FREEMANS of 9381 S. Hillview Rd., Garden Grove, have named their home in the Orange Wood Acres section, Friendship's Garden. Freeman's hobby is growing flowers and for many years he gave away and swapped plants with his friends—when he bought his new home he decided to have a regular plan so that he always would know from whom he received his choice specimens and every time he walked around his garden he would be filled with memories of his friends. He had name tags made for each plant, tree or shrub, with the name of the donor upon it.

The Freemans feel that they have found a perfect place to live—"This neighborhood is unique," Freeman says. "The night we moved in the neighbors sent over food for our dinner so that we did not need to stop working to cook. At Christmas time one neighbor made identical decorations for the lamp posts of each house. We have get-togethers for barbecue suppers and little dinners. Nobody seems to be able to do enough for you!"

And the Freemans found their home purely by accident. A friend told Freeman he had seen the perfect house for him. Freeman wasn't interested, sounded to him as though it was at the end of the world. He was living in Long Beach and intended some day when he retired to build a house at Encinitas. Until then he would

The Freemans like their long living room with its air of comfort and dignity. The fireplace is large and handsomely built, definitely a point of interest.

Oakland Jails 17 in School Dope Peddling

OAKLAND—(UP). Seventeen men accused of peddling marijuana in at least two Oakland high schools were jailed Saturday at the climax of a 48-hour police roundup.

Lt. Jack Brierly, head of the police special services squad, and Deputy Dist. Atty. Al Hederman said all but two of those arrested have given full or partial confessions and six more suspects still are being hunted.

Two undercover police agents' work was credited as leading to the crackdown. They made repeated purchases during the past six months from each peddler, two of whom were selling marijuana to school children.

One agent made two purchases in the Oakland Technical High School gymnasium, and the other bought the drug twice at a restaurant which served as a student gathering place across from Fremont High School.

They made at least two purchases from each peddler contacted. Brierly said, spending about $500 in the last six months on marijuana.

Apparent ringleader of the gang was identified as Robert S. Geborn, 21, Oakland, who was charged on three counts of selling narcotics.

Identified as the two high school peddlers were Sergio Don Fenever, 19-year-old clerk, who is charged with two sales, and Wilbert Porter, 23, a laborer, charged with four sales.

L. A. Holdup Man Captured While Still Holding Bag

LOS ANGELES—(UP). This holdup man got caught holding the bag.

Police booked Hollis T. Henry, 26, Los Angeles, on suspicion of robbery and reported he held up the main Western Union office downtown early Saturday, ordering a clerk to fill a paper sack.

But they said he took time to count the money, found it came to only $23 and ordered the safe opened. In the meanwhile, the night manager tripped a concealed alarm.

Officers said Henry was still waiting for more money when they arrived.

Good Neckpiece, But It Scratches

396 Fancy Cats Compete In Show at Auditorium

Amid the meowing of 396 cats, the raucous voice of Donald Duck will blare forth today at 2 p. m. in Municipal Auditorium. The man who speaks the lines of the movie cartoon cutup will be guest at the two-day cat show under way here.

Final judging of short hair and silver cats will take place today, with the best of show in the all-breed event scheduled for this evening. The show will be open from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m.

The joint affair is the second annual show of the West Shore Cat Club of Long Beach and the 18th annual event of the California Cat Club of Hollywood. All proceeds go to the Casa Colina Crippled Children's Home in Chino.

High lights of Saturday's judging include the awarding of the rosette for Best Kitten in the Show to Azulita Patriot, a blue male owned by Mrs. Walter K. Johnson of San Diego. Azulita Patriot earlier had won Best Kitten in the Show in the solid color event.

Actually, four shows are being held: the California-West Shore Cat Clubs' all-breed event, California Silver Fanciers, California Solid Color Fanciers, and Short Hair Society of California.

Best kitten of opposite sex was a Siamese female, Dark Gauntlets Gwenet, owned by Florence Kemmerling, 309 W. 136th St., Hawthorne. Other winners Saturday included:

Best White Cat: Victoria White Shoulders, Mrs. E. J. Woodland. Best Blue Cat: Ch. Wycliffe Chelsie of Nor-Mont, Mrs. M. E. Hoag, Arlington, Va.

Best Seal Point Siamese: Shanghai Cotton, Mrs. Gladys Dunn, San Diego. Best Blue Point Siamese: Bograes San Phong Rama, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Forrest, Del Paso Heights. Best Chocolate Point Siamese: Kwan Yin's Angelica, Lt. and Mrs. W. R. Deeths, San Rafael.

In the solid-color class, winners included:

Best Blue-Eyed White: Ch. Victorian White Shoulders, Mrs. E. J. Forrest, Woodland.

Best Blue Persian: Ch. Nor-Mont's Charlene, Mrs. M. E. Hoag, Arlington, Va.

Best Black Persian: Light Wing's Black Baron, Lucile Thompson, Seattle, Wash.

Pope Eases Communion Fast Rules

VATICAN CITY — (UP). Pope Pius XII Saturday eased the discipline for Eucharistic fasting to permit Catholics to drink natural water and, in certain cases, take non-alcoholic liquid nourishment before receiving Holy Communion.

In another innovation for most Catholic countries, the pope empowered local bishops to authorize afternoon or evening masses where they are necessary for welfare of such persons as over-night workers who cannot attend morning masses.

The modifications were contained in the new papal constitution entitled "Christus Dominus," of which an official summary was issued by the Vatican press office.

The new fasting regulations are effective immediately. They were dated Jan. 6, but were published only Saturday in the Vatican City newspaper Osservatore Romano.

The pontiff decreed that for afternoon masses where communion is to be administered, a minimum of only three hours must elapse between meals and the mass.

Beer and wine may be taken with the meal, the decree said, and thereafter, liquids may be taken up to one hour before the mass provided they are not alcoholic "of any kind whatsoever."

Aid to Lattimore Asked of Faculty

BALTIMORE — (UP). A $40,000 defense fund for Owen Lattimore, Johns Hopkins University professor indicted on a charge of perjury, has been asked of his colleagues on the Hopkins faculty.

Dr. George Boas, head of the university's philosophy department said he has mailed out letters to 1,000 faculty members of Hopkins institutions asking them to contribute to the fund.

HEAD-ON CRASH KILLS 3

SALINAS — (UP). Three men were killed and two injured Saturday in a two-car collision on Highway 101 near Bradley, 70 miles south of here.

Dead were Norfolk-Lawrence, 20, a seaman aboard the USS Atlatlas, whose father was believed living in Houston, Tex.; Lawrence H. Shumaker, 35, of Parlier, Calif., and Jim Voils, of Montecito.

The three men were passengers in a southbound car believed owned by Thomas O. Kelley, a sailor aboard the USS Blackfin. Kelley was taken in serious condition to Camp Roberts Hospital.

Coroner Elmer Machado said he believed the accident occurred when Kelley's car attempted to pass another in an early morning fog. It collided head-on with a northbound car driven by Henry L. Mecchi, a Camp Roberts soldier. He escaped with minor injuries.

Stove Upset, Fiery Fuel Perils Office

Lots of smoke, little fire. Such was the condition quickly controlled by firemen Saturday morning at 725 E. Ocean Blvd., where a lighted oil stove accidentally was upset, spilling burning fuel on the office floor. Damage was nominal.

3 Youths Held for Attack on Artesia Girl, 16

CYPRESS — A 20-year-old U. S. Navy sailor from Cypress was held in Orange County Jail at Santa Ana today on charges of forcible rape of a 16-year-old Artesia girl.

He and two teenage companions, similarly accused will be arraigned Monday in Anaheim Municipal Court.

Elton E. Howe, 8881 Watson St., was arrested at a San Francisco naval base and accused along with Anthony Indiere, 18, of Artesia, and Andrew J. Enneman, 19, of 7713 Miller Rd., Cypress.

Indiere and Enneman are in custody of Norwalk Sheriff's officers, but will be transferred to this county's jurisdiction.

The victim was with a 15-year-old Lynwood girl when she met three young men at a Coronado dance Jan. 3. The girls accepted offers of rides to their homes, but were taken instead to a lonely spot. The Lynwood girl escaped. The victim obtained the license number of the youths' car when it reached her home, and the arrests followed.

L. B. Mounted Police to Hold Rally Today

Members of Long Beach Mounted Police Patrol will hold a rally at noon today to make final arrangements for the journey by rail to the presidential inauguration in Washington, D. C.

The meeting will be held at the troop's clubhouse on Palo Verde Ave. north of Spring St. President Alvin S. Slaight announced. Tickets will be issued to those who will make the journey and other details will be arranged.

The special train will leave the Southern Pacific Station at Carson St. in Lakewood at 9:30 a. m. Thursday.

Slaight said a few spaces are left on the special train and anyone interested should come to today's rally.

Reunion After 47-Year Wait

Two brothers who have been separated for 47 years are having a reunion here at the home of a third brother.

Richard (Dick) Blencowe, 61, retired Wellington, New Zealand, city employee, and Albert Blencowe, 67, retired brick layer from Yakima, Wash., last saw each other in the city of their birth, Nuneaton, England, in 1905.

Both are visiting their brother Alfred E. (Ed) Blencowe, 59, cleaning shop owner, at his home at 1488 Park Ave.

Ed and Dick, after a separation of 34 years, were reunited last October when Dick arrived here for a visit on a trip around the world.

Hill Officer Quits, Admits Writing Disputed Letter

By CHUCK CHEATHAM

Striking at a "vicious little group" which he accuses of spreading dissension in the Signal Hill Police Dept., Sgt. Kenneth P. Schrank Saturday made public his letter of resignation in which he admitted mailing a letter smeared with filth to Mayor Lloyd Tomlin.

When Tomlin received the defiled letter, which in pristine form had been placed on the police bulletin board praising one officer for testifying against another, he immediately ordered Chief of Police Ted C. Murphy suspended for 30 days.

This caused the Signal Hill Civic Improvement Assn. to call a mass meeting. During the meeting loud threats of recall were hurled against Mayor Tomlin and Councilmen Horace Green Jr. and Lloyd Colson, council members who backed the mayor in his suspension of Murphy.

ACTION OPPOSED

Council members Emil Hautly and Mrs. Nellie Combellack opposed the council's actions in suspending Murphy.

Sgt. Schrank's letter of resignation, which was immediately accepted by C. W. Heier, acting chief of police in the hill city, read in part:

"Please consider this letter as my resignation from any further position with the City of Signal Hill.

"I wish at this time to take the sole responsibility for the removal and disposal of the notice which was posted on the Police Dept. bulletin board. The details you already know.

"I would also like to state that I have the deepest respect for, and the greatest admiration possible, for Ted Murphy, who has been my chief and friend for the past six years. I have come to know him as an outstanding person in honesty and integrity and ability as a police chief and citizen.

MAJORITY OF COUNCIL

"If it were not for the mistreatment and harassing administered to him by the majority of the City Council these past two and one-half years, the present situation would never have come to pass.

"I have for several months considered this resignation, but I could not bring myself to do so without striking at least one blow at the vicious little group that has caused so much dissension in our department.

"When the notice in question

Sardinians Vow to Quit Vendetta

ORGOSOLO, Sardinia — (AP) Tough men of this insular Italian town who for generations have followed a feuding code, have sworn on the cross to give up "vendetta"—killing in vengeance.

The task of wiping out the primitive law of avenging by blood a wrong done to a member of a family was undertaken by the town's beloved physician, Dr. Leonardi Monni.

The doctor talked to each family in turn, warning that vendetta would lead to race suicide. He reminded these proud stiletto-carrying people that 16 persons were murdered here in the waning months of 1952. Unless the chain of vengeance is broken, he said, 33 more citizens would wind up in their graves this year.

Two years ago a death list of 40 names was smeared on the walls of the town church. After the secretary of the commune ordered the list white-washed, he was killed. Seven on the list have since been murdered.

Police are powerless to stop the killings because of the island's code of "omerta" which means death to informers.

Dr. Monni convinced the heads of 50 of Orgosolo's most influential families to lead a movement to abolish the bloodfeud custom. They formed a peace committee that went into mountainous regions of this central Sardinian province in an attempt to convince the swarthy highlanders to join in an oath on the crucifix to give up vendetta.

On Jan. 3 men from the hills accompanied by their women folk marched into Orgosolo. Towns-men and outlanders alike joined in a special mass celebrated by Archbishop Giuseppe Melas of Nuoro. One by one, the men, grim-faced, slowly approached the crucifix, touched it, and took the oath, while the archbishop gave his benediction.

Then there was a big street celebration. Women boiled macaroni in big bronze pots. Tables groaned with 100 roast lambs.

Senate Banking Unit Chooses New Clerk

WASHINGTON — (AP) Sen. Homer E. Capehart (R-Ind.) Saturday announced appointment of Ira A. Dixon of Kentland, Ind., as chief clerk of the Senate Banking Committee.

Capehart, who will be chairman of the banking group, said Dixon will succeed A. Lee Parsons, who will remain as minority clerk.

End to Hatch Ban Sought

WASHINGTON — (AP) Rep. Frank Small Jr., whose Maryland district has many government workers, urged Congress Saturday to scrap the Hatch Act's ban on political activities by federal employees.

Small, a freshman Republican, said there is "absolutely no sense" in depriving federal employees of full citizenship rights just because they work for the government.

"I don't believe the framers of the Constitution ever intended it to be that way," he said.

Small has introduced a bill to amend the Hatch Act to permit all government officers and employees "to take an active part in political management or political campaigns."

Under the law, only the President, Vice President and certain ranking government officials now can take an active role in politics.

Democrats Eyeing Anderson Choice

WASHINGTON — (AP) Democrats are getting ready to do some talking about President-elect Eisenhower's selection of Robert B. Anderson, Texas oil man, for Secretary of the Navy.

Although there were other reasons, most of the public Senate objections to Pauley were based on the contention that an oil man should not hold a position of power in the Navy Department, which manages immense oil reserves.

Friendship

Freeman and his friends have swapped plants for many years. Tags bearing names of friends mark each plant.

stay where he was. But his friend insisted he look at it. So he did.

The result? Within two weeks the Freemans had moved. And furthermore they had swapped the Encinitas land to seal the contract! No moving to Encinitas when Freeman retires—he will be right at home where he is!

As soon as Freeman bought the property he began building a pergola, a greenhouse, workshop and new garage. He set all the piers for the pergola in concrete, installed floodlights and waterproofed all the wiring. Behind the garage and greenhouse Freeman has a vegetable patch, a dichondra "starter" bed, an orchard with peach, apple, apricot, pear, plum, avocado and cherry trees. And, of course, all around the garden, in the flower beds and the lawn are trees, shrubs and plants tagged with the name of the friend who wanted to be remembered in the Friendship Garden!

AS FOR the house itself, it is of white stucco and white brick with green shutters. Floor space totals 1800 square feet and includes a "Poker Room" which is a combination office and playroom. Woodwork in the main portion of the house as well as some full walls is of Honduras mahogany. The poker room has a parquet floor.

Mrs. Freeman likes the long living room with the big fireplace, hooked rug (oval with a rose border) the blue and silver damask davenport, matching silver chairs, the mahogany television cabinet, brown plastic contour chair which is of "pixie" size for her. The house was furnished when they bought it, but Mrs. Freeman made the curtains. In the living room she used unbleached muslin of an open weave and curved rods, so that the white tie-backs form a prettier frame at the window than would those of conventional style. The door to the front porch is of Holland Dutch style.

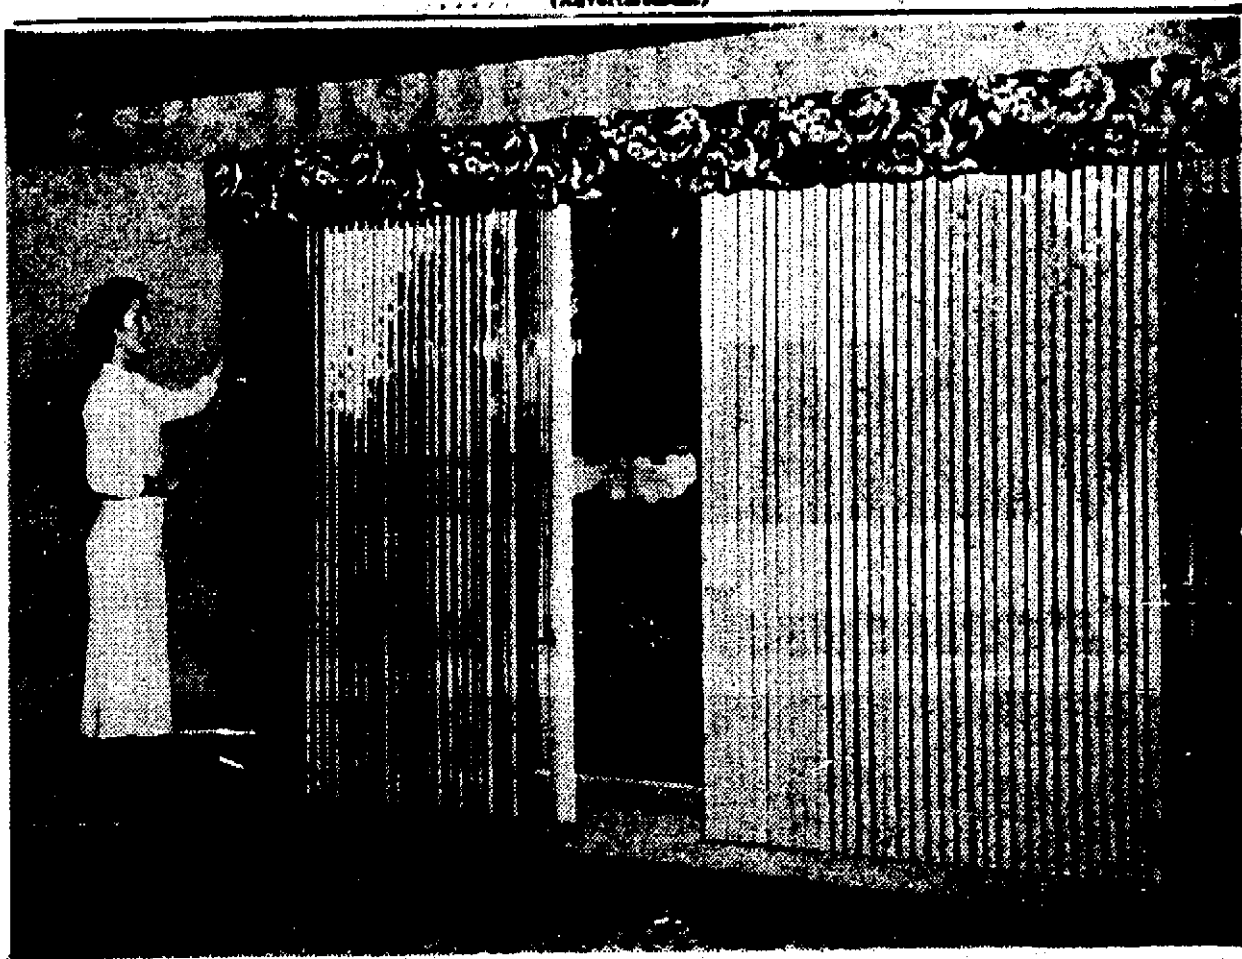

"I like my sewingroom, too," Mrs. Freeman pointed out, "and the big linen closets in the hall, all of mahogany."

THE LIVING ROOM is in the center of the house, the right wing contains the master bedroom, their son's bedroom, the sewingroom and the bathroom. The dining room, kitchen and breakfast area are on the left, with the special room of Freeman's beyond in the area originally designated for a breezeway. Freeman believes that a breezeway is wasted space.

The kitchen has yellow tile with a blue trim and walls papered in a country farmhouse design. A yellow formica-top table is used for the breakfast table with chrome chairs.

The dining room is furnished in mahogany with a hooked rug of blue, rose, beige and other soft colors. The chairs are upholstered with gold satin and the white ruffle tie-backs have over-drapes of pale pink damask with blue fringe.

"It isn't just the house," Freeman says, "which sold us on this place. It's the location—we are one-half mile from any busy highway and seem isolated, yet we are only minutes from Long Beach."

9 Bus Victims Still Treated; Two Serious

Nine of the 15 persons injured Friday noon when a Greyhound bus jumped the curb at Ocean Blvd., and smashed into the United Artists Theater still are in the hospital this morning, two in serious condition.

Still on the serious list are Arthur Baken of Comona, who hospital attaches said may have suffered internal injuries, and Mrs. Ida B. Brewer, 74, of 210 E. Sixth St. Huntington Beach, who received a neck injury. Both are at Seaside Hospital.

Hospital attaches said Baken was much improved, but still serious. Mrs. Brewer was described as being in "fairly satisfactory" condition.

Mrs. Gertrude Waldron, 60, of Corona del Mar, who was pinned in the bus for an hour and 15 minutes, was reported resting comfortably at St. Mary's Hospital. She suffered an injury to her right leg.

Mrs. Alice E. Fenerstein, 44, of Sheldon, Iowa, driver of the car which was in collision with the bus before it jumped the curb, will be released from St. Mary's Hospital today, attaches said.

Other patients at Seaside Hospital are Baken's wife, Theresa, 40; Mrs. V. E. Dysart, 66, of 2019 E. 15th St.; Charles E. Bennett, 72, of 507 Catalina Ave., Corona del Mar; Pearl Le Fevre, 49, of 1529 Mira Mar Ave., Balboa, and Mrs. Ethel Farrar, 60, of Shirley Center, Mass. All were described as in satisfactory condition.

Prayers to Be Offered for Ike in Capital

WASHINGTON—(AP). The Capital's religious leaders told President-elect Eisenhower Saturday that all churches and synagogues here have been asked to pray for his health and safety.

The leaders—Most Rev. Patrick A. O'Boyle, Catholic Archbishop of Washington; The Rt. Rev. Angus Dun, Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese, and Rabbi Norman Gerstenfeld—are members of the Committee on Religious Observance for the Eisenhower Inaugural.

"Our prayers will be offered for your health and safety," they said. "Even more we shall pray that you may be granted the wisdom to guide us into the way of peace, the spirit of servanthood that can alone preserve us from the pride of power, and the courage to withstand Godless tyranny abroad and the threats to personal freedom at home."

Meanwhile, plans continued booming for the inaugural festivities. The Air Force went ahead with preparations for a giant air show featuring 475 planes—many of them jets—despite one protest calling the operation hazardous.

The Aircraft Owners and Pilots' Assn. said it questioned whether the planes should be permitted to fly at low altitude over the inaugural parade.

Injured Infant in Oxygen Tent

HIS HEAD ALLEGEDLY SQUEEZED between his father's hands, Randolph Jankowski, three months, lies under oxygen tent in critical condition from hemorrhages on both sides of the brain. A doctor sent the child to a hospital three days ago when the mother said Randolph was in a coma. The father, John, who said he intended to stop the baby's crying, was charged Saturday with assault to kill, while the mother, Mary, was charged with neglect. —(UP Telephoto.)

McGranery Protests Paramount-ABC Plan

WASHINGTON—(AP). Attorney General McGranery was reported Saturday to have filed a vigorous but somewhat belated objection to a proposed merger of United Paramount Theaters, Inc., and American Broadcasting Co. properties.

The attorney general was not available for comment, and his top aides declines to discuss the matter.

Similarly, FCC sources were reluctant to discuss the matter in the absence of any statement by McGranery himself.

However, it was reported that the attorney general, acting on the advice of the Anti-Trust Division assistants, had advised the FCC that he is opposed to the projected consolidation of United Paramount's 600 local motion picture theaters with the coast-to-coast standard radio, FM and TV outlets of ABC.

Government sources reported that McGranery's protest had been answered by an FCC reminder that the proposed consolidation had been in hearing status for about a year and a half, during which time the Justice Dept. had not intervened. Under the Administrative Procedures Act, which guides FCC actions, the case was formally closed a week ago when the full commission heard final arguments on the proposed merger after months of hearings.

In those arguments, the principal opposition was presented by

1105 Missionaries Expelled by Red China

ROME—(AP). A total of 1105 foreign Catholic missionaries were expelled from Communist China during 1952, the Catholic News Bulletin "Fides" reported Saturday.

Fides said that at the end of 1952, only 723 foreign missionaries were left in Red China.

Six Arrested in Robberies

When it rains it pours, detectives of the local police robbery squad admitted ruefully Saturday.

In custody and slated for intensive questioning about local area holdups during recent days were two trios of suspects.

George M. Burton, 20, of 1125 Arcadia Ct., Carl Van Thomas, 20, of 1400 Lemon Ave., and Erven Simril, 19, of 1035 E. 16th St., were named by police as suspects in the $51 strong-arm robbery of two pedestrians in the midtown section Saturday.

Orlando Coccolighio, 25, of Martinez, was held for questioning about the Jan. 8, $35 holdup of a Naples market. Also booked on suspicion of participating as accomplices in the same holdup were Gilbert A. Martinez, 25, and Fred E. Nellis, 30. All are transients.

Taft Expects Quick Action on Tidelands

WASHINGTON—(AP). A bill to give the states title to oil-rich submerged lands off their shores may get speedy action in the Senate, Republican Leader Taft of Ohio said Saturday.

He said he assumes the bill, offered Friday by 40 Senators, will be one of the first to come before the Senate. A similar measure was passed by Congress last year, but was vetoed by President Truman.

Taft said that he wants to discuss the legislative program with President-elect Eisenhower before making any schedule commitments.

He predicted that extension of the President's government reorganization powers would get speedy approval of Congress.

Taft, who conferred Saturday with Maj. Gen. Wilton B. Parsons, one of Eisenhower's top advisers, will see the President-elect Monday in New York, largely on patronage matters.

He said he expects discussion of any detailed legislative program to be delayed until after Eisenhower has conferred with his cabinet choices and other advisers Monday and Tuesday.

Superior, Wis., Strike of Teachers Impends

SUPERIOR, Wis.—(AP). A teachers' strike in Superior public schools seemed certain to begin Monday after the teachers' representatives walked out of Saturday's conference. When the board of education refused to agree to a closed session.

Rejuvenated Table

An old kitchen table, cut down, makes a low coffee table. A flour bin taken from the table is fitted with sawhorse legs and used as planter for flowers.

By Helen French

DO YOU remember the old-fashioned kitchen table with the flour bins built into it? There undoubtedly are many of them around today, in farmhouses, in attics (if anyone had strength enough to lug so heavy a piece up to the attic!), and in secondhand stores. With today's built-in kitchens, not to mention the small space allotted to that room in most houses, what can be done with such an old table?

It took Mrs. M. R. Peppard, of South Middleridge Lane, Rolling Hills, to come up with a something really smart in answer to that question. She had the flour bins removed and each one was placed in a sawhorse made to fit its bulk—then she filled the bins with dirt and planted vines and flowers. The resulting flower boxes make an attractive addition to the Peppard's patio!

As for the table—it's legs were shortened and it was given a high polish. Now it stands in the Peppard's pine-furnished bedroom by the windows, and makes a sturdy coffee table—a perfect matching piece for the old-fashioned styling of the room.

Wage Survey of Area Set for Navy Use

By NEWT TODD

The Navy Department has ordered a new survey of prevailing wage rates in the Los Angeles Harbor market area, officials announced Saturday. Results of the survey, to be made the latter part of this month, will determine future pay rates of wage board employees of the shipyard.

Not affected, however, are salaries of grade employees, who are paid in accordance with the salary schedule set up by the Classification Act of 1949.

The data, upon completion of the survey, will be sent to the Office of Industrial Relations in Washington, D. C., where it will be used in compiling a new schedule of wages for Navy Wage Board employees in this area.

JOINT SURVEY

The survey will be conducted jointly by an area wage survey committee and the Bureau of Labor Statistics. The committee includes representatives of the shipyard and other naval activities in this area, as well as a representative of the Long Beach Area Wage and Classification Office.

Subcommittees from all of the activities represented and data collectors appointed by the shipyard commander will assist. These subcommittees will visit private employers in the area to obtain necessary information.

As soon as they are determined by the Area Wage Survey Committee, lists of the occupations to be analyzed and of the private firms to be contacted for information will be posted on bulletin boards for the benefit of the shipyard employees.

SUGGESTIONS POSSIBLE

Any employee may suggest amendments to either list for consideration of the committee, according to the survey procedure issued by the Office of Industrial Relations.

Employees are also permitted to submit relevant factual data to the committee. However, the committee routinely contacts a sufficiently large number of private employers to ensure equitable wage treatment of shipyard employees. Since the data is solicited from private industry with the understanding that it is to be treated confidentially, it can not be made available for general review although the sources of information may be made public.

Senator Balances Budget

CHAIRMAN STYLES BRIDGES (R-NH), chairman of the Senate appropriations committee, is just kidding as he balances a copy of the federal budget against another on these scales. However, Rep. Daniel Reed (R-NY) was in earnest Saturday when he described the budget as fantastic and said it was going to be balanced. President Truman's budget submitted last week called for expenditures of $78,587,000,000.—(AP Wirephoto.)

Baruch Suggests Ike Delay Controls Death

WASHINGTON.—(AP) Bernard M. Baruch is quietly urging President-elect Eisenhower not to kill wage-price controls as soon as he takes office Jan. 20, it was learned Saturday.

The 82-year-old adviser to Presidents is understood to favor leaving them on at least until their April 30 expiration date.

But Eisenhower is being caught in a squeeze. Business wants the controls dropped quickly. He can take such action by executive order after his inauguration.

Some Congressmen want to put controls to a "sudden death" others prefer life for them—until April 30.

The AFL paper—the AFL News-Reporter—said Friday that "informed sources" had advised that "sudden death for all price and wage controls will be demanded by Eisenhower when he takes office."

But Senate GOP Leader Robert A. Taft said Saturday that Eisenhower has not yet decided whether they should be abolished immediately. But Taft made it clear he personally is opposed to keeping a controls law, even on a standby basis, after April 30.

Other sources said the AFL story was "probably true" at the time the newspaper went to press, but no longer.

Tax Prospects Await Budget From Warren

SACRAMENTO.—(AP) The California Legislature gets Gov. Warren's 1953-54 budget Monday — and with it a clearer picture of the chances for tax cuts or increases.

Warren has declined to comment on tax prospects, saying wait for the budget, when "the facts will speak for themselves."

Members of his administration have all but said the state will be lucky to get away without higher taxes. The governor last week reminded the lawmakers that California is facing costly problems caused by growth that eventually will make it the most populous state of the U. S.

Tax-cut forces, unsuccessful the past few sessions, already have introduced a bill for a 100-million-dollar reduction, Saturday, one of their leaders, Assemblyman Jonathan J. Hollibaugh (R-Huntington Park) lost the chairmanship of the important Revenue and Taxation Committee in a general House shakeup.

It is a near-consensus around the capitol that Warren's spending program will exceed one billion dollars, perhaps top last year's $1,185,000,000.

A Senate committee which has been quizzing California Highway patrolmen behind closed doors is expected to come in for some attention Monday.

Chairman Randolph Collier (R-Yreka) said he expects to finish the investigation into the patrol's efficiency then. He promised a statement of the findings, which may carry weight when the Legislature considers Warren's request for a large CHP.

Warren this year did not renew his unsuccessful plea for centers to treat alcoholics. However, one of the last bills introduced before the weekend appropriates $900,000 to establish nine such centers in the state, administered by the Department of Mental Hygiene.

The author, Assemblyman A. I. Stewart (R-Pasadena), said such treatment of chronic drunks would be far preferable to the present system of "arresting them and locking them up."

UAW Makes Strike Threat

DETROIT.—(AP) Walter Reuther warned auto companies Saturday they must boost wages and pensions of his 1,500,000 auto workers by March 1. The alternative, he indicated, was strikes.

"Abnormal inflation," he said, has outmoded economic provisions of the five-year contracts signed two years ago despite the protective cost-of-living clauses written into those agreements.

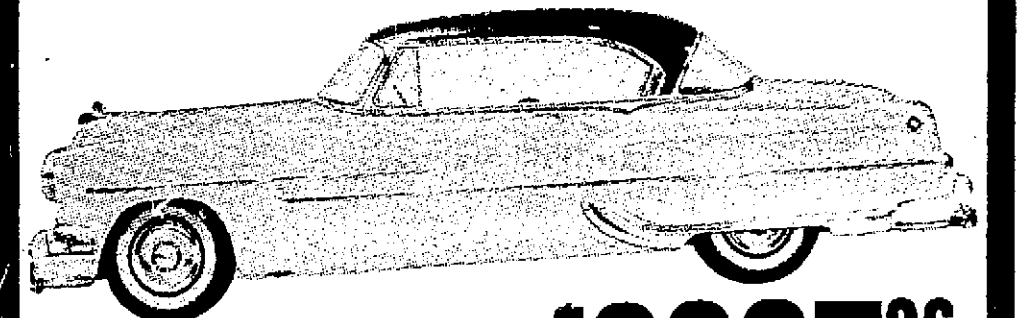

The March 1 deadline was set, strangely enough, by the Federal government. That is the date the Bureau of Labor Statistics switches to a new formula for figuring the cost-of-living index upon which auto workers' pay is based.

The United Auto Workers Union of which he is head and the companies must come to agreement on how to apply the new index to wages or there is no contract," Reuther said.

Britons Rush to Invest in Oil, Aircraft

LONDON — (AP). Two British industries, engaged in the kind of big-time merchant adventuring Britain hopes will make her rich again, hit the headlines in the past week.

Both represent a new intimate partnership between government and private industry.

The first is the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company — which Tuesday sparked the biggest investment rush England has seen in years.

The oil company wanted to raise 20,000,000 pounds ($56,000,000) worth of new capital. Would-be investors were so keen they offered 270,000,000 pounds ($756,000,000) — a huge sum for London where cash is tight.

The eagerness to invest partly was a reflection of the company's proved strength. It took the loss of its Iranian oil fields and refinery without cutting a dividend. It also was partly a sign of confidence in announced development plans.

The company aims to enlarge existing plant, build a new oil port and refinery at Aden and set up a new refinery industry in Australia. It already owns the biggest tanker fleet and a string of refineries through western Europe as well as mid-eastern interests.

GOVERNMENT CONTROLLED

The company is controlled by the British government which owns 51 per cent of the stock.

The other industry in the news spotlight Britain's aircraft builders.

They too work hand-in-hand with the government. Defense orders, secret research, raw material allocations and other issues bring the government into the aircraft factories at almost every move.

Britain's civil jetliner lead probably could not have been won if a government-owned air line had not ordered the world famous Comet straight off the drawing board. Government influence, in fact, is decisive in the aircraft plants.

Panair Do Brasil, an affiliate of PanAmerican World Airways, announced last week they have followed their parent firm and ordered Comets.

Comet Maker De Havilland announced that altogether it has ordered for 48 Comets — with negotiations for more than another 100 going on. Many of these negotiations are in an advanced stage, the company said.

Buyers are among the host of American, Canadian and European air line operators who have inspected the various British air liners, discussed prices, production and delivery. Some declined to buy because of far off delivery dates and the government recently acted to overcome this marketing handicap.

NEW AIRPLANES

Of the five new airplanes just assigned government priorities, three are civil transports: the Comet, Vickers Viscount and the Bristol Britannia.

The 36-seat, 350-mile-an-hour Vickers Viscount soon will be going to British European Airways in quantity. The 100-seat Bristol Britannia is in production, and a big order with a Mexican firm is under discussion.

Sudan Political Parties Sign Pact

KHARTOUM, Sudan — (U.P.). The four major Sudanese political parties signed a pact of agreement Saturday on a "transitional" constitution to remain in effect during a three-year period while the country prepares for self-rule.

Sees Ex-Beau Married

British Royalty Present at 'Cinderella' Wedding

EDINBURGH, Scotland — (U.P.). And so the rich nobleman married the pretty working girl and the young princess looked sad.

The handsome Earl of Dalkeith Saturday wed Jane McNeill, 22, a honey-haired blonde who caught his eye while she was appearing as a fashion model in the 1951 Festival of Britain.

Princess Margaret, whose name had been linked romantically in the gossip columns with the 29-year-old earl for two years, sat with the rest of the royal family as a pensive spectator.

And more than 50,000 Scotsmen turned out in a heavy Scottish mist to get a look at the Cinderella bride and the royal party led by Queen Elizabeth II.

The queen, by choice, took a secondary role as a private guest and seemed to enjoy herself immensely. With her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, and Princess Margaret she traveled nearly 400 miles by train from London through a thick fog for what shaped up — at least for the press — as the biggest society wedding of her coronation year.

The Scots, proud of their royal visitors to the popular "home town" boy's wedding, did it up in typical style with kilts and bagpipes.

Russ Actors Complain of Cold Theater

MOSCOW — (U.P.). Soviet actors in a heatless theater in Kemerovo, Siberia, have to make a hurried exit to keep their hands from freezing. They warm them before bonfires backstage. The audience wears fur coats.

The periodical Soviet Art in disclosing this Friday has some fiery criticism for the cold attitude of the Kremerova authorities.

"What is the reason for it?" Soviet Art asked. "The funds for a central heating system have been approved but the local authorities have run into snags. The theater was built in 1927 in a spot 230 feet from the water main and water has never been brought into the building. It was also built 1312 feet from the central heat main."

Schuman Plan Group To Boost Production

STRASBOURG, France — (AP). The six-nation Schuman Plan Common Assembly convened Friday night to debate an ambitious scheme for an annual billion-dollar European steel and coal development program.

Jean Monnet of France, chairman of the plan's executive authority, has proposed that the assembly undertake yearly large-scale investments, including possibly loans from the United States, to boost steel and coal production 20 per cent by 1958, and 35 per cent in ten years.

France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg are associated in this effort to raise Western European industrial potential. They also are associated in an historic effort to bring the six nations into a European confederation of states.

Before meeting to consider the Monnet proposals, the 78 representatives and nine extra delegates — sitting as a special constitutional assembly — finished their preliminary study of a confederation charter. They adopted an outline of a joint constitution for the six nations and referred their decisions to a drafting committee. The committee must write a provisional text by March 1.

Then convening as the Schuman Plan common assembly, the assemblymen, in effect, refused to allow observers from other member states of the Council of Europe, an unofficial parliament of Europe, to attend their sessions. However, they agreed in a last-minute compromise to consider this possibility later.

This step, taken with the approval of British Liberal Lord Layton, excluded at least temporarily 13 legislators — including three Britons — who had been sitting as observers in the constitutional sessions.

Party Chicken

Mrs. Spawr's Chicken Almond Mousse

- 1½ tablespoons unflavored gelatin
- 2 cups chicken stock
- 3 egg yolks
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- Dash cayenne
- ½ cup finely chopped almonds
- 1 cup diced white meat of cooked chicken
- ½ cup heavy cream, whipped
- (¼ cup each sieved pimentos and minced celery may be added if desired)

Soften gelatin in ½ cup cold stock for 5 minutes. Heat remaining stock and add slowly to beaten egg yolks and seasonings. Cook in double boiler until thickened, stirring constantly. Add gelatin, stir until dissolved and mix in almonds and chicken. Chill until mixture begins to thicken and fold in whipped cream. Pour into mold and chill until firm. Serve on crisp cold lettuce leaves. Serves 6.

This mixture may be poured into tomatoes from which the centers have been removed. Chill.

By Mildred K. Flanary

CHRISTMAS may come and go... New Year's, too... but bridge parties, luncheons and committee chitchats go on forever. And for these there is always the question of what to serve? That conundrum is also eternal with the hostess.

The "what to serve" is a little involved, too, for the budget must be considered... particularly as it pertains to the main dish.

Mrs. W. L. Spawr, 3946 Lewis Ave., a popular and gracious hostess, finds from experience that chicken is not only kind to the pocketbook, but is pleasing to the eye, tempting to the taste and satisfying to the appetite. It's extremely versatile, too!

Her recipe for Chicken and Almond Mousse is perhaps her favorite when she entertains at bridge luncheons or evening buffets, and her recipe is featured today. You will find it convenient prepared for clipping, elsewhere on this page.

She also shares her recipes for Chicken Ring or Loaf,

Bridge Chicken and Chicken Salad with you today.

Chicken Ring or Loaf

- 2 cups hot milk (or stock and cream)
- 2 eggs, slightly beaten
- 1 cup soft bread crumbs
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon paprika
- 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- 3 cups diced cooked chicken
- ½ cup finely chopped celery
- 1½ teaspoons grated onion
- 1 teaspoon lemon juice

Pour hot milk slowly onto eggs, stirring constantly. Add remaining ingredients; mix well and pour into buttered mold or loaf pan. Bake in slow oven (300 deg. F.) until knife inserted in center comes out clean, about 45 to 60 minutes. It will take less time in ring mold than in a loaf pan. Be careful not to overbake. Let stand 10 minutes before unmolding. Serve with mushroom sauce made from remainder of chicken stock. Garnish with parsley. If chicken ring is served cold it may be filled with a fresh combination salad. Serves six to eight).

Bridge Chicken

- 2½ cups of rich chicken stock
- 1 cup of milk
- 1 cup of cooked rice
- 3 cups of diced cooked chicken
- 1 cup of crushed pineapple, drained
- 2 cups of blanched almonds

Heat together the stock, milk and rice. When mixture begins to thicken add the chicken, pineapple, and almonds cut in large pieces. Let come to boiling point and cook about 5 minutes, stirring occasionally to keep from sticking. Large cream puff shells may also be used.

Good things to eat are assured when Mrs. W. L. Spawr starts cooking. She's shown preparing chicken almond mousse. This and others of her favorite recipes are given on this page.

Chicken Salad

- ½ cup of walnuts
- ½ tablespoon of butter, melted
- 2 cups of diced cooked chicken
- ¼ cup of diced celery
- ½ cup of French dressing

Toss walnut kernels in melted butter in a saucepan until crisp; remove from fire and let cool. Break kernels, but do not chop fine. In a large bowl mix the diced chicken, celery, nuts and French dressing, with seasonings to taste; chill for 15 to 30 minutes. At serving time arrange on lettuce leaves and mask with mayonnaise. Garnish with wedges of tomato. Serve at once, very cold.

Kitchen Tip:

Mrs. Spawr's Kitchen Tip: An easy way to "chop" nut meats is to put them in a cloth bag and roll with rolling pin.

Your Garden Needs Care in Winter, Too

SOUTHERN California's climate is characterized by a mild winter. And yet our nights can be extremely cold, temperatures frequently dropping to frost and near-frost conditions. This condition is somewhat aggravated because so many of our ornamentals are tropicals or subtropicals and thus especially susceptible. This is the time to provide certain protective measures for your garden.

This is certainly not the time to prune any of the more tender plants. Cutting the stems immediately encourages new growth which is extremely sensitive. Should a sudden cold spell hit your garden, this new growth will suffer. Die-back undoubtedly would occur and in extreme cases you may have permanent injury, even casualties.

Top-heavy trees should be thinned out to minimize wind damage. Also, specimens that have produced a tremendous amount of growth towards the center of the plant will need a bit of pruning. Opening up the head of a tree allows the wind to blow through, there being fewer branches to offer resistance.

Young trees may be sheltered by erecting two poles on the windward side of the tree and attaching a burlap wrapping to them. Thus, the burlap will break the force of the wind, the tree suffering less directly from the force of the gale. In districts subject to prevailing winds, it will be wise to securely stake the plant to a suitable support. Set the stake in back of the tree so that the tree will be blown against the stake, rather than away from it.

If tools are put away for the winter, check to see that they are well oiled. Small hand tools may be wrapped in oiled rags to minimize danger of rusting. Another technique is to insert weeder, trowels and other comparable tools in oiled sand.

All sprayers should be thoroughly cleaned before being placed away for any length of time. Certain insecticides have an affinity for the metal working parts of the sprayer. Unless all particles are washed out of the sprayer, the working parts may be affected.

YOUNG seedlings may be sheltered under plant protectors that act like miniature hot houses. The protectors are made out of specially waxed paper that allows sunlight to penetrate but keeps out cold, rain, bugs and also aids in maintaining the original soil mulch. These protectors are anchored to the soil. They also hasten maturity and are widely used by commercial vegetable growers.

A mulch pays off in a number of ways. Where frost lies on the ground a mulch minimizes heaving and cracking of the soil. A mulch also helps in keeping the soil frost-free, making it possible to continue planting for a somewhat longer period than might be expected. In low temperature areas the mulch should be gradually removed the following spring, thus exposing the plant a little at a time.

Other valuable steps for protecting ornamentals during cold weather include: wrapping tree protectors around the trunks of trees to minimize damage to the bark; attaching vines to sturdy supports to keep the stem ends from being torn in heavy winds and to prevent the plant from becoming top heavy and toppling over in extreme gales; keeping heavy clippings off lawn areas as they prevent sunlight from getting through, thus inhibiting natural growth of the individual grass plants.

Garden Tips

GARDEN TIPS for the week . . . Deciduous stock should be planted in this area as soon as available at nurseries and garden supply stores. This includes rose bushes, fruit trees, berries, ornamentals and trees. The perennial vegetables such as asparagus and rhubarb should also go in as quickly as possible; nor should you delay planting berries.

Planting glads in the Southland in the middle of winter is normal procedure. Corms started now will flower about May. You can plant at intervals of every few weeks to insure a succession of bloom. Glads require lots of moisture. To provide adequate drainage each corm may be set on a cushion of sand.

Camellias are easy to grow if two fundamentals are observed: Lots of moisture and fairly shallow planting. If the shrubs die, it may be due to one or both of these factors. Failure to keep the soil moist during the summer may sacrifice the flowers for the following season.

Plant protectors shield plants from cold, rain and bugs; tend to maintain a friable mulch on surface.

Collision Crossroad

CRUNCH... Crunch... Crunch.

At the intersection of Lakewood Blvd. and Carson St. in Lakewood motorists turn out traffic accidents with uncanny, assembly-line regularity.

That vicinity now has the unenviable reputation of being the worst traffic menace in a 150-square-mile area.

Highway conditions there no longer are sufficient to accommodate an ever-increasing flow of traffic along those streets. Lakewood's swift growth and the operations of Douglas Aircraft have turned the area into a hive of activity.

A traffic and highway program must be set up to meet the problem. It's getting bigger every day.

More patrolmen for the area would be one phase of the program, of course. But sadly enough, the number of patrolmen on the Norwalk staff of the State Highway Patrol has been cut recently instead of increased. On the brighter side, the sheriff's office plans to establish a branch in Lakewood. That may help some.

But more thorough patrol is only one part of the answer. There must be some physical expansion and improvement of the intersection and Carson St.

East from Lakewood Blvd., Carson is not wide enough. At present it is set up officially as a three-lane road. It should be widened to four lanes with a center island and room for parking on both sides. This widening should be done from Lakewood Blvd. at least to the San Gabriel River. At the Lakewood-Carson intersection itself provision should be made for left-turn lane setups.

Such a project actually was recommended by the district highway engineer's office for the coming year, but it was dropped off the program by the state highway department.

Why was it dropped? Certainly not for lack of evidence of urgent need.

Present planning is too leisurely. The state highway department plans to acquire right-of-way next year and do the construction in the following year.

The situation is so critical that the right-of-way should be acquired this year and construction started next year.

A special situation exists in the vicinity of Long Beach City College. Parts of its campus are located on each side of Carson St. The heavy traffic on Carson provides a constant hazard to students crossing the street. Local authorities suggest study of a proposal to dig a tunnel under the street or build an overhead crossing.

The Lakewood-Carson area should be treated for what it is—an emergency traffic case. Until it gets the treatment it will remain one of the main crossroads of collision, injury, and death in Los Angeles County.

WALTER LIPPMANN

Rumors and Reports

IN REGARD to the rumors and reports about the new lines that the Eisenhower administration will take in foreign affairs, there is one rule, a kind of mental Geiger counter, which everyone should carry around with him.

That is this: Any new diplomatic-military move, if it is really serious and important, will require a considerable time to prepare. Therefore it is a reasonable certainty that an experienced general like Eisenhower and an experienced diplomat like Dulles will not start talking until they believe they are much more ready to start acting. It follows that what is being talked about is not likely to be more than incidental, preliminary, tentative, and secondary.

This rule can be used both in the Far East and in Europe.

The new moves in the Far East, about which there has been speculation, are the following: One, arming and equipping enough South Korean infantry to replace the Americans at the front; two, bringing two or three Nationalist Chinese divisions to Korea from Formosa; three, encouraging the Chinese Nationalists on Formosa to harass the China army in Korea with enough additional divisions to enable it to defeat the Chinese and North Koreans and push the line up to about the 40th parallel; five, instituting a naval blockade of the China ports; six, bombing the airfields and military installations north of the Yalu in Manchuria.

Whatever the military and political merits of these suggestions may be, taking them separately or in combinations, they have one common characteristic. They are small adventures and they do not deal with the main power of our adversaries and they do not use, in fact they avoid using the main forces of the United States and of its allies. Blockading a country which has with its chief ally an open frontier 4000 miles long cannot be more than an auxiliary, rather than a decisive, measure for reaching a satisfactory result. Using three Chinese divisions from Formosa in Korea or anywhere else cannot be in the remotest sense a decisive measure.

At best, taking them at the most optimistic valuation, they are expedients for temporizing with the basic problem. They cannot, they are not to be used to restore the balance of power and so to relieve the menacing pressure of the Soviet-Chinese coalition on Japan, India, Southeast Asia, Indonesia and the Philippines. To relieve that pressure by restoring the balance of power will require a policy of much greater scope and design than any which is now indicated by the current rumors.

In regard to Europe there are not so many rumors. But there too it will be necessary to prepare a three dimensional diplomacy with a longer range. The situation has evolved far beyond the point where it seemed to be when Gen. Eisenhower laid down his NATO command. It is no longer sufficient to say: "Here is NATO and its program, let the European nations carry it out; here is the European defense community, let it be ratified and the German army brought into being."

The fact is that a great and a new diplomatic effort, not mere exhortation, will have to be made to revive the movement towards Franco-German reconciliation and the organization of a European system. What is happening is that in both France and Germany the non-Communist parties are becoming deeply divided among themselves. The crisis is an open one in France. But a similar situation exists in Germany, and unless it is resolved by diplomacy, it threatens to become as dangerous as critical as the French.

The internal divisions in the two countries make it increasingly difficult for them to grant the concessions which are necessary if a Franco-German partnership is to be organized in Europe. Adenauer and Schuman cannot go on with their work because Adenauer is at odds with the Social Democrats and Schuman with the Gaullists.

Until the two governments are strong at home because they command the support of the predominant majority of the non-Communists, they will not be strong enough to unite Europe.

There is a big work to be done here. It will have to be done in large measure by the United States because the internal crisis in both France and Germany stems from the problems created by the cold war and rearmament. The necessary work will be done most quickly if, unlike so many of our suddenly improvised measures in the past, it is worked out quite deliberately and with a refusal to be hurried by panic.

Nice to think of an Eisenhower-Stalin meeting, with Ike giving his opinion of Joe's whippersnapper by releasing a toy grasshopper for each one.

Chinese Guerrillas Harass Reds

WASHINGTON.—While Winston Churchill and Eisenhower debate whether to send Chiang Kai-Shek's Nationalist troops from Formosa to Korea, it is no secret to military leaders that guerrilla warfare against the Chinese Communists has been under way for several months.

Guerrilla activity has been so successful, in fact, that a small island, Nanjeh, not far from the Chinese mainland was captured recently and held for three days before a Communist task force was able to retake it.

This may be why the Communists have diverted an estimated 500,000 troops to fortify the Chinese mainland.

President-elect Eisenhower doubtless got a briefing on the guerrilla operations while in Korea. So did President Truman recently from Congressman Sam Yorty of Los Angeles, who interviewed the guerrilla leaders during a trip to the Far East.

Yorty reported that the guerrillas unquestionably were getting supplies from Chiang. Though there was no open liaison, the guerrillas were well fed and had a high morale, Yorty told Truman. Their headquarters is on the island of Kinmen, about 80 miles from Formosa.

The attack on Nanjeh was launched by several thousand men in motorized junks on the eve of a Chinese holiday.

FCC CHAIRMAN

California Republicans are pushing the appointment of Lewis Allen Weiss, former general manager of the Don Lee network on the west coast, to be chairman of the Federal Communications Commission, the body which polices the radio and TV industry.

It so happens, however, that Weiss is one of the few radio executives ever publicly and officially repudiated by the same FCC which he would preside over if made chairman.

The FCC, considering renewal of Don Lee stations on Dec. 18, 1949, issued a scathing rebuke to Weiss. Specifically singling out the head of the network by name, it concluded: "Weiss clearly admitted that he did not believe in the enforcement of commission regulations. . . . It is apparent that violations of regulations were either deliberate or the result of complete indifference."

The report contains a page after page of harsh criticism of the man now considered for chairman of the FCC.

Gen. Eisenhower, who is famed for his ability to get turned from a probe of our information services in Europe, will recommend:

1. That Congress appropriate more money to counteract Soviet lies, both in free Europe and behind the Iron Curtain. Need for increased funds is especially evident in Berlin and Vienna, where the Russians are spending on a lavish scale.
2. That the Voice of America program be reduced and revamped, using more localized "truth" broadcasts in Europe with American help and less emphasis on blanket broadcasts.

In addition, Fulbright will urge that "canned" U. S. movies for European distribution be restricted. The Senator learned that a major theme of these movies — how good we have it in the U. S. — is distasteful to European ears. Hard-up Europeans are getting tired of hearing about the automobiles, television sets, and electric refrigerators of our working classes.

3. That Congress encourage more "people-to-people" diplomacy in the battle of ideas. Fulbright found that the least criticized and most effective thing we are doing to promote peace and understanding between nations is the exchange of students, labor leaders, college professors, news reporters, and so on.

Sen. William Fulbright of Arkansas, veteran member of the foreign relations committee, will advocate some sweeping reforms in our foreign propaganda to combat Russia's heavily financed "Hate America" campaign.

Truman's Global Appraisal Now Same as That Made by Ike During Campaign

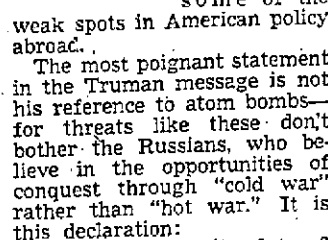

WASHINGTON.—Whoever in the Department of State who wrote that long passage for President Truman's farewell address analyzing the situation between the United States and Russia did a masterful job. It is a thorough and penetrating appraisal of the world situation, even though at times it does gloss over some of the weak spots in American policy abroad.

The most poignant statement in the Truman message is not his reference to atom bombs — for threats like these don't bother the Russians, who believe in the opportunities of conquest through "cold war" rather than "hot war." It is this declaration:

"What, then, of the future? The answer, I believe, is this: As we continue to confound Soviet expectations, as our world grows stronger, more united, more attractive to men on both sides of the Iron Curtain, then inevitably there will come a time of change within the Communist world. We do not know how that change will come, whether by deliberate decision in the Kremlin, by coup d'etat, by revolution, by defection of satellites, or perhaps by some unforeseen combination of factors such as these."

That's precisely the Eisenhower-Dulles view. Yet, during the recent campaign, when these two men ventured to mention "liberation" as an eventuality, the British and French press, aided and abetted by some distorted interpretations broadcast to the world by Secretary Acheson, denounced "liberation" as something illicit and unfeasible and implied mischievously that it was meant to send Allied troops on such a mission.

Another important passage in the Truman speech was the following paragraph:

"But if the Communists understand they cannot win by war, and if we frustrate their attempts to win by subversion, it is not too much to expect their world to change its character, moderate its aims, become more realistic and less implacable, and recede from the cold war they began."

The effect of this is somewhat weakened by the knowledge that intensive efforts by patriotic Americans to carry on a battle against subversion, at least inside the United States, have been met by obstructive tactics from certain departments of the Truman administration itself. Thus, there is still a tendency to fall for the line that all the antisubversion crusades are merely "witch hunts" or "hysteria." Indeed, the same Truman message softens what was said about the importance of combating subversion as will be noted by the following:

"DANGER SIGNALS"

"Already the danger signals have gone up. Already the corrosive process has begun, and every diminution of our tolerance, each demonstration of hysteria — each new restrictive law — is one more sign that we can lose the battle against fear."

"The Communists cannot deprive us of our liberties — fear can. The Communists cannot stamp out our faith in human dignity — fear can. Fear is an enemy within ourselves, and if we do not root it out, it may destroy the very way of life we are so anxious to protect."

The foregoing gives a curious

MALCOLM EPLEY

Warren's Foes Hunt Weak Spots

LEADERSHIP of Gov. Earl Warren, whose long run of popularity is listed among U. S. political phenomena, will be under pressure in the 1953 sessions of the Legislature. There may be few open challenges of a major nature, but we can look for the governor's critics and opponents to be busy.

While fair-minded people generally agree the Governor has done a remarkable job leading the state through a great crisis of growth, there are points of vulnerability in his administration armor. It may be that no one else could have done as well, but that will not prevent his foes from making the most of any weak spots they can find.

Just the past week the Assembly governmental reorganization committee made a report that Warren critics interpret as a slap at his administration. The committee, prepared by citizens subcommittees, criticized the state government for its leasing policies, for indications of "undue influence" in its purchasing program, and for lack of an over-all basic policy.

TAX CUT BILL

That report will no doubt be used in attempts to weaken the Governor's influence. Already, one blow has been directed at his prestige by the introduction of a tax reduction bill immediately after Warren had told the Legislature that more taxes would have to be raised to meet increasing demands for state services and contributions to school costs.

The record of Warren's political career indicates that he probably will come through any tests with just a little damage. In just the last year saw the Governor turn back the most serious challenge of his many years in California politics.

That was when the Wendell organization was formed to turn back the Governor's bid for California's favorite son choice as a Presidential candidate. His foes said that Warren had always had Democratic help, and that this time, with the decision things might be different. But Warren won handsily.

PLANS UNKNOWN

It is proper and a good thing, of course, that there is critical opposition to Warren, as would be true if anyone else occupied the Governor's chair. Such opposition is bound to grow as a man continues in office, term after term, but in Warren's case it has never so far proved a serious threat.

It is not known just now what Gov. Warren's plans may be. The general opinion is that he will receive an important federal appointment, the Supreme Court being often mentioned in speculation. It may well be that the Governor will voluntarily pull out of the state's political picture, to accept such a post.

That would simplify things for those who would like to see the Governor replaced.

L.A.C. SAYS:

City Employee Pensions

workers. In case anyone outside the city limits thinks this is only a Long Beach problem we hasten to assure them much the same condition applies to county employee pensions.

This writer pointed out these possible savings two years ago when the federal plan was enlarged. At that time he was told by the city employees organization that we were not eligible because we already had a pension plan. We insisted then it was possible to make the change but were ignored. Now we find that Salt Lake City has actually made the change on the very basis we were told could not be used. The Long Beach City Council, in our opinion, has been lax in its duty to taxpayers by not having thoroughly explored this change.

Before us is the complete Salt Lake City plan as it was presented to the city employees there. When they understood what it was all about the city employees voted 89 per cent in favor of the federal plan. Only 11 per cent opposed changing.

Under the changed plan no city employee was deprived of any benefits he had built up under the former plan. No employee already retired lost anything by the change. It was found the city could pay all benefits of the former plan and still save large sums of annual contributions by the change. Most employees received rebates of their contributions to the old plan and had their monthly contributions more than cut in half.

This changeover by Long Beach would not affect the old fire and police pension plan which was voted out in 1945 only to find the city was legally obligated to the tune of almost a million dollars a year. But it would save an estimated half-million dollars a year that goes into the state fund, of which the city is a member. There will be strong opposition from the state plan directors. They naturally favor keeping as many people covered as possible. That makes more jobs and a more permanent organization. But the fact is all state and city and county pensions should be placed under the federal system. It would be proper because public employees have no reason to expect greater benefits than do the taxpayers who employ them. The federal plan is adapted to handle the plan without the overhead charged to the state plan. Public employees in California would come out better under the federal plan if they would invest their savings, from lower contributions, in additional retirement annuities.

It cannot now be said it cannot be done. It has been done. By delaying action the City Council has already lost over a million dollars of taxpayers' money. Each year the Council delays it will lose another half-million. It is a loss to employees as well as to taxpayers. It should not be allowed to continue another year.—L. A. C.

Safety

TO THE EDITOR:

Several requests have been made by interested organizations regarding finding a solution to end the appalling slaughter in our highways.

Since speed is the biggest killer, I suggest that a special speedometer be installed in each car that will lock itself at speeds over the limit required by law and also control the gas lines to a degree where it will be necessary to go to a release station to have it rectified on payment of a fine.

Double the fine for a second offense and so on.

I am convinced that in six months we wouldn't have to worry about the speed killer.

Shore Plan

TO THE EDITOR:

I suggest that tideland money be used where it comes from.

Since the promenade and all ocean front is gradually sinking and sooner or later will have to be raised, I suggest that an esplanade be built from Virginia Park to Belmont Shore at Ocean Blvd. level.

It would be elevated and 200 feet wide with a new municipal building, small cafes and stores on the south side — which would soon pay for it. No automobiles.

It would be a glorified promenade and would be a great attraction.

Present buildings could be converted into bathing huts.

Yes, they don't even bother to deliver some of it at all any more. I know positively that five Christmas cards were mailed to us from nearby Compton (3-cent stamps on, too) and we never received them at all. Now we're "sweating out" a pension check.

Solons Call for Facts on U.N. Screening

WASHINGTON — (A.P.). The Senate Internal Security Subcommittee charged Saturday the State Dept. fell down on the job of screening Americans employed by the United Nations and called for further investigation to fix the responsibility.

Its report attacking the department's handling of the problem was prepared prior to President Truman's issuance Friday night of an executive order. This provided for a new system of checking on the loyalty of United States citizens on the staff of the international organization.

The subcommittee, under the direction of Sen. McCarran (D-Nev.), has made a months-long search for Communists among Americans on the U. N. payroll. It noted that during its public hearings in New York 26 witnesses invoked their constitutional privileges against self-incrimination when asked about past Communist membership.

EFFORTS FRUSTRATED
It said its efforts "to trace the reasons for the protection, whether active or passive, of so many American nationals of the questionable loyalty within the United Nations have been frustrated by refusal of those in authority in the State Department to provide essential information."

The U. N. and the State Department have been seeking to shift to each other the responsibility for not removing U. N. employees deemed unfit. U. N. Secretary General Trygve Lie has declared he encountered delays and difficulties in getting information from the State Department about employees.

On the other hand, officials here said Friday the State Department filed derogatory reports with the U. N. on 41 employees since 1949. They said that 10 of these employees still are on the payroll. The officials said the U. N. on the average lagged 15 months between the time it received adverse reports and the firing of employees.

NAMES SOUGHT
The committee has sought to learn the names of those whose responsibility it was to convey to the United Nations adverse information concerning U. N. employees whose continued employment by the U. N. was contrary to the security interests of the United States, and who failed to discharge this responsibility.

"Refusals have been based on such specious grounds as the contention that the security evaluators must have complete anonymity if they are to discharge their functions properly."

"But this is not a question of judgment in evaluation; this is a question of failure to discharge a responsibility involving the security of the United States, and whether that failure was willful, and why it occurred."

The subcommittee said the American people have a right to know the facts about this, adding "The State Department has in concealing this information."

The same child completely healed in a natural manner with Life Magnetism.

Mr. Eriksson has several hundred letters of testimonials and pictures showing the patients' condition before and after complete healing, cases such as: Blindness, arthritis, lameness and eczema. A patient in Long Beach writes: "I would like to thank you for curing me of a form of eczema, which I had for many years. After taking just four treatments from you, I am now completely cured. I highly recommend to anyone who has a rash or eczema to try your treatments." (Signed) M. M. Juba, 4418 Conquistador Ave., Long Beach, Calif. Another writes as follows: "I want to express my gratitude to you for successfully treating my daughter. She is now 10½ years old and has had eczema since she was 3. I have had her to innumerable doctors in three states, but no one gave me any encouragement. When I brought her to you June 20, 1952, she was in an advanced stage of eczema. The eyelids were thickened and crusty, the eyeballs were inflamed. I began to fear for her sight. Her mouth had cracked at the corners, making eating painful. Her throat, ears and hands were cracked. After two treatments of your Life Magnetism, each treatment resulted in a marked improvement of her condition. She will begin this school year a healthy, happy girl. Many thanks to you and the 'Life Magnetism'." (Signed) Mrs. Norman Sellers, 17432 South St., Huntington Beach, California.

Appeal Slated for Slayer of Colonel

TOKYO (Sunday) — (A.P.). Mrs. Dorothy Krueger Smith, sentenced to life imprisonment for knifing to death her colonel husband, was held under guard in the psychiatric ward of an Army hospital today while her attorneys prepared an appeal.

Brig. Gen. Adam Richmond (ret.), special defense counsel, said the appeal "will be carried all the way to the President of the United States if necessary."

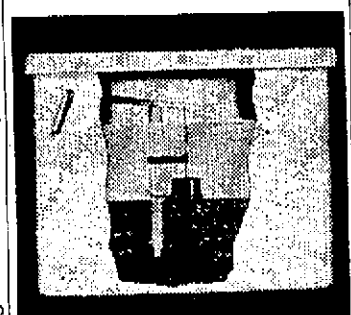

Mrs. Smith, 40, was convicted of premeditated murder for stabbing Col. Aubrey D. Smith, 45, the night of Oct. 3. She is the daughter of Gen. Walter Krueger (ret.) of Pacific war fame.

In appealing from the verdict of a nine-member court martial board, her attorneys again will contend that Army jurisdiction in the case ended the moment Smith died. They said she no longer was an Army "dependent."

During the trial the board turned down an appeal for dismissal on the same grounds.

If removed from jurisdiction of the Army, Mrs. Smith could be tried in Japanese courts.

A-Spies, Sentenced to Die, Ask Mercy of President

WASHINGTON — (A.P.) Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, traitorous husband-and-wife atomic spy team for Russia, appealed for mercy Saturday to President Truman, possibly their last hope to save them from the electric chair.

The appeal was delivered to the Justice Dept. as pro-Communist groups thundered propaganda world-wide that their trial and conviction was a "frame-up." The State Dept., by radio and press bulletin, replied that the Kremlin was behind this "exceptionally cynical campaign" to thwart justice.

The appeal met a deadline set in New York by Federal Judge Irving R. Kaufman who sentenced the couple to death two years ago. The Rosenbergs originally were scheduled to die in the electric chair in New York's Sing Sing prison next Wednesday.

But Kaufman, who described their crime "as worse than murder," said he would stay the execution if the appeal for executive clemency were filed by Saturday. All court efforts to save the Rosenbergs have failed.

The appeal, contained in a 41-page petition also filed in New York Federal Court, said "the oral testimony of self-interested perjurers, confessed spies and disreputable characters from the lowest dregs of society" was used in their trial.

The petition said "We are innocent as we have proclaimed and maintained from the time of our arrest." The Rosenbergs charged U. S. Atty. Irving Saypol, who prosecuted them, with "reprehensible" conduct.

Also the petition said the defendants did not know former Soviet Spy Courier Elizabeth Bentley, who testified against them, and added that the conviction was brought about by the testimony of Mrs. Rosenberg's brother, David Greenglass.

If the President refuses clemency, the stay will expire five days after the presidential decision is announced.

It was possible the life-or-death decision may be thrust upon President-elect Eisenhower. Justice Dept. attorneys must process the appeal and make their recommendations. Then Atty. Gen. James P. McGranery turns the recommendations over to the President. It was not certain when this would be.

From 1945 to 1950, the Rosenbergs were in the Russian spy chain which had as one of its key links Karl Fuchs, the British physicist now serving a sentence in Great Britain.

Grow Gay Glads

Edwin T. Merchant Photo for Badger Seeds

Gay colors and graceful spikes of gladiolus make them a garden and flower shop favorite. They are easy to grow.

By Walter Finch

ONE OF THE first of the bulb flowers ready for spring planting is the gladiolus. In addition, the glad is certainly one of the most popular of all types of bulbous plant. Even though the next few months might be quite cool, don't worry about gladiolus. Just appreciate your good gardening fortune because Southern California is one of the few areas in this country where the gladiolus thrives during what is commonly termed the "winter months."

Gladioli are exceedingly easy to grow, making few demands on the gardener. With a little extra attention, however, you should be able to produce the same top quality flowers that are sold in the most exclusive florist shops throughout the country. The one "must," of course, is excellent drainage and this is especially important at this time of the year.

An excess of moisture in the vicinity of the root zone may spell failure. The corms rot easily if allowed to remain in standing water for any length of time. Yet the soil must not be too sandy or moisture will seep downwards too quickly and the plants may go thirsty. This is not recommended as glads are heavy drinkers. For small plantings, it is advisable to set each corm on a cushion of sand. This will provide adequate moisture and make for a healthy growing environment.

Glads are not over-sensitive to soil conditions as long as proper run-off of excess moisture is provided. Light, sandy loams as well as heavier adobes will suffice if this one main requirement is supplied. A sunny location is best for winter and early spring plantings; but later on, a somewhat shaded spot will be best. This is for plants that will flower during the warmer parts of the year. Set the corms from 8 to 12 inches apart and from 3 to 5 inches deep, depending on the texture of the soil and size of the planting material.

Perhaps the only objection

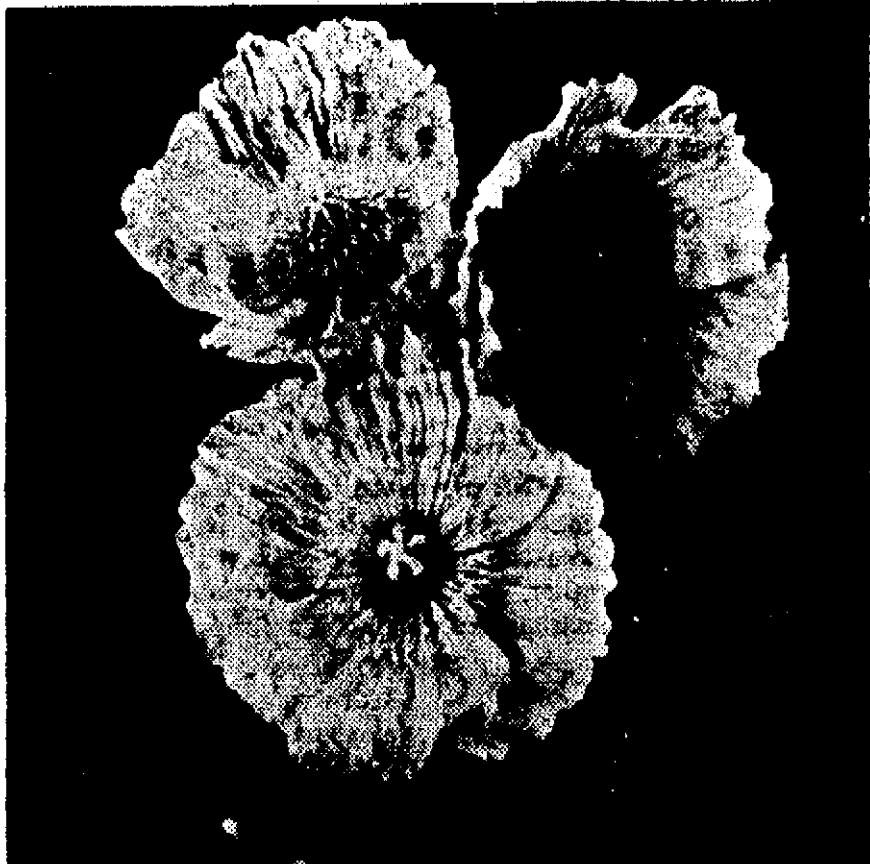

to growing gladiolus is that the plants are susceptible to attack from a tiny mite called a thrip. So make certain that the corms are clean when purchased at the nursery. Examine them carefully, especially under the folds of the skin. It is good technique to treat the corms before planting them. Several non-poisonous products are now available which may be used for this job. As the plants grow, they should be sprayed for thrip about once every 10 days.

THE CORMS should not be dug up at season's end until the plants have completed their flowering period and the foliage has turned brown. Cut the stems about one or two inches above the surface. Then clean and dry the remaining section in the sun for an hour or so and later remove the corms to a dry and airy resting place until ready for planting the following season.

Corms should be allowed to rest for a period of from three to five months before being replanted. The small bulblets that form around the main bulb or corm should be separated from the parent and stored in moist sand. Most amateurs select planting stock that is large but, from a planting viewpoint this is not advisable. The large corms with a flattened appearance are quite old, actually the younger corms that have a high crown will produce flowers of as good or better quality. The price is also less.

The gladiolus is a splendid flower not only in the outdoor garden but also for floral decoration indoors. In fact, the shipping of glads from this district to the eastern cut flower markets is a small big business. For floral decorative purposes it is best to cut the flower when still in the bud stage, the buds gradually will open in water, finally turning into a full grown flower. In this way, you will have more time to enjoy the blooms in your home.

Iceland poppies are a free-blooming annual, easy to grow in almost any sunny spot and any soil, providing color.

By A. C. MacLeod

ICELAND poppies are an especially free-blooming annual and are easy to grow in almost any sunny spot and soil. Even beginning gardeners have good luck with them.

The crinkly-petalled flowers, sometimes three inches across, appear singly on 12 to 18-inch leafless stems which grow out of a low clump of bright green leaves. Because of the low-growing foliage, Iceland poppies can be used in the foreground as well as middle areas of flower beds. Plant them six inches apart, in a row for edging or irregular groups of a dozen or more for mass effect.

Set out plants from flats now, it is a bit late to sow seed. They should bloom by late March or April, and continue well into summer. The colors generally available, according to the Bedding Plant Advisory Board, range from deep scarlet to white and include buttercup yellow, pink, orange, salmon, rose and cream shades.

Try planting Iceland poppies around bloomless clumps of iris, whose foliage in winter looks so stiff and bare. The poppy plants soon will help to soften that appearance. Later, the bright colors of the poppies will contrast beautifully with the blues of spring blooming iris.

New ARMSTRONG ROSE for 1953!

Yes, they're roses you will treasure for the profusion of their bloom and for the beauty of every flower. But like other famous Armstrong originations they have special qualities of vigor, disease resistance and ruggedness which makes them a joy to grow.

The Brightest Yellow Rose Yet

BUCCANEER The clearest, brightest and "last longest" color you have ever seen in a rose. The long, slender buds and cup-shaped opening flowers of brilliant buttercup yellow show no other color. And not only the flowers but the well-foliaged plant itself is magnificent. The strong free-branching plant will become one of your tallest so plant it to the back of your rose bed. This radiant international award winner (Geneva, Paris, Rome) is bound to be one of the first roses friends notice in your garden.

Black Robes in Baja California

By Fred Taylor Kraft
Independent-Press-Telegram Book Editor

BLACK ROBES IN LOWER CALIFORNIA, by Peter Masten Dunne, S. J. 540 pp. Berkeley: University of California Press. $6.50.

MOST CALIFORNIANS are more or less familiar with the string of missions which stretch north from San Diego along and near the coast of the Golden State, but few know of the existence of another, earlier-constructed chain built by the black-robed Jesuit missionaries in Baja California.

Mrs. Robert Henry goes back to the cobbled French streets of her girlhood to write her autobiography, "The Little Madeleine" (Dutton, $4), which becomes at once an intimate picture of a little girl in a big world, of Paris and its fascinating people.

Gartner Signs For New Book

The coaching adventures of Rock Taylor, fictional character created by John Gartner, 250 Quincy Ave., will be continued this summer when a baseball story, tentatively titled "Player of the Year," will be published by Dodd, Mead & Co. Gartner, whose recently published novel, "Rock Taylor, Football Coach," was so successful that another story along the same line was requested, this week signed a contract for the diamond yarn. To keep up on the demand, Gartner has started yet another story about basketball. This yarn, tentatively titled "Cager's Challenge," continues Rock Taylor as hero. Another book by Gartner, "All About Trailers," will appear late this summer from the publishing firm of Henry Holt & Co. It is a general how-to on all phases of trailering.

New Books at the Library

FREDERICK LEWIS ALLEN turns a shrewd and humorous eye on the momentous changes in America from 1900 to 1950 in "The Big Change" which was received by the Public Library last week. Other histories: "The Decline of Imperial Russia," by Hugh Seton-Watson, and "Strange Empire," by Joseph K. Howard. Philosophy and religion: "The Devils of Loudun," by Aldous Huxley; "The Future Life," by Thomson J. Hudson. Science and useful arts: "Radio Astronomy," by Bernard Lovell; "The Sky and the Sailor," by Harold A. Calahan. Fine arts: "Deutsche Werkkuns," by Walter Passarge; "Decorating with House Plants," by Ruth Gannon. Other new non-fiction: "Your Key to Successful Writing," by Lajos Egri; "Confidentiality of Public Assistance Records," by Franciscan Father Engelhardt wrote the story of the development of these missions in 1907, but much new material only recently made accessible is included in this new account, which begins when the Black Robes began the work in 1697 to the time of their expulsion in 1768. It all adds up to an absorbing adventure story, not to be overlooked by those who enjoy the remarkable history of the Pacific Coast regions of, and adjacent to, California.

WAGON ROADS WEST, by W. Turrentine Jackson, 422 pp. Berkeley: University of California Press. $5.

WHEN the Great West was opened to settlement after the Mexican War, agitation for establishment of communications over the vast distances grew so loud that the government, realizing the necessity of such action, went to work. This book is a study of the government's role in the location, survey and improvement of important wagon roads west of the Mississippi River. One chapter is devoted to such projects in California. This work should find ready readers, not only because it gives adequate coverage to a subject seldom touched upon, but also because many incidents in the history of the West are described for the first time. Collectors of Western historical lore will treasure it.

GUIDE TO LIFE AND LITERATURE OF THE SOUTHWEST, by J. Frank Dobie. 222 pp. Dallas: Southern Methodist University Press. $3.50.

THIS is precisely what the title implies, a listing of books the author — who undoubtedly knows more about the Southwest than any writer alive—believes to be the most outstanding in helping people see significances in the features of the land to which they belong, to make their environments more interesting to them, their past more alive, and to bring them to a realization of the values of their own inheritance. Subjects from mountain men to birds and wildflowers are covered.

ART CIRCLES

Pastels Go on Exhibition

By Vera Williams
Press-Telegram Art Editor

EXQUISITELY DONE pastels mark the exhibition of 20 paintings by J. Barry Greene which will be shown during January and February in Pacific Coast Galleria. They include landscapes, seascapes, portraits and at least one humorous picture, "Gossip Over the Linen," which, valued at $1500, is the most expensive in the show.

Although New England scenes predominate, there are pictures of Portugal and one of Mexico.

Shown are "New England Afterglow," "Adobe Houses," "Sweet Sixteen," "Opalescence," "Quarry Afterglow," "Old Garden Road," "Fishergirl of Nazare," "Shrine," "Barley-stubble Storm," "Autumn Tapestry," "Girl With Fan," "Pederneira da Nazare," "Dancing Willows," "Abandoned Smithy," "Stormy Harbor," "Ten-Pound Island," "Knitting in the Garden," "Summer Idyll," "Gloucester Pastorale" and "Gossip Over the Linen."

Greene, who was born in New York and studied at the National Academy of Design and the Art Students League, lived in Europe from 1919 to 1939. He now is a resident of Sherman Oaks in San Fernando Valley. He has had 12 one-man shows in leading galleries of New York and Boston. The catalogue for one of his exhibitions was prefaced by Eduard Herriot, former premier of France. He is a member of many outstanding artists' societies.

Among his awards are the Pulitzer art scholarship and Guggenheim Fellowship. He won an honorable mention in the recent Los Angeles regional exhibition and took first and second prizes in San Fernando Valley Art Club shows. He won a prize in the 1952 Laguna Beach Festival of Arts. His biography is recorded in "Who's Who in American Art" and "Who's Who in the East."

Fifty pieces were sold in the Art Mart which opened in mid-November and continued six weeks. The new Art Mart, the

Beauty Touches Swiss Stamps

A BEAUTIFULLY designed and multi-colored annual child welfare set of Swiss stamps is now on the market. The 5-centimes-plus-5 bears the portrait of a boy. This stamp commemorates the 40th anniversary of Pro-Juventute, the Swiss child welfare organization. The 10-c-plus-10 green, red and black shows a ladybug. The 20-c-plus-10 violet, yellow and black depicts a barred winged butterfly. The 30-c-plus-10 brown, blue and white pictures a silver gray butterfly. The 40-c-plus-10 brown, yellow and purple shows a silk worm moth.

A picture record of baby's birthdays will be a priceless adjunct of the family photo album as the years march by.

By The Shutterbug

IT SEEMS to me that in any family where there are children, birthday snapshooting is definitely a must. I think it well worthwhile planning to shoot a whole roll of film on every birthday. Then you can't miss having an interesting record of your children and how they grew for inclusion in the family album.

I've recently heard a number of people say that they would really like to have more pictures of their youngsters, but that they "just forget" to take them. I know that's something easy to do. Time just goes by in a hurry and the first thing you know a child has grown from one stage into another.

RECORD ALBUM

10 Top Tunes

POPULAR PLATTER PARADE—Here are the 10 top tunes of the week, according to reports from Long Beach record vendors. Henceforth Southland will run the list each week.

"Why Don't You Believe Me?", Joni James.

"Don't Let the Stars Get in Your Eyes," Perry Como.

"Because You're Mine," Mario Lanza.

"You Belong to Me," Jo Stafford.

"Glow Worm," Mills Brothers.

"Lady of Spain," Eddie Fisher.

"Oh! Happy Day," Lawrence Welk, Four Knights.

"I Went to Your Wedding," Patti Page.

"Hold Me, Kiss Me," Thrill Me," Karen Chandler.

"Takes Two to Tango," Pearl Bailey.

BUNK JOHNSON came out the rice fields of southern Louisiana with a set of store-bought teeth and a new trumpet to make a comeback at the age of 62.

He had enjoyed world-wide fame as a New Orleans musician and then had known poverty as a forgotten man of music. Helped by his friends, among them Louis Armstrong, old Bunk scored new triumphs.

Columbia Records has now put the music of that last memorable session on one 12-inch LP record. Appropriately entitled "The Last Testament of a Great New Orleans Jazzman," it is a handy disk for dancers and a collector's item for jazzophiles.

Bunk's wonderful trumpet weaves throughout these melodies and in most of them are fine breaks by Garvin Bushell on the clarinet and the trombonist, Ed Cuffee, particularly in "Some of These Days" and "Out of Nowhere." Other selections include Hilarity Rag, "You're Driving Me Crazy," "Till We Meet Again" and "That Teasin' Rag."

LONG BEACH PUBLIC LIBRARY has added new LP recordings of "Charles Munch Conducts French Music"; "Encores" by Zino Francescatti, violinist, Artur Schnabel, pianist; Faure, "Nocturnes" (Eoyenet, pianist); "Guomar Novaes Encores," and Mahler, "Das Klagende Lied" (Vienna State Opera orchestra and choir).

Long Beach's favorites of the week were Beethoven, "Symphony No. 9" (Toscanini); "Ten Tenors-Ten Arias"; Shakespeare, "Othello" (Paul Robeson and cast), and Verdi, "Il Trovatore" (Warren, etc.).

CAMERA ANGLE

and you haven't snapped a single picture.

Birthday pictures can be made in any number of ways. The other day I saw a cute set of eight pictures of baby's first birthday. In these eight snapshots was recorded practically everything the baby did during the day. The series began with baby's waking up. The second picture showed her splashing happily in the bath and in the third her mother was dressing her. You next see her father lifting her into the high chair. And then, mother presents the cake with its one shining candle. What comes next, I'm sure you can guess—baby with a handful of frosting.

FOR OLDER children, when a birthday party is a very important part of the day, most of the pictures can be devoted to this activity.

It is likely that most birthday snapshooting will be done indoors. This means that you'll certainly want to use photoflash as your light source. You could do it with photoflood lighting, but it will be much easier if you shoot with flash right on the camera, then you can follow the action wherever it may be. Certain types of flash bulbs, used with the simplest of cameras, have a speed of 1/200th second which means you can "stop" most any action. This makes them ideal for picturing children who seldom look their best when they are compelled to be still for any length of time.

COMMUNITY CAMERA CLUB will meet at 8 p. m. Wednesday in Fellowship Hall, 14752 Jackson Ave., Milway City. . . . South Bay Camera Club will meet at 8 p. m. Wednesday in Room 105, Redondo Union High School, Redondo Beach. . . . Compton Camera Club will meet at 8 p. m. Thursday at 1021 E. Compton Blvd., Compton. . . . San Pedro Camera Club will meet at 8 p. m. Friday in Anderson Memorial Bldg., Eighth and Mesa Sts., San Pedro.

Big Field Competes for School Board

BY THE LOOKOUT

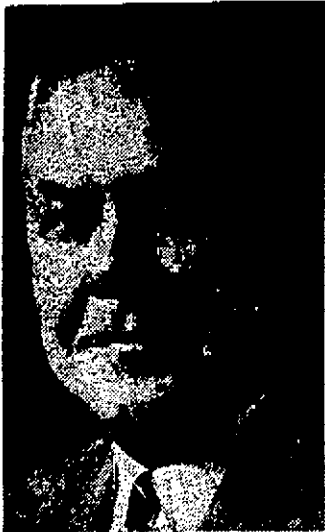

A big field of candidates for Long Beach Unified School District board positions at the April 3 election is in prospect, with Roland L. Hill filing Saturday as the fifth formal entry and Mrs. Pauline Chace giving definite indications she intends to get into the race.

Three posts are to be filled at the April election, which promises to attract unusually heavy voting because a municipal special election will be held on the same day.

Two of the three incumbents, George Vermillion and Mrs. Elizabeth Hudson, have filed for reelection. Charles T. Smith and Joseph Bjorn Dahl filed last week, followed by Hill's Saturday announcement. Mrs. Chace, wife of Mayor Burton W. Chace and long active in civic affairs here, has been prominently mentioned as a candidate and is expected to make her formal declaration in two or three days.

Hill, an author and publisher residing at 1620 East Second St., said he is vitally interested in school work and youth problems. "We should get back to teaching and stressing the 3 R's and less baby sitting in our schools today," he said. He added he is much interested in seeing Lakewood annex to Long Beach and in keeping Lakewood and outlying districts in the Long Beach Unified system.

The candidate has written and published several travel and "I Recommend" books. He has attended a number of well known educational institutions, including the University of Minnesota, and last year graduated from Long Beach State College. In World War II he was boosted from buck private to first lieutenant, and says he is proud that it was Gen. Dwight Eisenhower who pinned the silver bars on him. He is widely traveled and is active in several local and national organizations, including the Disabled American Veterans, American Legion, Knights of Columbus, Pacific Coast Club.

Filing deadline for school board posts is March 4, and filing activity has come unusually early this year.

All candidates will run on the same ballot and on a district-wide basis, with those receiving the three highest votes being elected.

Eugene Tincher, a long-time member of the board whose term expires this year, has announced he will not seek reelection.

TO INSTALL

New officers of the North Long Beach Democratic Club will be installed at the organization's regular meeting Jan. 17 at 1245 Poppy St. Malcolm Hull, newly elected President, takes over the gavel from Bennett Jacobs. Lynnan Lough, local chairman of the speakers bureau for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, will speak. George Vermillion, local Foundation campaign director, will receive the club's contribution to the March of Dimes.

'Equal Rights' Amendment Off to Slow Start

By MARGARET STARR

WASHINGTON (WNN'S). — The Equal Rights Amendment got off to a slow start in Congress. It has been introduced in the House but a sponsor is yet to be lined up in the Senate.

Rep. Katharine St. George (R-N.Y.) reintroduced the perennial bill at the opening session of Congress and it has been referred to the Judiciary Committee, as in previous sessions. But this time Mrs. St. George is hoping for better luck in the committee. The National Federation of Business and Professional Women and the National Woman's party are two organizations leading the movement for adoption of the amendment, which reads: "Equality of rights under the law shall not be denied or abridged in the United States or by any State on account of sex."

Supporters of the amendment claim that some states have old hangover laws from the Napoleonic Code which are very different from British common laws, under which more progressive states operate.

These deny women property rights, in some states authority over their children and limit their ability to earn a living.

Opponents of the amendment call it "dangerous and vicious" because, they contend, its passage at one blow would strike from the statute books laws that have been passed to protect the physical health of women workers. Women, they say, are not physically capable of working to the extent or under the conditions that men can without serious impairment of their health.

Unless, therefore, the "abuse of women workers is controlled by adequate legislation, many of them may become early disabled, thus depriving the nation of the productive power," according to argument by the Women's Trade Union League. Labor leaders have been opposed to the amendment.

Lakewood Set To Ballot on Trash Issue

Lakewood Village residents will vote Tuesday on whether or not to form a garbage and trash disposal district to provide for collections under county contract.

Boundaries for the proposed district would encompass an area bounded by Del Amo Blvd., Bellflower Blvd., Carson St. and Lakewood Blvd., plus the Country Club Estates section west of Lakewood Blvd.

The district tax rate for the first year of service starting July 1 is estimated at 60 cents per $100 assessed valuation, decreasing to 40 cents the second year. Cost to the average homeowner the first year is estimated at $12, compared to the $15 now paid to private collectors for the service.

Lakewood Taxpayers' Association, sponsor of petition campaign to form the district, recommends twice-a-week garbage pickups and once-a-week trash collections in residential areas, with daily garbage and trash collections from the Triangle and Village business sections.

Polling places for the election are at Pan American Park Auditorium, and at residences located at 4555 Charlemagne Ave. and 5354 Harvey Way.

Dental Topic On Broadcast

"To the patient who has lost natural teeth, the placing of a partial denture or removable bridge is one of the important events of his life," states Dr. Robert M. Appleman, associate professor of dental surgery, University of Chicago, who will talk on the telephone extension program to the local dental society.

Locally the program will be heard at the Lafayette Hotel Monday at 5:30 p.m. Dr. Max Eschelman, president of the Third District Dental Society, will preside over the program which will originate in Chicago and be broadcast to 7000 dentists in 179 cities.

The subject of restoring lost teeth by removable appliances will be discussed from all angles. Program chairman for the local group will be Dr. Lawrence A. Spaulding.

Australia Holds War Criminals

SYDNEY, Australia.—(AP) Australia is still receiving requests from Japan for the release on parole of war criminals held in Japan, the transfer to Japan of convicts held in the Pacific and the remission of sentences in some cases. These requests are coming through diplomatic channels and also through personal requests from some Japanese families.

Australia still holds criminals in its own territory, Manus Island, and is the only country, apart from the Soviet Union and the Philippines, which has refused to transfer all convicts to their home countries.

Observers say there is strong resistance within the Australian Cabinet to any modification of the war crimes decisions.

It's a Game Learning to Talk Spanish

By VERA WILLIAMS

During World War II, Eva Maria G. de Robinson, who lives at 11043 Termino Ave. and came from Colombia, taught Navy personnel here how to speak Spanish.

Her pupils were men en route to North Africa by way of South America. She gave them lessons of 2½ to 3 hours once a week for three months—and they could speak conversational Spanish.

The outgrowth of that was her "Self-Taught Spanish" textbook and six records (12 lessons). The records are said to be the most popular foreign language records in Southern California.

Having demonstrated that she could teach adults, or they could teach themselves Spanish in record time she embarked on a plan to teach children.

ANA AND PABLO

The result is a new textbook, "Steps to Spanish" designed for children. It is based on a story about a little Spanish girl Ana and her brother, Pablo, their father and mother, their home, flowers, dog, games and music. Pupils first hear the story in English, and then on the pages of the book they meet the pictured Ana and Pablo and other characters and objects of the story. They color the figures in the book and almost without effort they learn a basic Spanish vocabulary. Then they play games and sing songs using this vocabulary.

In the Progress School, 643 Locust Ave., for instance, Mrs. Robinson's "Steps to Spanish" is taught so successfully that second, third and fourth graders chatter in Spanish almost as if they were natives.

THEY PEEK AHEAD

"The children love to learn Spanish, and we find them reading the story ahead of their lessons," says Mrs. Frances N. Nielsen, principal. "In the first lesson we find them learning the declarative forms, without realizing they are doing it. Ana is feminine, Pablo masculine and they rapidly learn feminine and masculine endings of the words.

"Almost before we know it, the children are thinking in Spanish and playing games and singing in Spanish."

Both textbooks were illustrated by Cathrine (Mrs. Henry L.) Richter of Rolling Hills.

Mrs. Robinson has had the odd experience of meeting persons who speak Spanish fluently, asking them "Have you lived in Spain or Mexico?" and having them reply, "No, I learned from your textbook and records."

She hopes now that something of the same kind will happen with children—some child will say "No, I learned from your 'Steps to Spanish.'"

Taking Tots' Gun Fatal to Mother

McCOMB, Miss.—(AP). When 3-year-old Wayne Seals walked out on the back porch Saturday dragging a heavy shotgun his mother nearly fainted.

Mrs. Ouida Seals, 28, dropped a pan of chicken feed she held, raced up the steps, snatched the gun, scolded Wayne and bent to prop the gun beside the steps. Both barrels exploded in her face.

Coroner Ray Cain said the cocked hammers were tripped when they caught on a step as Mrs. Seals lowered the gun stock-first.

Jackie's Just Tail Waggin' Mail Wagon

Rain or shine, every morning at 9 o'clock for the past year, Jackie, a 5-year-old more-or-less Australian sheep dog, has posted herself at Third St. and Roswell Ave.

Jackie isn't expecting mail, but she is expecting the postman.

Tail wagging and beaming happily, she accompanies Postman Gerald M. Thomas on his route. Postman and dog get through about 3 p. m.

Jackie, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wyatt, 4224 Colorado St., declines to follow any other postman. On Thomas' day off, and another postman appears, Jackie comes straight home from Third and Roswell. Sundays, when there is no mail delivery, she waits for a while and then dejectedly comes home.

The dog figures that her allegiance is due not only the postman, but the United States mail. Once when another postman tried to take mail from a storage box, Jackie growled and showed her teeth, and told him that mail belonged to her postman. She finally was lured away by a member of her family.

Motorcyclists Crash in Fog. 3 Die, 7 Hurt

LONDON, Sunday—(AP). Twelve teen-age motorcyclists, roaring home from a dance in single file piled up in dense fog early today, killing three riders and seriously injuring seven.

Two of the dead and some of the injured were girls riding on the rear of the machines.

The pileup near London's Croydon Airport, was the worst accident reported in the pea-soup fog which closed in on most of Britain Friday.

Transportation in London and other areas virtually was paralyzed. Visibility was cut to less than a yard, and both cars and pedestrians poked cautiously through the soot-laden mists. Oil flares lit many road junctions.

Fog canceled the scheduled honeymoon plane flight to London and Corsica by the Earl of Dalkeith, Princess Margaret's former boy friend, and his pretty commoner bride, Jane McNeil, after their elaborate Edinburgh wedding attended by Queen Elizabeth II and other royalty. The couple took the train instead.

Boy Dies, One Hurt in Play With Grenade

LAWTON, Okla.—(AP). A rifle grenade exploded near a Lawton residence Saturday, killing one of the two small boys who had found it in a park, and critically injuring the other.

The blast killed 8-year-old Jack Annis. His 6-year-old brother, Bobby, was riddled with shrapnel. The child underwent surgery at Memorial Hospital Saturday afternoon and was given blood transfusions.

The boys apparently were trying to bury the grenade in a small hole they had dug in the backyard at their home. The explosion rattled buildings in the vicinity and brought scores to the scene.

Authorities at near by Fort Sill Artillery post ordered an investigation to determine how the grenade happened to be in a drainage ditch in the park.

The Annis boys are the sons of Mrs. Ella Madden. Her husband, Clarence Madden, is a Lawton used-car dealer.

Other youths in the neighborhood told newsmen the grenade had been found in the park about two weeks ago by other boys, who discarded it in the ditch.

Officers theorized that someone had removed the grenade from the military reservation north of Lawton and abandoned it in the park.

Bobby has rare Type B. RH negative blood and an appeal was made over radio station KSWO for blood donors. Six soldiers from Sill appeared shortly to give the transfusions.

4 States Draft 19-Year-Olds

WASHINGTON—(AP). Four states are drafting 19-year-old men this month and at least a dozen others will do so in February, an Associated Press survey showed Saturday.

The four states are Washington, Wisconsin, Wyoming and New York (upstate).

The 16 states that will be taking 19-year-olds in February and the estimate of how many are:

California, small percentage of total quota; Arkansas, 101-125; Delaware, six or seven of 69 quota; Illinois, 300; Iowa, anticipate some; Michigan, few from each board; Minnesota, very few; Nevada, all 47 quota.

New York—upstate, some. New York City, about 500; North Carolina, less than 100 of 1332 quota; Oregon, more than half of 631 quota; Pennsylvania, quite a number of 6000 quota; Texas, very few; Washington, some; Wisconsin, don't know how many; Wyoming, some.

Dice Game Fight Jails Man, Sends Other to Morgue

OAKLAND — (AP). A quarrel over a dollar bill picked up when police broke up a dice game put one man in the morgue Saturday and another in jail on murder charges.

Officers said James T. Mitchell, 43, a laborer, stabbed Marion Watson, 58, Friday night after police interrupted a sidewalk crap game.

Watson, who was shooting when police arrived, claimed he made his point. But Mitchell was reluctant to give back the dollar he grabbed when he saw the cops coming.

Watson died in a hospital this morning and Mitchell was jailed for investigation of murder.

19 Guilty of Fraud on Out-of-Job Pay

LOS ANGELES — (AP). Nineteen persons were convicted in Southern California during December of illegally collecting unemployment insurance checks, the Department of Employment reported.

Twelve of those convicted made restitution, and seven received jail sentences.

Beaten to Death

CHICAGO—(AP). A religious magazine reported Saturday that a Korean Protestant leader was beaten to death in Seoul by a U. S. Army lieutenant and three soldiers.

The Korean minister was identified as a Pastor Pang, secretary of the National Christian Council of Korea.

TUNE TRUCKERS

Good Humor Girls 'Man' Vanilla Vans

Meet the Good Humor girls. The Good Humor men long have been a tradition, driving along the streets to the accompaniment of tinkling tunes, and dispensing ice cream.

Recently Thomas DeVito, Long Beach manager, began employing women to "man" the trucks. There now are eight, and they are doing right well. Take Barbara Barbee, 26, blond and blue-eyed of 6223 Keynote St., for instance. A housewife and mother, she drives an ice cream truck from 12:30 p. m. to 9:30 p. m. with an hour off for dinner, and her first week, working on commission, she made $75. Her truck plays "Turkey in the Straw," "Some Play 'Jingle Bells,'" some Brahms' "Lullaby" and some "Little Brown Jug."

What is the favorite ice cream? "Vanilla," she grins. "You can reel off a list of 40 flavors and the customer will hear you through and say I'll take vanilla."

SAN PEDRO—There's a subway train which rumbles constantly under West San Pedro and Miraleste, but it will never speed Dad to work nor Mom to her shopping.

Instead it carries men and equipment through a tunnel which is being constructed by the county sanitation districts at a cost of almost $9,000,000.

The train runs through a mile-long link in a 12-foot diameter line which, when completed, will extend from a treatment plant north of Harbor City to an outfall at Whites Point.

Electrically powered engines pull men, tools, material and earth along trackage which extends from a shaft south of the Navy firefighting school to a point just north of the lane break in Miraleste Dr. At the latter point, men and equipment are laboring constantly to extend the tunnel towards Whites Point.

Engineer Les Haug and Superintendent Harry Panacione estimate that it will take until December to reach a point about 8500 feet from the outfall. The last stretch probably will be undertaken next year. Meanwhile, the new tunnel will be connected with an eight-foot line completed in 1937, which the larger more parallels.

The almost unsung project is not without its major difficulties. At one point, the pressure of the surrounding earth has twisted huge girders almost double and into grotesque positions, necessitating considerable shoring by giant timbers.

Most of the walls of the tunnel have been given their cement finishing so that this situation doesn't pose a widespread danger.

As much of the work as possible is done mechanically. Dynamite blasts loose hard-packed dirt and rock at the end of the tunnel. Then, amid swirling dust and powder fumes, the loose earth is scooped up by a railed machine which conveys it to cars for its long journey back to the surface.

Kiwanis Chief

NEW PRESIDENT of the Torrance Kiwanis Club installed Saturday night in Long Beach is C. H. Ragsdale, 642 Terrylyn Pl., Long Beach, a wholesale petroleum distributor.

Steel girders are swung into position by a small crane and the five-foot gaps between them are closed by workmen who insert wooden shorings. Later the cement finishing is poured.

The project was started in 1948 after far-sighted planners saw that the growth of Southern California would necessitate the disposal of millions of gallons more sewage.

Inaugural Seats Exchanged for Farmers Bulletins

WASHINGTON—(AP). Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) Saturday offered Rep. Harold C. Hagen (R-Minn.) a seat at President-elect Eisenhower's inaugural ceremony in exchange for 10,000 Farmers Bulletins.

Humphrey made public a letter in which he said he had read of Hagen's lament about scarcity of seats for the ceremony. Hagen offered 10,000 farmers bulletins or tickets to the next Army-Navy football game.

"I hasten to reply and accept your offer," Humphrey wrote: "To date I have received only a few requests for seats at the inaugural ceremony, but I know there are many thousands of farmers in Minnesota who will not be able to attend and, in lieu thereof, will accept Farmers Bulletins as a fair exchange."

Bandit Holds Up L. B. Club

He saw only the bandit's feet and his gun, but that was enough to make Marion A. Reese, 50, clerk in a bait and tackle shop at 20 39th Pl., hand over $143, he told police Saturday night.

Reese told officers he was alone in the shop, preparing to close, and was on his hands and knees over the floor safe.

Suddenly, he said, he heard a voice behind him say: "Don't move, give me them sacks."

Reese froze, glanced out of the corner of his eye and saw a pair of black suede shoes, a flash of red argyle socks and the ends of the gunman's blue overalls, he told officers.

More to the point, he said, he saw the barrel of a gun pointed at his head, and handed two money bags backward to the suspect without looking any higher.

He then lay flat on his face, following the gunman's instructions, and heard the bandit walk out of the store. After remaining prone for a few moments, he telephoned police.

2 Model T's Collide; First Crash for Each

LIMA, Ohio—(AP). Two 15-year-old model T cars collided here Friday night and both drivers said Saturday it was their first accident in the ancient autos. The drivers were John H. Clear, 74, and William E. Kelley, 72.

Pulling for the March of Dimes

TWO BURLY SAINT BERNARDS, Happy and Millie, teamed up Saturday to help collect antipolio funds. They toured the Lakewood Center area, drawing a cart carrying two former victims of polio, Stephen, 2, and Judith, 3, children of Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. James, 5315 Spring St. The dogs are owned by Dr. and Mrs. Alan Ross, 5400 Cherry Ave.—(Staff Photo.)

'Electrical Hook' Utilized by Virus to Strike Target

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Reporter

DENVER—(AP). A virus is a dead-eye sharpshooter at causing infection, studies at the University of Colorado show.

It needs only one chance to grab a living cell and cause sickness. Given that chance, it rarely misses.

Its weapon is an electrical hook, to attach itself to its target cell. Then the virus enters the cell, and quickly produces up to 1000 more viruses.

These fascinating studies of how viruses work are described by Dr. Theodore T. Puck, professor of biophysics at Colorado's Medical School.

EACH ONE SPECIFIC

Viruses cause hundreds of plant, animal and human diseases, including influenza, polio, mumps and yellow fever. Each virus is specific, that is, able to attack usually just one kind of body cell.

But viruses have developed an amazing method of doing their job, Dr. Puck and associates find. They are working mainly with a virus, bacteriophage, which attacks and kills certain bacteria.

The virus, they find, first picks up a positive ion, an electrically charged particle, from body fluids. The ion alters the surface of the virus so that it is attracted to its target cell electrostatically, to grab and hold onto it.

The flu virus works the same way, getting an electrical hook to attack human blood cells. All viruses may work the same way.

FAST AND EFFICIENT

The grabbing is amazingly fast and efficient, Dr. Puck said. Every time a virus collides with its target cell, it sticks unerringly.

Most chemical reactions are nowhere near so rapid. In some kind of reactions, less than one millionth of the collisions between two molecules or cells produce results. They don't collide hard enough to make the electrical attachment. But the virus, with its electrical hook on the outside, has no such trouble.

In test-tubes, the virus invasion can be stopped by adding fluids which prevent the virus from picking up its electrical hook, or by supplying the wrong kind of electrical hooks. Whether such prevention can ever be applied practically to human disease is something for future study.

Dr. Puck now is investigating the second step in virus sickness—how the virus manages to penetrate inside the cell after it becomes attached.

Enzymes, the potent controllers of bodily reactions, apparently are involved in this mechanism.

So far, it is known that the virus goes to work quickly. Dr. Puck finds it takes some viruses only 15 to 20 seconds to kill a cell it has grabbed. The virus then takes over the cell's inner machinery, and begins making more viruses, again at a fast pace.

Bikinis Trimmed in Fur For 'Chinchilla Quints'

If you want a parka equipped to dip in the Pacific in nippy weather the answer is one of the five fur-trimmed swimsuits to be worn by hostess-models in the Chinchilla show Saturday and Sunday in Municipal Auditorium.

The show will be sponsored by the Los Angeles branch of Chinchilla Association of America. It has contracted with Tettebaum, the Beverly Hills furrier, to decorate Cole swimsuits in mink, ermine, sable, beaver and, obviously, chinchilla.

Girls who yearn to model the svelte pelts will compete Tuesday at 7 p. m., parading in bathing suits and high heels in Municipal Auditorium's Concert Hall.

Ten semi-finalists will be chosen. They'll vie in finals Thursday afternoon in the auditorium, where television cameras will be assembled.

The Chinchilla Quints will model a modest $250,000 worth of skins from Sawvel Furriers, Los Angeles, including a natural chinchilla stole, weskit, hat and muff, and two-piece all-chinchilla bathing suit.

Most of the garments will be displayed in the week-end show, which will also exhibit 500 live chinchillas as an afterthought.

County Supervisors to Meet Twice Weekly Starting Feb. 5

In a special bulletin issued to all officials and employees of Los Angeles County, Chief Clerk Ray E. Lee of the Board of Supervisors said Saturday that the supervisors on Feb. 5 will begin a new policy of meeting twice a week.

For several decades, the supervisors have assembled in regular session only on Tuesdays. Their work load and calendar became so congested, with the growth of the county, that the Thursday meeting was arranged to relieve the Tuesday congestion in the Hall of Records.

The Thursday meeting of the supervisors will be confined to public hearings on all matters requiring the taking of evidence and testimony. The supervisors will sit as a quasi-judicial body.

Coincident with the two meetings per week of the supervisors will be the effective date of salary increases approved for the supervisors by County Charter Amendment No. 1 last November.

Beginning in February, the annual pay for each Los Angeles County supervisor will be $16,750 a year—the same stipend now paid the judges of the Superior Court. The charter amendment provided that in accepting an increase from $9800 to $16,750 per year, the supervisors now must devote their full time to the office.

The Thursday meetings cannot be used for the transaction of regular and routine county business, unless such authorization is given by a vote of four of the five supervisors. The idea is to restrict, as much as possible, the routine affairs to the Tuesday sessions.

Soviet 'Invader' Will Speak for College Series

Oliver Vickery, San Francisco exporter-importer, will speak for the Long Beach City College Celebrity Series, Wednesday at 8 p. m. in Poly High School. Vickery will talk on "My Moscow Invasion."

An anti-Communist, Vickery made world headlines by telling the Soviet sponsored international economic conference that "Free enterprise is the best system."

He was invited by the Soviet government to Moscow to attend the conference. He also visited other important cities in Russia, including Stalingrad, Leningrad, Odessa and Kiev and brought to America orders from Russia for more than a billion dollars worth of goods.

No tickets for the address are available.

Supervisor's Wife Renamed Chairman

Helen Legg, wife of County Supervisor H. C. Legg, has been elected chairman of the board of trustees, California Institution for Women, at Corona. It marks the third time Mrs. Legg has held the chairmanship since her appointment to the board in 1941.

Want to go dancing this week? ONE LESSON AT ARTHUR MURRAY'S IS ALL YOU NEED!

Arthur Murray discovery—
"The First Step to Popularity" makes learning easier...faster!

HAVE YOU ever had to leave the dance floor because the music changed and you didn't know how to dance to it? Well, you can say goodbye to those embarrassing moments now. Arthur Murray has discovered a new step, "The First Step To Popularity," that is the basis for all dances.

Whether you want to Rumba, Tango, Fox Trot, Waltz or Samba you will find that all these dances develop out of this one key step. And it's so easy to learn that most people master it in just a few minutes...even beginners. How thrilled they are, too, when they realize that at last they are dancing.

SAVE 50% ON PRIVATE LESSONS

Yes, people who thought they never could learn, now are able to glide about the floor with easy grace and confidence.

Not only is learning to dance a lot simpler and quicker now, but for a limited time two can learn for the price of one. This means that you and your husband or wife or friend can learn all the latest steps together for half price. You'll be delighted how easy and pleasant it is to learn as a couple. Every lesson seems like a party!

Wait 'til you hear the compliments you both will get, too. Some of our pupils who have learned this way say that when they get up to dance the floor is cleared and everybody watches them enviously. So if you have a favorite partner, plan to take lessons together and save.

These special money saving rates should be reason enough for enrolling today at Arthur Murray's. But, there's another big advantage in knowing how to dance well... dancing keeps you young! And that's something that should interest everyone. It's a fact, too, doctors agree that dancing is perfect exercise for all ages. It tones up muscles, helps posture and aids balance. Why not come in and see for yourself, though. You'll be delighted how well you feel after just one lesson.

Our delightfully air-conditioned studios are open from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. But if you want to be doubly sure of on-the-minute attention fill out the coupon below and send it to us. There is no obligation, of course.

Pay as little as
a week!

Ask about our special Pay-As-You-Go Plan. For as little as $3.50 a week you now can become a really expert dancer "The New Arthur Murray Way." And, you get the same expert instruction with the same talented teachers. Yes, everything is the same but the price...you pay as you go.

Read how others won new popularity almost overnight

"For many years learning to dance was one of my greatest desires, but shyness always kept me from doing it. Now dancing is my favorite pastime. Life may begin at forty for some. It began at Arthur Murray's for me!"

ANTON ERICKSON

"My dancing has progressed so rapidly since my first visit to your studio that I'm amazed. I find dancing not only wonderful exercise but being able to do all the latest steps has given me added self-confidence."

FLORENCE MOORE

Party Time

Won't you come in to one of our Student Parties? We have them all the time. It's a wonderful way to brush up on your dancing and also to get an idea of just why an Arthur Murray dancer always stands out. Ask about these Student Parties when you come in to arrange about your dancing lessons.

FREE LESSON

There's a FREE dance analysis and lesson waiting for you at Arthur Murray's. We like to do this for our new students so that we can get an idea of how they dance. It's also a good introduction for them to the Arthur Murray Way of learning to dance. So be sure to plan on having this FREE check-up when you come in. You'll be thrilled how quickly one of Arthur Murray's talented experts can analyze your dancing.

Plane Talk

By DON BRACKENBURY

IN COMMEMORATION of the 50th anniversary of flight, Cessna Aircraft Co. has labeled its newest plane as the Golden Year Model 180. The four-place all-metal ship will be delivered to local distributors on Feb. 28.

Powered with a Continental 225-h. p. engine, the model 180 cruises at 150 m.p.h. The new model has a fully adjustable horizontal stabilizer and its design eliminates the use of trim tabs. The entire stabilizer is controlled by a trim wheel.

SOUTHLAND DEALERS for Cessna Aircraft, incidentally, had a meeting at Lakewood Country Club Tuesday. Among those present were Larry Hunt, Tom Sheridan and Stan Trimble at Long Beach Municipal Airport; James L. Most of Bellflower Airport; Art Sharp of Gardena Valley Airport, and Bob Holloway of Van Nuys.

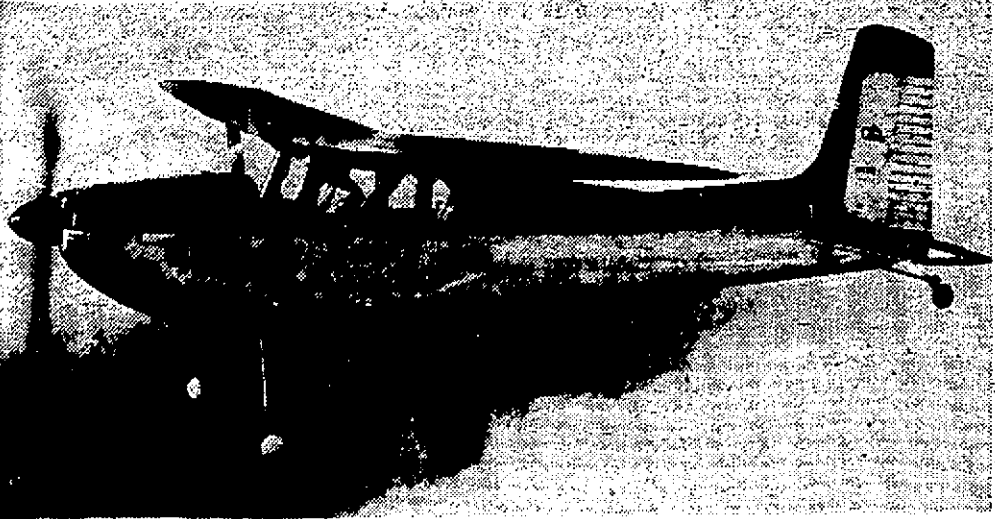

First prize for most dollar volume sales during the past year was topped by Holloway. Sharp won second spot, and Jim Most was third among the 11 dealers present.

Hunt, owner of Air-Oasis, and Sheridan will leave Monday for Wichita for the national sales meeting, by the way.

THE MANY FRIENDS of Earl Bennett, veteran Long Beach flier, were saddened to hear of his death Sunday in Coolidge, Ariz., where he was assigned to Aircraft Associates.

Spud Martin, en route to Kansas, stopped at Coolidge last week to check in with Bennett.

Cessna's Golden Year Model

WITH 1953 MARKING the 50th anniversary of the Wright Brother's flight, Cessna Aircraft Co. has named its new four-place Model 180 the Golden Year Model. Powered with a 225 h.p. Continental engine, the Model 180 cruises at over 150 miles an hour. It will be delivered to Southland dealers Feb. 28 in a mass "flyaway" from the company plant in Wichita.

and found him ill. Spud called the doctor and, when it seemed that Earl would be okay, continued his trip to Kansas. Bennett passed away Sunday morning.

Sandy Santhoff and Troy Colbach flew down to Coolidge and are in charge until a permanent arrangement is worked out.

SALES THIS WEEK by Aircraft Sales and Brokerage, "more than doubled" that of recent weeks, according to Jack Roberts. Crop dusters, private planes and business planes all were included in the sudden rush of buying. Jack says he doesn't know what brought it on, but isn't worrying about it.

Among the purchasers was Ray Cox of Lakewood Village, who bought a sleek Fairchild PT-26.

THE CARD WITH WHICH Bob and Dianna Bixby announced the arrival of "Flight 2," more formally known as Robert Elliott Bixby Jr., was real cute. Glad to report that both mother and son are fine.

IF YOU THINK air line passenger travel isn't booming, Greg Shubert, local representative for Trans World Airlines, passes along the information that TWA set a record all-time high Jan. 4 when it flew 8,297,878 passenger miles. Its previous high was set last Nov. 30 when the total was 7,119,000 passenger miles.

AN UNUSUAL SIGHT at Long Beach Municipal Airport this week was a Lockheed F-38, the twin-boomed veteran of World War II. This was one belonging to the Mark Hurd Aerial Survey of Minneapolis. It flew in from Tulsa and landed here because Los Angeles International was weathered in.

THIS COMING WEEK should mark the return from South America of Dr. and Mrs. Donald B. Truitt. Kay McCullough of Aircraft Associates Flying School said she got a card from the Truitts which indicated they expected to be back about Thursday. The card, by the way, was written in the air over Peru.

FILLING THE VACANCY created when John Loufek of Long Beach resigned to accept the presidency of the Southern California Soaring Assn., the Douglas Soaring Club has designated its vice president, Bill Douby of Santa Monica as new president.

Next regular meeting of the club, composed of Douglas Aircraft soaring enthusiasts, will be Thursday in the Recreation Hall at the Santa Monica plant. A movie on the "Sierra wave" project will be shown and flight schedules for members set up.

CHIEF TEST PILOT for North American Aviation on its F-86-E Sabre jet fighter, Dick Chapin, will be the speaker at the meeting of Flyers Post No. 765, American Legion, Tuesday at 7 p. m. in the Wilton Hotel's aviation room.

Aircoach Lines Chalk Perfect Safety Record

Independent air lines which are members of the Aircoach Transport Association achieved a perfect safety record in 1952 and also showed an increase in operations, according to an announcement today by Amos E. Heacock, association president.

The Civil Aeronautics Board announced that the 37 member associations carried 700,000 passengers a total of 1,300,000,000 passenger miles in 1952. In 1951, the figure was 1,000,000,000 passenger miles, according to CAB.

The last fatal accident involving a plane of one of the member carriers occurred in December, 1951, in Newark, N. J., Heacock said. He said even greater emphasis would be placed on safety in 1953.

Members of the Aircoach Transport Association in the Los Angeles area include Blatz Airlines, Inc., California Air Charter, California Hawaiian Airlines, Caribbean American Lines, Inc., Central Air Transport, Inc., Cursey Air Transport, Ltd., Great Lakes Airlines, Inc., Los Angeles Air Service, Inc., North American Airlines, Standard Air Cargo, Trans America Airways, Inc., Trans-National Airlines, Inc., U. S. Aircoach and Viking Airlines, Inc.

P.O. 'Nixies' Make Sense From Pixies

By JIM PRELAN

The letter looked as if the person addressing it had hammered the keys of the typewriter in a blind temper tantrum. The address read:

#37# E. 4th St.
Long Beach, Calif.

Without even batting an eye, the postal clerk reread the letter to 3453 E. 4th St. and sped it on its way.

The next letter looked like a good address—2412 Indiana St. The trouble was that there isn't any 2412 Indiana. Indiana is only two blocks long and the numbers run from 6400 to 6599.

So the clerk changed it to 2412 Second St. and the letter was delivered.

The next one had an address that looked like gibberish:

SR
Juan Rebolledo Renaud
Bugue Tanque Minatitlan
Long Beach, E. U.

This one took the clerk a little longer—about 15 seconds. He flipped open a chart, jotted down an address, and the next day Señor Juan Renaud, a sailor, got his letter aboard the tanker Minatitlan, in port here in Long Beach, Estados Unidos, better known as the United States.

The men who unscramble the omelets that people make out of letter addresses are called nixie clerks. There are three of them: Clayton Skellenger, Clyde Wicker and William Smith, in the Long Beach central post office. If it weren't for them, you wouldn't get a lot of your mail.

A "nixie" in postal terminology, is a letter or a parcel with a bad address. The Long Beach post office—and every other large post office—gets an avalanche of nixies every day. Here it runs between 2000 and 3000 a day.

This monumental evidence that "to err is human" is channeled to the three address detectives. They try to figure out where you really wanted that letter to go when you boggled up the address.

They succeed in an amazing number of cases. The reason they do is that when it comes to mail, they know as much about the odd quirks of the human mind as a good psychiatrist.

Take the letter addressed to #37# E. 4th St. That was child's play for the nixie boys. The typist who addressed it merely left the shift lock on, hit 3453 and it came out in the upper case symbols #37#. The nixie clerks know the upper bank of a typewriter's keys by heart.

Take the letter addressed to the non-existent number on Indiana St. Why did the clerk change it to Second St.?

A lot of people write Indiana St. when it should be Second St. The reason is that they copy it off a hand-written return address. The return address may be written carelessly so that 2nd St. looks like Ind. St., and the person copying it thinks it is an abbreviation for Indiana St.

The people who keep the nixie

Nixies Know All the Tricks

clerks busy fall into certain groups:

1. Provincial Paulines. They think that Long Beach is just a village with about 150 residents. They address their mail—hundreds of letters daily—like this:

John Jones
Long Beach, Calif.

2. Forgetful Freddie. They put down the house number and forget the street name—2745 St. Or vice versa—just plain Atlantic Ave. without a number.

3. Wandering Wandas. They write the person's name, get the house number right, and then start thinking about the roast in the oven and wind up with something like this:

James Phelan
143 Phelan Drive
Long Beach, Calif.

4. Egotistic Eddie. They think that Long Beach is the only city in the world. They write a letter to the President and address it like this:

Harry S. Truman
The White House
1600 Pennsylvania Ave.
Long Beach, Calif.

5. Scrambling Susies. They get the name, the street, the city right, but mix up the numbers. They write 536 Tibbury when they mean 5634 Tibbury.

6. The Generous Georges. They take a good address and mess it up by adding a figure at the beginning or end. When they are writing to 450 E. 7th St., they make it 4450 or 4500 E. 7th.

7. The Illiterate Eileens. They write a name and address so it looks like a seismograph during the Bakersfield earthquake.

There are others, of course. And sometimes the nixie boys hit the jackpot and get a combination of errors on one letter.

Here's one they took particular pride in unraveling. It was addressed:

Mrs. B. F. Willis
2503 Laurre St.
Lakewood, Calif.

There isn't any Laurre in Lakewood or Long Beach. The nixie experts figured that it might be Lanal. But there isn't any 2500 block in Lanal. So they guessed that a Scrambling Susie was at work, and so they transposed the first two figures and made 2503 Laurre into 5203 Lanal. Sure enough that's where Mrs. B. F. Willis lives.

It's simple—when you know how.

With such tricks the nixie trio send between 400 and 600 of the daily garbage to the right persons. The rest of it is returned to the senders, when there is a return address. If there is no return, it goes to the dead letter department, where it is opened to see if there is a return address inside. If there isn't, the letter is eventually disposed of. Letters with valuables are saved for a year awaiting a claimant.

Once the nixie clerks were unable to decipher a letter and when it was opened the dead letter clerk shook out eight $100 bills. There was no return inside, and after a year the money went to Uncle Sam.

To help ease the flood of nixies, the address sleuths have some simple advice:

1. Write plainly.
  2. Check the address when you're finished.
  3. Always put a return address on the outside of the envelope.
- Just the other day they got a nixie that they couldn't solve. It was "Return to Sender," and then stopped.

It wasn't an address written on

Argentine Oil Tank Farm Swept by Fire

EVA PERON, Argentina—(U.P.) More than 1,000,000 gallons of crude oil and gasoline were burned and 20 firemen injured in a fire which swept a government-owned oil tank farm Friday night and Saturday.

The fire started Friday afternoon when a tank was ignited by burning, oil-soaked rags. More than 3500 firemen, including equipment from as far away as Buenos Aires, fought the flames.

Dangers of Using Narcotics to Be School Booklet Topic

County Schools Superintendent C. C. Trillingham today disclosed in his monthly bulletin that his office had been asked by the narcotics details of the Sheriff's office to prepare a special booklet on the dangers of narcotics.

The bulletin said that Dr. Trillingham had agreed for his staff to take the lead in compiling the information which will be distributed later for school and student use throughout Los Angeles County.

The Sheriff's narcotics squad in recent months has made numerous arrests of youthful gangs near certain high schools, including one in San Gabriel Valley, where the youthful members were found to be using marijuana.

The job of co-ordinating the editing of the pamphlet has been assigned to Chief Deputy County Schools Superintendent R. E. Walter, and to R. R. Palm, director of the county division of secondary education.

Dr. Trillingham announced the selection of an advisory committee of educators, from elementary, secondary, city and unified district personnel. They are:

William Keeley, Long Beach; Elmer Ens, Alhambra; Nelson Price, Citrus Union High School; Wallace Brandhofer, Margaret Orear, Bellflower and Ranchito District; Bruce Lawson, Albert Grant, Inglewood.

Pilot Club Leads Local Freedom Crusade Drive

Pilot Club of Long Beach, for the second consecutive year, has assumed responsibility for the total city sponsorship of the Crusade for Freedom drive now under way nationally.

This campaign, which is being conducted to gain popular support for Radio Free Europe and Radio Free Asia, ends Feb. 15.

Gladys McMullen, member of the Pilot Club public affairs committee has been appointed Long Beach city chairman for the crusade by California chairman, Fleet Adm. C. W. Nimitz.

Peggy Finley, past president of the Pilot Club who served as city chairman in last year's campaign, is now acting as Harbor Area chairman and a member of the California committee of the crusade.

The city-wide kick-off for the campaign will be Jan. 21 at Pacific Coast Club with Pilot Club members as hostesses.

Speaker of the evening will be Paul Tigris, head of the Czechoslovakian Desk of Radio Free Europe. Tigris is a former newspaperman and Minister of Information for Foreign Affairs in free Czechoslovakia. He escaped from behind the Iron Curtain and now works on behalf of the Crusade for Freedom.

$8 Million Offer for Palm Springs Land Given Tribe

SACRAMENTO—(U.P.) A real estate developer has offered some 80 Indians more than $8,000,000 for reservation land at Palm Springs, the state director of the U. S. Office of Indian Affairs disclosed Saturday.

State Director Leonard Hill told the Associated Press the U. S. commissioner of Indian affairs and perhaps Congress would have to approve the offer made by E. L. Standiford of Los Angeles.

The offer for some 6000 or 7000 acres of land on the Agua Caliente Reservation, owned, he said, to roughly $100,000 to each Indian.

In addition, $100,000 was offered for undistributed tribal land containing a mineral well within the city of Palm Springs.

City College Grads Seek Up-to-Date Alumni List

A drive to compile an up-to-date record of alumni of Long Beach City College has been started by the City College Alumni Association.

Where are they living? What are they doing? What are the women graduates' married names?

"This is the type of information the alumni association seeks," Gerald Desmond, president, said.

"We have records on many of the former students, but the information has not been obtained on thousands of others."

Russell R. Johnston, dean of the college, urged former students to contact the alumni association with news of where they are.

Communications should be addressed to the City College Alumni Association, Long Beach City College, 4901 E. Carson St., Long Beach 8, California.

"The association would like to obtain the full name (the maiden name too of married women), address, telephone number and graduating class or last year of attendance."

"This year the college is celebrating its 25th birthday," Dean Johnston said. "We would like to send each alumnus a pamphlet showing the growth of the college since it opened in 1927."

"We also plan to send them news-letters dealing with college doings, plans, trends and gossip. It won't be elaborate, but we want our friends to know what is going on."

New Techniques in Heart Cases To Be Discussed

Latest developments in the treatment of heart disease will be discussed by specialists in a symposium to be sponsored by the Long Beach Heart Association at 8 p. m. Jan. 21, in Poly High School auditorium.

Preceding the program, medical equipment used in the discovery of heart disease and its treatment, will be on display. Doctors, nurses and technicians will be on hand to explain and demonstrate the equipment from 6 p. m. until 7:45 p. m.

Dr. Francis Chamberlain, one of the west's leading heart specialists, will be principal speaker. A panel of local doctors, with Dr. Joe Walker as moderator, will answer written questions.

Appearing on the panel will be Dr. Elliston Farrell, Dr. Thomas H. Brem, Dr. Donald E. Root, Dr. Fred Clark, Dr. Joseph Reed, Dr. Raymond Swinney, Dr. Richard Johnson and Dr. Chamberlain.

Turn-away crowds were attracted by the first heard symposium held last year and it is hoped that the larger auditorium at Poly High School will accommodate all who wish to attend. Admission is free.

Why Boys Leave School?

ST. LOUIS—(WNN). Boys are being started in school too early, and that is why there is a problem of higher incidence of boys dropping out of high schools all over the country than of girls, noted Dr. Frank R. Pauly in an address here.

Based on continued research, it can be stated that the learning ability of boys is considerably less than that of girls all through school until the first year of college, said the research director of the Tulsa, Okla. Board of Education.

It is as a result of increasing discouragement about the educational pace largely set by mentally advanced girls that so many boys don't go through high school, Dr. Pauly indicated.

"If these boys had started school about six months or so later in the first place, there would have been less drop-outs for poor school work," he said.

As an alternative to admitting boys later, Dr. Pauly suggested that "girls might be admitted earlier where age is the determining factor if boys are to go through school on a comparable basis with the girls. There will probably be less importance, but also be less mental hygiene problem if boys are admitted later, reasons for parents' teachers or suiting savings may be used to school administrators if a different excellent advantage in additional mental age is established. It is school supplies or more teachers."

Heads Up! Towler's on the Loose

NATIONAL CONFERENCE FULLBACK Deacon Dan Towler found running room on this end sweep in second quarter action of Pro Bowl in Coliseum Saturday, turning the right corner for fourteen yards.

Pin-Point Passing By Van Brocklin Dumps Americans

By DAVE LEWIS
Executive Sports Editor

LOS ANGELES COLISEUM—Pin-point passing by the Rams' great "whip," Norm Van Brocklin; sensational receiving by the fabulous Elroy (Crazy Legs) Hirsch; Hugh McElhenny of the 49ers and Green Bay's Bill Howton; the tremendous defensive play by both the line and secondary, and finally the unerring kicking toe of Detroit's Pat Harder gave the National Conference All-Stars a 27-7 victory over the American All-Stars in the NFL's annual Pro Bowl classic here Saturday before 34,208 fans.

The American All-Stars from the six clubs in the Eastern half of the NFL were never in the game after the West's National All-Stars rocketed into a 14-0 lead in the first 11 minutes of play and were never seriously threatened.

It wasn't until late in the third quarter after the Nationals had moved out to a commanding 17-0 advantage that the Americans finally cracked the score ice... although three times in the first half coach Paul Brown's crew had shots at the National goal but were hurled back by the unyielding defensive alignment designed by coach Buddy Parker.

LISLESS SIDE

Although there were bits of spectacular action all through the contest, the game actually was on the dull and listless side in the overall picture.

The summer weather—the mercury soared to 90 degrees on the field—combined with the soft footing caused by recent rains had much to do with the slow action during most of the game.

Scoring heroes were Van Brocklin, who pitched two touchdown passes; McElhenny, who grabbed two aeriels for TD's; Howton, who made an unbelievable catch of one of Van Brocklin's throws to complete a 74-yard scoring strike; and Harder, the veteran Detroit Lion star who accounted for nine points with two field goals and three conversions.

The Americans were presented with the first scoring opportunity on the third play of the game when Len Ford recovered Bobby Layne's fumble... but three plays later, three yards and Lou Groza finally attempted a field goal from the 43 that was just about 18 inches too short.

Moments later the Nationals closed in for their first score when Leo Nomellini of the 49ers recovered Otto Graham's fumble on the American 25.

TOWLER CONNECTS

Five plays later, Deacon Dan Towler of the Rams started out on a wide sweep around right end, then suddenly stopped and pitched a "blooper" pass to Hugh McElhenny on the goal line for the TD at 8:26 of the initial stanza. The first of three conversions by Harder made it 7-0.

The Nationals lengthened their lead to 14-0 two minutes later on a spectacular 74-yard aerial strike from Van Brocklin to the Green Bay Packers' great end Elroy Hirsch.

Backed up on their own 26 following Horace Gillom's tremendous kick that netted 54 yards... the Nationals needed only one play to get the touchdown.

It was the first play of the game for Van Brocklin and he (Continued on Page C-3, Col. 8)

Clements Appointed Star Farm Director

HOLLYWOOD—(UP). Robert C. Clements, former West Coast farm director for the Pittsburgh Pirates, Saturday was named farm club director for the Hollywood Stars of the Pacific Coast League.

New Star scouts are Donald A. Lindeberg, formerly with the Pirates; Edward A. Barberis of Seattle; Robert M. Fontaine, San Jose, Calif.; and E. T. (Hap) Minor, Burbank, Calif.

Rematch Today Sedgman Humiliated by Kramer

NEW YORK—(UP). Jack Kramer, the king of the touring tennis pros, humiliated Australian star Frank Sedgman, 6-1, 6-2 Saturday in a 36-minute match which launched a two-day stand in Madison Square Garden. This put Kramer ahead, 2-1, in their series.

Pancho Segura of Ecuador scored his third consecutive straight-set victory over Aussie Ken McGregor in the opening match, 6-4, 6-3. With a disappointing crowd of 10,000 watching, Segura toyed and even joshed with McGregor throughout the brief match.

Segura used plenty of soft stuff to beat McGregor but Kramer humiliated Sedgman in a tussle between the two foremost exponents of the American-style "big game."

Sedgman was so incensed at his own poor performance that he asked for a schedule change today. He was supposed to play Segura the second day, but demanded the right to play Kramer again so he could "show my New York fans I can do better." His wish was granted, so he'll play Kramer and Segura will play McGregor.

After running off the first set in seven games, Kramer quickly took a 4-0 lead in the second set. Then Sedgman rallied briefly when he held his serve for the first time in the second set in the fifth game.

But Kramer took the next game to make it 5-1. Sedgman then held his service again to win the seventh game after it went to deuce. He held valiantly in the seventh and final game, but Kramer finished off the match after it went to deuce twice.

Kramer and Segura completed a sweep of easy, straight-set triumphs by whipping the young Aussies, 6-4, 6-2, in doubles.

Badger Coaches Get Pay Boost

MADISON, Wis.—University of Wisconsin football coaches were voted salary increases by the board of regents Saturday. The boosts were recommended prior to Wisconsin's selection to play in the Rose Bowl.

Head Coach Ivan E. Williamson will get $14,600, an increase of $600 a year. His five aides each got $300. The hikes were effective as of Jan. 1, 1953.

Assistants and their new salaries include Milton Bruhn, $9700 and George Lanphear, Fred E. Marsip, Robert Odell and Paul Shaw, $8700 each.

Blue Reading Wins Victor by Nose in 'Catalina'

By ROY BETZ

Blue Reading and Stranglehold staged a sensational head-and-head duel down the stretch Saturday with Blue Reading emerging the victor by a nose in the $30,100 Santa Catalina Stakes for California-foaled horses at Santa Anita.

Blue Reading and Stranglehold lagged far in the rear of the 14-horse field until the final turn of the mile and a sixteenth feature, and they made their moves at the same time. But Blue Reading, who three years ago staged a series of memorable duels with the great speedster Your Host, ultimately won out.

Public Trainer R. H. McDaniell saddled the win-place horses as well as Horsetrader-Ed and Stormy Cloud—a four-horse entry.

Trusting, a younger brother of the retired On Trust, got up for third while Gold Land, who had set the pace, fell back to fourth. Blue Reading's time was 1:43 4/5. The McDaniell-trained entry paid $5.50, 4.10 and $2.40 across the board while Trusting returned $3.10 for show.

Although the horses ran as an entry, Jockey Bill Pearson on Blue Reading and Eddie Arcaro on Stranglehold fought it out to the wire because the winning owner's share was $17,750 while second money dropped to $5000.

Blue Reading is owned by Clement L. Hirsch of Los Angeles who claimed him as a 2-year-old at Del Mar for $6500. Stranglehold is owned by Mr. and Mrs. N. G. Phillips of Oakland.

Gold Land, with Nick Wall up, tried to steal the race by going out on the pace, and for a mile they withstood the successive challenges of Patronage, Horsetrader-Ed, Trusting and Gold Capitol. But when the real racing began, it was all Blue Reading and Stranglehold in a driving finish.

In the secondary feature, the $2,500 Santa Maria Handicap for fillies and mares, Spanish Cream raced to her second stakes win of the meeting, having cap-

NCAA Boosts Police Force

WASHINGTON—(UP). The National Collegiate Athletic Association gave its executive council the power to punish members as it ended its 47th annual convention Saturday with a strong step forward in the business of policing college athletics.

Up to now, only a vote of the full convention could pass any effective punishment. The executive council had the authority to recommend punishment, but it couldn't enforce any.

North Carolina Bids for Purdue Football Mentor

CLEVELAND—(UP). Stu Holcomb, head football coach at Purdue University, has been offered the job at North Carolina vacated by Carl Snavely, the Cleveland Press reported Saturday.

Jack Clowser, press sports writer, said he had learned of the offer while attending the National Collegiate Athletic Association and Football Coaches' Association conventions in Washington. He said Holcomb met with Tarheel officials Friday.

Clowser wrote that Holcomb only had to say "yes" to clinch the job, but that the coach of last year's Big Ten co-champions would probably study the offer thoroughly before replying.

Genuine Surprise First National TD Unrehearsed

LOS ANGELES COLISEUM—The pass that accounted for the first touchdown in Saturday's Pro Bowl classic and started the National Conference All-Stars on their way to a 27-7 triumph over the American Conference All-Stars was completely unrehearsed, and the recipient of the scoring bomb, Hugh McElhenny, wasn't expecting it.

Well, Well It Runs Dry

STEPHENS, Ark.—(UP). Dick Burnett, millionaire Dallas, Texas, oilman, and 14 major league baseball managers, are betting $50 in their oil well drilling activities in this area.

The Casey Stengel No. 1 was brought in near Magnolia, Ark., last month, but this week Burnett and the managers hit a dry hole. It was the Thomas No. 1 in Columbia County. The test was abandoned.

Burnett let the managers in on the deal, with the baseball men putting up an original $8000, then prorating 50 per cent of drilling costs among them.

New Pact Raise for Price

AUSTIN, Texas—(UP). Ed Price Saturday was awarded a new five-year contract as head football coach at the University of Texas, the Southeast Conference champion in the 1952 season.

Regents of the University of Texas approved the new contract, calling for a $500 a year boost in salary to $12,500 on recommendation of the school's athletic council.

Price guided Texas through its last season with an undefeated conference record, and a Cotton Bowl victory. New Year's Day over Tennessee.

Rose Bowl Renewal Set

WASHINGTON—(UP). Victor Schmidt, commissioner of the Pacific Coast Conference, announced Saturday that a formal invitation would be sent immediately to the Big Ten Conference for a three-year renewal of the Rose Bowl contract.

Big Ten acceptance is regarded as a certainty.

Schmidt said that while the Pacific Coast had already agreed on a contract renewal it had decided to postpone action until after the National Collegiate Athletic Association NCAA convention where a number of bowl problems were pending.

The convention, however, voted that the bowl games should be continued on the same basis as in the recent past with certain regulations.

"We were just waiting to see what the convention would do," Schmidt said.

Rio Grande Ace Scores 63 Points

PAINTSVILLE, Ky.—(UP). Rio Grande of Ohio scored its 19th straight basketball win of the season in defeating Mao State 119-91 here Saturday night.

The Ohio cagers were sparked by tall lanky center Clarence (Bevo) Francis, who scored 63 points to bring his total to 968 this season for an average of 53.3 points. Francis scored a record 116 points Friday night.

Old Satchmo Inks Browns Pact

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—(UP). Shuffling Satchel Paige, who might be 45 and could be 50, signed his 1953 contract with the St. Louis Browns Sat. with a promise to "keep right on going until I'm 70."

The Negro hurler, who was denied a chance to bid for a place among the greatest major leaguers of all time because of racial barriers, paid a personal visit to Brownie Boss Bill Veeck to come to terms.

Then he didn't even bother to look at the contract.

Paige knew, of course, that he was sure of being taken care of to the tune of at least $20,000 by Veeck.

Now How Did This Happen?

Reaching for Nothing

BOBBY LAYNE'S 40-yard aerial intended for Elroy Hirsch (40) of National Conference eluded Hirsch and two American Conference defenders, Emlen Tunnel (25) and Harry Gilmer, in first half of Pro Bowl game Saturday. Note arrow pointing to ball.

Interception Stops Threat

RAMS' TANK YOUNGER leaps high to intercept Otto Graham's pass in the end zone to stop a second quarter American Conference threat in Saturday's Pro Bowl game. Graham pitched from the National's 14 yard line. Standing by are Bob Smith (7), National Conference, and Hugh Taylor (80), American Conference.

Nationals Roll, 27-7 In Pro Bowl

caught the Americans by surprise. Behind exceptional protection, Van Brocklin coolly waited for Howton to get in position on the "swing pass," then at the very last second came crashing through his cordon of blockers the Ram "whip" unleashed a tremendous aerial that sailed 52 yards in the air to Howton, who made a magnificent fingertip catch of the ball a step behind the New York Giants' great defensive back, Emlen Tunnel.

Tunnel made a desperate lunging tackle to bring down Howton, but was left sprawling on the turf clutching the air as the Green Bay end out-jockeyed him in the dash for the goal line.

The Americans came roaring back after the kickoff and stormed their way 71 yards to the Nationals' 10 on the strength of a 44-yard pass from Graham to his Cleveland teammate, Gilman, on the 11... but an offside penalty and a fumble by Ollie Matson that resulted in a 15-yard loss slowed the advance and a four-down pass from the 13 into the end zone was knocked down.

THREAT ENDED
Again midway in the second quarter the Americans were in scoring position after Tunnel recovered McElhenny's fumble on the National 17, but big Tank Younger of the Rams ended the threat by intercepting Graham's pass in the end zone.

The Nationals marched 42 yards to the American 14 at 11:15 of the third period to set the stage for the first of Harder's two field goals—a 23-yarder.

The American took the kickoff and moved 82 yards in 15 tries for their lone tally... scored by Graham on a "sneak" from the 1-yard line at 4:45 of the final period. Groza added the extra point.

With Bobby Layne firing passes to Cloyce Box, Towler and Hirsch... the Nationals came right back with a 64-yard surge to the American 13 in 12 plays to get in position for a 21-yard field goal by Harder, which made the score 20-7.

There were only three minutes left to play when the Chicago Bears' Gene Schroeder intercepted Graham's desperation pass on the American 35 and returned 20 yards to the 15.

Van Brocklin hit McElhenny in the end zone from seven yards out for the final touchdown with only 1:55 left on the clock.

Doll Selected Most Valuable

LOS ANGELES COLISEUM—Don Doll, former University of Southern California ace and a four-year pro veteran with the Detroit Lions, was named the outstanding player in Saturday's Pro Bowl classic.

Doll, one of the outstanding defensive backs in pro football, was an important factor in the National Conference All-Stars' 27-7 victory over the American Conference All-Stars.

He made several spectacular "saves" from his defensive half-back post and was particularly impressive in covering the Americans' pass receivers.

Doll won the honor by the slim margin of one vote over his teammate for the day, Norm Van Brocklin of the Rams, who passed for two National touchdowns.

Landquist Runs 2nd to Dwyer

WASHINGTON—(AP) Fred Dwyer of Villanova beat Stur Landquist of Sweden by four yards Saturday night in the featured mile race in the Washington Evening Star games.

Dwyer jumped in front at the start, and there he stayed except for the next to the last lap, when Landquist took over.

But Dwyer moved right back, got four yards in front and Landquist couldn't close the gap. The time was slow, 4:19.4.

The boys were taking it easy from the start, as the unofficial times read 65 seconds for the first quarter and 2:12 for the half mile.

Landquist now attends Oklahoma A. & M.

Bob McMillen, U. S. Olympic star who was supposed to make a big splash in the mile this winter, was badly out of shape. He was timed unofficially in 4:35.2 and had to hurry to keep from finishing sixth and last.

BRAGG WINS

Art Bragg of Morgan State once again proved his consistency in the dash. The Star games have an unusual sprint series in which the 70, 80 and 100-yard dashes are all run.

Bragg won them all last year, and won them all again Saturday night.

His 7.1 seconds in the 70-yard dash tied a record that he and Henry Thresher, then of Mercersburg Academy, set here in 1951.

And his 9.8 seconds in the 100 tied the meet record jointly held by three dash men: Joe Ciandella of Manhattan, James Fielding of Georgetown, and MacDonald Bailey of Great Britain.

Just to make the monopoly complete, Bragg is a co-holder of the 80-yard dash mark here, too, even though he failed to equal it Saturday night.

Walt Davis, U. S. Olympic high jump champion, hurt an ankle as he was making his first try at 6 feet, 7 inches, the record here. He was hustled to a dressing room, and X-rays will be taken to see if he suffered a fracture.

HIGH JUMP TIE

Davis and Klu Wiesener, who was second in the Olympics, wound up in a tie for first at 6 feet 6.

Lee Calhoun, a husky Negro from Gary, Ind., who attends North Carolina College, ran away with the 70-yard high hurdles.

He started out by winning his heat—there were three eliminations—in the best time, 8.6 seconds. And he proved it was no fluke by capturing the finals, in 8.5 seconds.

A yard behind was Milton Campbell of Plainfield, N. J., high school, decathlon runnerup in last summer's Olympics.

The meet here is run on a flat track, with no curb, and the runners wear no spikes. The armory where the meet is held is so large that the 100-yard dash is on a straightaway.

First Touchdown

HUGH McELHENNY, 49ers halfback, scores first touchdown for National Conference in first quarter. McElhenny took a 13-yard pass from Deacon Dan Towler in the corner of the end zone. Elroy Hirsch (40) stands by.

'Surprise' TD Play

any outstanding players on his own team. "It wouldn't be the right thing to do. Everyone played a great game. However, I know guys on the other side who gave us the most trouble. It was those two from Cleveland... Bill Willis and Len Ford."

Parker went on to say he thought the game might even have been more one-sided on a firm field. "The slippery turf and soft footing caused by the recent rains hurt our pass receivers very much," he declared.

Meanwhile, Elroy Hirsch of the Rams, who played a sterling game for the winners, said he thought the outcome was going to be much closer... "but we got the breaks and capitalized on them."

Paul Brown, coach of the American squad, admitted he wasn't surprised at the outcome. "All you can do is play your best... but it just wasn't good enough."

"Their backfield speed and those three great ends were vital factors in the result," he added. Brown said he left his quarterback, Otto Graham, in for most of the game despite the booing both he and Otto were getting from the bleachers because he felt Graham had a better cadence and understanding of the Brown style of play.

Brown recalled that last year, in answer to the demands by the fans he sent in veteran Sammy Baugh, and Baugh proved ineffective during his short stay—fumbling several times.

Ashenfelter Records Metropolitan 'Double'

NEW YORK—(AP) Horace Ashenfelter, Olympic steeplechase champion, doubled up handily to win both the mile and three-mile races Saturday night in the Metropolitan AAU track and field meet.

St. John's Five, Manhattan Win

NEW YORK—(AP) St. John's of Brooklyn walloped Loyola of Chicago, 75-56, Saturday night in the second game of a college basketball doubleheader at Madison Square Garden after Manhattan College scored its seventh victory in eight starts by defeating St. Joseph's of Philadelphia, 71-55, in the opener.

Only 5621 fans turned out for the one-sided contests. Field goals by Jim McMorrow and Ed Cunningham and two free throws by Frank Giancontieri gave St. John's a 6-0 lead in the opening seconds and they never relinquished it.

Loyola did not score a field goal until center Dick Clark made one after six minutes of play. The Chicago team scored only four field goals in the first half.

opening event of the indoor season in New York.

Fred Wilt, favorite in the mile and three miles, stayed out of both when he showed up with a heavy chest cold. Wilt, an FBI agent like Ashenfelter, confined his efforts to the two mile relay, where he helped the NYAC take second.

Ashenfelter eased home with a 4:38.1 in the mile to beat Gordon McKenzie, Pioneer Club's internationalist, by 15 yards. About 90 minutes later Horace came back to walloped McKenzie again. This time he won by 70 yards as he ran three miles in 14:42.1. Fourth was Curt Stone, the national 5000 and 10,000-meter, titlist.

Sharing the spotlight with Ashenfelter was Reggie Pearman, national 800-meter king from the Pioneer Club, Pearman, who finished seventh in the Olympic 800, beat three men who won gold medals at Helsinki as he took the 600-yard run in a blistering 1:11.7.

Pearman outkicked Vern Dixon, Manhattan's IC4A titlist, in the final 220 yards to win by two yards. His clocking tied the meet record set by Jim Herbert in 1942. The Olympic winners who trailed were Herb McKenley, star of Jamaica's world championship 1600-meter team; Mal Whitfield, Olympic 800-meter record-holder, and George Rhoden, world's fastest 400-meter runner. They finished in that order in third, fourth and fifth.

Handball Title to Schneller, Cullen

Bob Schneller and Bob Cullen of the Los Angeles Fire Department teamed to beat Andrew Blok and G. W. Bristol, also of the Fire Department, 21-19, 18-21 and 21-13 in the finals of the U. S. Handball Association Southern Pacific Junior Doubles sanctioned by the AAU at the Pacific Coast Club Saturday.

Important Meeting

Broncs 'Not Dead' Yet

LOS ANGELES—(AP) A group seeking to keep Santa Clara from going through with announced plans to abandon collegiate football competition said Saturday it had hopes the sport would be played in 1953.

Attorney A. V. (Fred) Falcone, father of a Santa Clara football player, said he would meet with Bronco alumni in San Jose, Calif., on Jan. 17 to discuss the problem.

"An abbreviated schedule is far better than none," said Falcone. "In our recent meeting with Rev. Herman J. Hauck, president of Santa Clara, we were assured that football wasn't being abandoned. It was only being suspended until such time as it was expedient to resume."

Falcone said he was sure football would be played by the Broncos in 1953 if "next Saturday's joint meeting of Santa Clara boosters receives the support last has been indicated this week."

In This Corner

Two wire stories carried in the public prints last week made this little pillar glow with a certain amount of pride and satisfaction. They indirectly justified claims made here a couple of weeks ago.

On Saturday, Dec. 20, it was contended among these paragraphs that Bob Mathias, Stanford's great decathlon king and erstwhile fullback, was the leading amateur athlete (male) of 1952 and deserved This Corner's vote in the annual Associated Press Poll.

The Dec. 20 piece made out a strong case for Emil Zatopek, the amazing Czechoslovakian distance runner who won three gold medals in the 5000 and 10,000 meter runs and the marathon in the Helsinki Olympiad, setting new records en route.

Then his case was tossed out of court, with no right to appeal, because he indulged in quite a filing at international politics while at Helsinki. Main point in the argument was that he may have been the best competitor, but that he certainly wasn't the finest athlete. This title was reserved for Mathias, whose personal conduct had been above reproach. He had not preached any political gospel on the field of athletics, merely doing the chore of retaining his Olympic decathlon championship with a new world record performance.

Since then you have read that the AP's poll picked him in the No. 1 spot, with Rocky Marciano second and Zatopek third.

Accordingly, we felt vindicated.

STILL ANOTHER development, however, was destined to clinch the old glow. Out of Oslo, Norway, came an AP dispatch listing the Rev. Bob Richards, America's premier pole vaulter, as the leading nomination for the "sports peace prize" of 1952. The Oslo Dagbladet was doing the nominating.

Richards won his specialty at Helsinki, but on this side of the pond drew criticism for his friendly approach to all athletes from all corners of the globe. He treated athletes from behind the iron curtain the same friendly way that he treated those of democratic countries.

At no time, however, did he expound any political creed. His was a message of human relationship, nothing more.

The same Oslo story placed emphasis on the one fact that Zatopek, carrying the torch of Communism, was ranked last in the nominations because of his repeated pro-Soviet rantings and anti-American utterings.

Sometimes it is the wiser to listen. Vindication!

BALTIMORE'S ORIOLES of the International League will be glad to hear that Jack Graham, whom they obtained from the San Diego Padres, is clouting the ball to a fair tee well for Ciudad Obregon in the Mexican League.

At the last count, Jack was leading the circuit with a .426 average, spraying his blasts all over the field for many, many extra bases. He's seeing service at both first base and in the outfield.

He is expected home around the first of February, after which he will prepare to report to the Orioles at their spring training camp in Florida.

SOMETHING'S AMISS! Jim Doran, defensive end picked by the Detroit Lions as their own most valuable player over and above Bobby Lane, Pat Harder, Les Bingaman and other outstanding performers, received nothing more than honorable mention in the AP's All-Pro selections for 1952. What's more, he wasn't picked to play in the Pro Bowl Game.

Another injustice noted was the failure to mention Tank Younger at all. Tank proved to be equally outstanding for the Rams, on defense or offense. He was one of the most important cogs in the machine. Hamp Pool would be the first to say so, too.

AT LAST REPORTS. Gene Baker, Los Angeles Angel shortstop going up with the Chicago Cubs this spring, was clubbing the ball at a .329 pace in the Puerto Rico League for San Juan. He was only seven points out of first place.

Carlos Bernier, the Hollywood flash, was hitting .268 for Mayaguez, considerably below his work in the PCL last year. He was tied with Luis Marquez of the Boston Braves for the base-stealing laurels, each with a dozen.

49ers Whip Westmont '5'

Long Beach State College turned in a 69-65 victory over Westmont Saturday night in a non-league basketball game played in the local Armory.

It was a see-saw battle all the way as the two teams traded bucket for bucket.

The first period ended in an 18-18 tie, the 49ers moving to a 32-30 advantage at intermission. Westmont came out on top, 51-50, at the end of three quarters, then staged a rally that pulled them nine points ahead in the early minutes of the final quarter.

Long Beach came back to tie it up, then won on a pair of free throws by Mel Sommar, all in the last minute. Summary:

ODD STATISTICS SAY KINER READY

By MILTON RICHMAN
NEW YORK—(AP) Ralph Kiner should be a strong bet to rebound this season and have an outstanding year at bat with the Pirates, some startling zigzag statistics on his seven-year career in the majors reveal.

Dave Grote, head of the National League Service Bureau, who is here to make arrangements for next month's major league meetings, revealed the league figures on Kiner which find him doing a much better all-around job on hitting in even-numbered years than in odd years.

Last year, handicapped by a back injury, Kiner's average dipped to .244, the lowest of his career, and he hit only 37 homers, lowest since he broke into the majors with 23 during his rookie year of 1946.

Kiner's difficulties were only comparative, however, since he still managed to tie for the home run lead with Hank Sauer of the Cubs, giving him an all-time National League mark for setting the home run pace seven years in a row. He surpassed the previous mark which he had shared with Mel Ott of the Giants and Gabby Cravath of the Phils.

NCAA Considers Platoons, 'Shift'

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. — (AP) Two favorite subjects of football conversation—the "sucker shift" and the two-platoon system—will be pondered by the powerful NCAA football rules committee at a three-day session starting here Monday.

It's a good bet that when the conference winds up Wednesday, the free substitution rule will be unchanged and there still will be a "sucker shift."

Fritz Crisler, Michigan athletic director who heads the rules committee, reported to the NCAA convention in Washington this week that member institutions voted four to one in a poll in favor of keeping the two-platoon system.

In a move intended to discourage the "sucker shift," which has been criticized as a maneuver designed deliberately to draw the opposition offside, college football coaches asked the rules committee to make it illegal for a lineman to stand up or move laterally after assuming his stance.

This proposal, in the opinion of many coaches, will not end the "sucker shift" because it does nothing to limit the maneuvers of the backfield.

"Instead of first throwing our Notre Dame's coach, Frank Leahy, accused of using an unethical shift against Southern California and Oklahoma to draw valuable five-yard penalties in scoring territory, said the proposed rules change would alter this sight on the fairway—a golf ball lodged high in a tree.

Course Manager Buck Julich has offered a new ball to the player who can identify the ball as his.

L. B. Relays Set March 14

Annual Long Beach Relays, first major outdoor track and field meet each year, has been scheduled for the Veterans Memorial Stadium here Saturday, April 14. It was announced by meet manager Rod Ballard here Saturday night.

Indications are that the classic will be bigger than ever, in view of the fact that a return of a full-scale high school program and the rescheduling of the previous Orange Show meet at Riverside, which has taken most of the Junior Colleges, will bring the Jaycees back into the field.

Initial meeting of the sponsoring groups, the Recreation Commission and the Junior Chamber of Commerce, will be held at the Wilton Hotel coffee room at noon Monday, at which time many of the meet policies will be settled.

YMCA Dees Triumph; Cees Nosed Out, 42-41

Long Beach YMCA Class Cee and Dee teams split games with Santa Monica "Y" quintets Saturday. Frank Holland's Dees scored a 37-24 win in the opener, while "Shorty" Kellogg's Cees were nosed out 42-41 by a last second goal in the nightcap.

MORRISON ON GOLF Strike Toward Heel

By ALEX J. MORRISON
Author of "A New Way to Better Golf," Teacher of Champions

"HAVING DONE considerable teaching," said Frederick M. Reeder, rear admiral, U. S. Navy (ret.), "I know that only a certain amount of your instructions can be absorbed in a single session. The pupil is like a glass that will hold only so much water."

Once filled it cannot take any more. This observation showed the admiral's appreciation for the golf instructor's problems, but I didn't accept it as a true measure of limitations for him or any other pupil. I have found that performances go according to the attention given to the job at hand by the pupil, also the worth of the teacher's instructions.

One item brought out in my sessions with the admiral should fit easily, along with the bartender's thumb, in the smallest flogger.

It has to do with that part of the clubface affording the best results when striking the ball. It is the area toward the shaft representing about one-fourth of the whole clubface. Where the clubface is scored with horizontal lines the area would be that part, amounting to approximately one-half of the lined portion, nearest the neck of the clubhead.

THE SOLIDNESS of this area can be observed simply by holding any clubface in a horizontal position so that a ball can be bounced on the various portions of it. As the shaft is bounced nearer to the clubhead you will feel a decidedly more solid contact. This is what happens when your clubhead strikes the ball in making a shot. When the ball bounces near the toe of the clubface a lighter contact can be felt.

Having brought this item to the pupil's attention through telling and showing its practicability and decided advantages, you would think that he would forevermore make it a part of his regular performance.

I've yet to meet one that has and this covers thousands of players from duffers to champions. Would you call it an inconsistency on the part of the player or the game?

GOMER SIMS
March of Dimes Golf

Challenge Go On Bowl Mat

Jerry and Vic Christy, favorite grapplers of the wrestling Christy clan, won't be looking through "rose-colored" glasses Tuesday night at Wilmington Bowl, but chances are they'll be "seeing red" when they square off against ruffians Kripipler Karl Davis and Zebra Kid for their "challenge" tag team battle.

The two Christy lads this past week went a bit berserk when young Jerry wound up even Stephen in his "Wrestling Jackpot" clash with Zebra and the latter took a punch at him after the final bell.

Vic, watching the action, took a hand in it. Later the pair challenged Zebra and the latter's team partner, Davis, to a match. Promoter Ernie Steffen also has Dr. Lee Grable, the widely known hypnotist-wrestler meeting tough Tony Morelli in the three fall semi-final and Par Mehan, Australia's heavyweight title claimant, taking on Vic Holbrook.

SHORT, PUTTS Meadowlark to Host March of Dimes Golf

By BOB HALL
One of golf's major PRO-motions, a "March of Dimes" sweepstakes, gets its Long Beach area sendoff at Meadowlark next weekend when owner-manager Gomer Sims plays host to club members and guests.

Total entry fees in the tournament, a weekend low net and low gross sweepstakes, will be given to the polo fund—and as in the past, several hundred dollars are expected to be raised.

Other courses in the local vicinity likely will follow during the next few weeks with similar events.

Meadowlark men's club committees have raised oodles of prizes for the "March of Dimes" winners, thus enabling the tournament committee to more than repay those "in the money" for their entry.

Most golf courses throughout the nation join in the "March of Dimes" sweepstakes plan, but annually, it seems, Gomer Sims and his Meadowlark gang steal a march on the rest of the boys with the first real shove in Southern California each year.

PICKING UP DIVOTS — Virginia CC is assembling its tournament manpower for the annual SGA interclub team matches, which will begin Jan. 18.

Annual installation meeting of the Southern California Public Relations Association will be held at Recreation Park Wednesday evening, with a general sweepstakes for all golfers during the afternoon.

The 1953 tournament schedule will be planned during the evening's business session.

Singers' Workshop Announces Show, 'Music in the Air'

"Music in the Air," Jerome Kern-Oscar Hammerstein musical hit, has been selected by the Singers' Workshop for its next production in Municipal Auditorium April 17, 18 and 19, as announced by director Henri Scammon.

Story setting is modern Vienna, with costumes and music bright and gay and dialogue ultra modern. A 12-piece orchestra will accompany. The cast will include 42 principals, 16 dancers and a chorus of 60 voices. Workshop members are now being auditioned for leading roles and rehearsals are in progress. Musical director is Blaine Ellefson.

Ballet Theatre to Perform Here One Night Only

On its 14th annual nation-wide tour following a fall season in New York, Ballet Theatre will play one night only at Poly High School Auditorium at 8:30 p. m. Wednesday, Feb. 18.

Ballet for Americans is the dance company's by-word, and the troupe has, during 13 consecutive seasons, advanced far toward its goal of establishing a company American in character but international in scope.

A repertoire selected from 25 great ballets will be given, with lead dancers Igor Youskevitch, Alicia Alonso, John Kriza and Mary Ellen Moylan.

Featured members of the company include Genze de Lappe, Paula Lloyd, Ruth Ann Koesun, Eric Braun, Lillian Lanese, Michael Lland and Royce Fernandez, and, newly returned to the company, Anna Cheselka.

With its corps de ballet symphony orchestra and technical staff, Ballet Theatre's company numbers 100. Joseph Levine is conductor, Dimitri Romanoff is regisseur, and Edward Caton is ballet master.

Sonny Returns With New Look, British Accent

By ALINE MOSBY

HOLLYWOOD — (UP). Sonny Tufts, that former "bad boy" of Hollywood, came back to Hollywood today as a dignified actor of high-brow English movies—and he hopes to disprove that famed gag about himself.

Tufts formerly was regarded as a handsome party boy who starred in cut-ups behind the camera and flimsy movies in front of the lens.

He was even more renowned as the star of a legend about his acting ability that's one of the all-time classics in show business circles.

Even Sonny likes to tell the story on himself.

"It was at the tail end of a Lux radio program years ago," he said. "Joseph Cotton, one of the guest stars, was handed a slip of paper telling about next week's show. He hadn't seen it before, and as time was running out, he had to read it in a hurry."

"Cotton read, 'And for next week's show, Lux will present that up-and-coming star, one of the foremost dramatic actors in America—'

"And then he gulped in surprise and cried, 'Sonny Tufts?'"

Since then, Tufts' name always has been said with a rising inflection.

"I don't mind the story," grinned the blonde actor. "It was the best publicity in the world. And besides, that build-up was something that would fit only Laurence Olivier or Jose Ferrer."

"The gag is understandable because I'd had a string of bad pictures at Paramount. My first movie, 'So Proudly We Hail,' landed me first on the fan magazine popularity lists. So the studio figured anything I'd do would make money, and some of the roles were awful."

When his contract ended, Tufts received an offer to portray an American GI in one of those fine, dignified English war movies, 'The Gift of Time.' He also got rave notices when he toured the British Isles in a play.

Tufts returned triumphantly to movietown to co-star in Stone Canyon Productions' 'Run for the Hills' with another player making a fresh start, Barbara Payton.

Sonny came back with a few character lines in his face and a British accent, and he hasn't even stepped out to the local nightclubs.

"I feel that English picture showed what I can do as an actor," said Sonny Tufts.

Stars in Musical Hit

HIGH-FALLUTIN featured performer in the fabulous 'Oklahoma', musical, is Jerry Mann. The show is on the road again and will be at Municipal Auditorium next Friday and Saturday evenings.

Road Troupe of 'Oklahoma' Here Friday

Now beginning its ninth consecutive season of touring, the Theater Guild's National Company of "Oklahoma!" will come to Long Beach for two performances, on Friday and Saturday evenings, at Municipal Auditorium.

The fabulous musical has achieved a road record far surpassing that of any other stage attraction. It opened in New Haven Oct. 14, 1943, six and one-half months after the parent company flashed upon New York at the St. James Theater and has gone along through the years with but two slight interruptions.

While the New York company was setting a new world record for a musical in the city—five years and two months and 2248 performances—the National Company was making an even more imposing one for the "road"—five years and eight months and 2486 consecutive performances.

"Oklahoma!" first breathing spell came at the end of a sold-out one-week engagement in the huge Warner Brothers' Theater on the Boardwalk in Atlantic City on June 11, 1949. This layoff continued until the last week in August of that year when the tour was resumed in Montreal.

During its travels the National Company of "Oklahoma!" has visited 114 cities from Boston to Los Angeles and Vancouver to New Orleans, appearing before approximately 7,000,000 persons to receipts totalling $12,000,000, not including admission taxes, covering more than 60,000 miles by train, and playing not only in theaters of ordinary size but also in great auditoriums.

We would like to discuss with a limited number of ambitious young people

The New Opportunities in Business for Stenotype Secretaries

BUSINESS today is brimming with opportunity. Not for casual, poorly qualified applicants. But for competent, fully trained and equipped young people who can "deliver the goods" as stenographic and secretarial experts—notchers, able to take the fastest dictation, despatch a large volume of work, and type quality transcripts busy executives ever have to correct.

The modern and superior machine way of taking dictation now puts that ability in reach of those who will inquire for details of our Stenotype Secretarial Training. Being a touch system of typing notes, Stenotype is surprisingly easy to learn, easy to write, and easy to read. Ten fingers and a keyboard replace 3 fingers and a pencil. You take dictation quietly, quickly and comfortably—without strain. You are startled by the difference. And delighted over the unusual stenographic skill you possess.

Come in and see for yourself—with a FREE demonstration, available any time you call. Stenotypists are today employed in thousands of U. S. Civil Service jobs and business offices; report nine out of ten national conventions; and record hundreds of courtroom proceedings. And every one is better paid because of superior ability.

So if you're really interested in today's unusual opportunities, write, phone or call at once, and let us discuss them with your future in mind.

Hoefly's Opens New Restaurant in Lakewood

Restaurant Has Old World and Modern Flavor

Famous among restaurant-goers in Southern California for over twenty-five years, Hoefly's Restaurant in Belmont Shore announces the opening of another restaurant designed to serve the fast-growing Lakewood area.

To be known as Hoefly's Lakewood, the new restaurant incorporates all of the former features that have made Hoefly's Belmont Shore one of the favorite dining out spots in the Southland.

Located on Lakewood Blvd. just north of Carson St., Hoefly's Lakewood occupies the building that formerly housed Striwig's... with major exterior and interior remodeling having taken place.

Following the decor that has typified the Hoefly's atmosphere for more than 25 years, the new restaurant is dedicated to serve the same high-quality food that has become associated with the name and fame of Hoefly's, according to the owners, Irving and Al Solomon.

"Hoefly's Lakewood will continue to serve the finest charcoal broiled steaks and prime ribs with special emphasis being placed on the preparation of sea food and poultry dishes."

Capturing the old-world atmosphere and placing it in a modern setting was no mean problem, according to Al Solomon, partner and manager of the new Hoefly's.

The outside of the new restaurant expresses the old world tavern look with its high peaked roof, leaded windows and red brick facings. Topped with a bright neon sign which proclaims "Hoefly's Lakewood," the building provides an attractive setting for the new venture.

The intricate inlaid work on the floor of the foyer faithfully reproduces the Hoefly's lantern signature in full color.

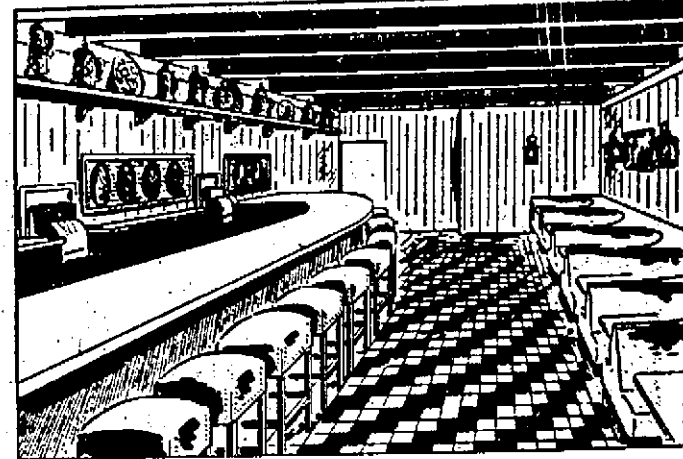

To your right is the entrance to the tap room... a long, cozy room which has a comfortable bar plus upholstered booths which line the wall. The back bar has the familiar barrels which have become so well known in a Hoefly's restaurant.

Ahead from the foyer is the main dining room with its leaded windows, beautiful draperies, hand rubbed walls, upholstered booths, intimate tables and old world bric-a-brac including fine paintings adorning the walls. A room may be separated from the rest of the restaurant and used for private parties or meetings. A new feature to Hoefly's patrons is the addition on the south side of the building... the Coffee Shop. Large, comfortable, bright, yet carrying on the Hoefly's traditional atmosphere, the new coffee shop serves the same food found in other parts of the restaurant.

NEW BUILDING ADDS ATMOSPHERE TO LAKEWOOD—This is the new Hoefly's Lakewood Restaurant which is holding its formal opening all next week, beginning Monday. Located at 4200 Lakewood Blvd. just north of Carson, the new restaurant adds a bit of old-world charm to the booming, modern beauty of Lakewood.

TAP ROOM HAS COZY CHARM—A long, cozy room with a comfortable bar plus upholstered booths along the wall, the Tap Room is attracting many new patrons. The back bar is decorated with the familiar barrels which have become so well known in a Hoefly's Restaurant.

Attorney Building Lavish Home

SOUTHERN COLONIAL home pictured in this architect's sketch by Hugh Gibbs, AIA, is being built for Mr. and Mrs. George P. Taubman Jr., 1429 La Perla Ave. in Los Altos Park Estates. The two-story residence also has a one-story servant's quarters, three-car garage and garden equipment room. It contains 6000 square feet in all at a cost in excess of $100,000. Dwelling is constructed of wood frame and brick veneer with wood siding and a wood shingle roof.

Walker & Lee Sales Reach $20,000,000

Walker & Lee, Inc., one of the oldest of the Long Beach realty firms, released sales figures this week for the past year which revealed that more than $20,000,000 in sales had been recorded. This figure is an all-time high for the sales organization which is headed by Robert K. Walker and DeWitt R. Lee. The firm has been operating in the Lakewood, Los Altos district since 1941. An amazing total of $20,603,054 in sales was recorded by the selling organization with new home sales accounting for $16,787,113 of that figure. The resale division of the firm also reached a new sales high with $2,460,468 as their share of the overall total business done by Walker & Lee during 1952. Affiliated companies, controlled by the Walker & Lee firm in the area, placed on the books transactions totaling $1,355,473. According to Frank Hart, sales manager for the firm, 1821 individual transactions were involved in reaching the grand total for 1952. Walker, president of the company, feels that this tremendous figure indicates that there is still an increasing trend by people toward the Lakewood and Los Altos districts. "There is every reason to believe that this trend will continue for sometime in the future and with the considerable number of homes planned by builders we represent, to meet this demand I think that next year's sales will be even greater," Walker stated. The Walker & Lee sales organization is composed of a highly trained staff of more than 25 sales specialists. The firm has shown a steady growth every year since they began operation in 1941, and additions to the staff are planned in the near future, it is reported. The main Walker & Lee office is located at the intersection of Carson St. and Bellflower Blvd. with branch offices situated in the various subdivisions they are handling in Lakewood and Los Altos.

Third Bonded Homes Unit Is 75 per Cent Sold Out

The increased sales tempo at Bonded Homes, East and La Palma Sts., just north of Center St., Anaheim, has brought a 75 per cent sellout of the new third unit of three-bedroom and two-bedroom with-den homes, it was announced yesterday.

C. Fred Smith and Arthur B. Weber, heads of Bonded Homes, Inc., who gave the report, credited the rising sales curve to the fact that immediate occupancy of the homes, all with two baths, is available to buyers. Sponsors said 35 families already have moved into the third unit and others will be arriving each week.

Priced from $13,550, the dwellings are available for as low as $1500 down on conventional financing in some cases. On FHA terms, down payments are from $2973, plus impounds. The architectural styles created by William M. Bray, A. I. A., are typical in furnished homes which continue on display every day from 10 a. m. to 8 p. m., it was noted. Each home has 1350 square feet of livable area, besides porches and garages, and each is quality-built. In features and location, the builders noted, the homes are rated equal in value to dwellings costing from $20,000 to $25,000. Features include forced-air heat, indoor planters, large sliding glass doors, wood-burning stoves, garbage disposals, luxurious wood-paneled living rooms, birch and knotty-pine kitchen cabinets and convenient center hall plans. Spacious living rooms face the rear concrete patios or porches through sliding glass doors. Streets are engineered to eliminate through traffic. Once an orange grove, the development maintains many trees intact on the sites. It may be reached most easily by going out Center St. to East St. and north to La Palma St.

Look-Alike Housing Is Out for '53

By NEWT TODD

Look-alike housing is out in the new design for home building in 1953.

A nation-wide merit award program initiated by the National Association of Home Builders to give special recognition to the American builders and builder-architect teams who have achieved the most original and outstanding designs for the home of '53 is now in full swing.

Sponsored by the design and construction committee of the NAHB, the program is intended to stimulate forward-looking ideas in the home building industry and speed the current shift away from "peas-in-the-pod" housing.

The competition, which is open to all builders and architects whether or not they are members of the NAHB, will bring outstanding designs to national attention and give the home buyer more livable, modern and spacious housing for his money.

To insure the widest possible coverage, awards will be presented for the best designs in three categories: (1) Houses of more than 1000 square feet; (2) Housing of 1000 square feet or less; and (3) Defense housing.

The first merit awards will be made by a panel of leading builders and architects at the NAHB annual convention in Chicago later this month.

The winning designs will be displayed at the NAHB Convention-Exposition and publicized throughout the country. The winners also will be titled to use the award certificates in their advertising campaigns.

FRANK MACILROY
To Address Office Managers

MacIlroy to Address Joint NOMA Meet

The Long Beach chapter of the National Office Management Association will hold its regular monthly meeting in the Lafayette Hotel Supper Room Tuesday at 6:15 p. m. It will be a joint meeting with the members of the National Secretaries Association.

Frank MacIlroy, Western Division manager for Soundscaper Corporation will give a talk on "Office Co-operation."

MacIlroy, a major in the Air Force Reserve, is a veteran of both World Wars I and II. He is nationally known in NOMA circles. During 1947-48, he served as national director of Area 11, and in 1951 was a national vice president of NOMA. For his activities in connection with office management work, he was awarded the National Office Management Association "Merit Award Key" in 1948.

Mrs. Lillian C. Steers, secretary to the service manager of Douglas Aircraft, will present a short history of the National Secretaries Association to the group.

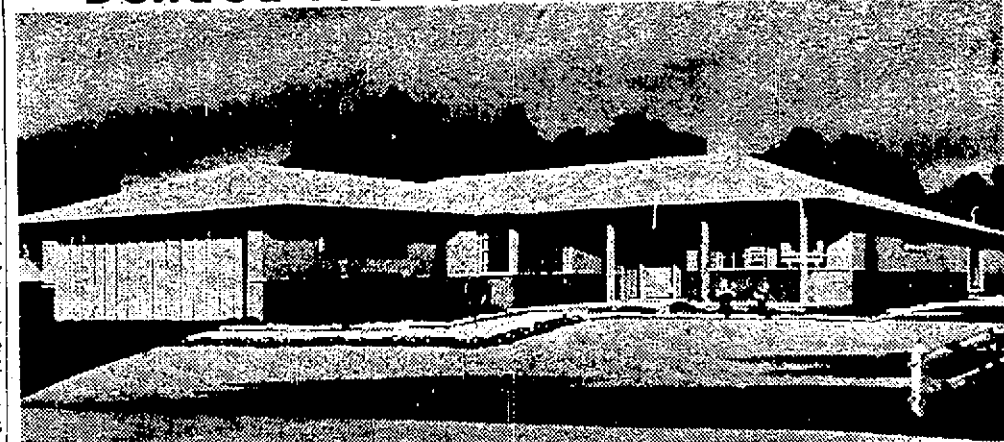

Barney Bailey, president of the Long Beach Chapter of NOMA, and Madeline Ferguson, secretary to Chief of Police William Dovey and president of the Long Beach Chapter of NSA, will preside at the meeting. Lloyd Stanley, vice president of the local chapter of NOMA will act as program chairman.

Best Year in the Company's History

The Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company has just chalked up the best year in its 107-year history, according to C. Carter Schneider, general agent for the company at Long Beach. A total of $272,006,699 new life insurance protection was paid for during 1952, an increase of $15,408,139 over 1951.

Life insurance protection in force in the Connecticut Mutual now totals approximately $2,445,000,000—a gain of $173,000,000 over the preceding year and the largest gain in company history.

Record Crowds View New Non-Vet FHA Unit

The "Non-Vet FHA Unit," currently being offered in Lakewood Plaza, is the most successful in that community's history. It was announced yesterday by officials of the Aldon Construction Co., the developers.

The new unit, consisting entirely of three-bedroom homes of Aldon "luxurized" construction, is situated north of Spring St., a half mile east of Bellflower Blvd., in the Lakewood district.

Sales were reportedly approaching the $2,500,000 mark as record crowds responded to Aldon's first offer of "luxurized" homes on equal terms for non-veterans and veterans in a special FHA program comparable with GI financing.

The homes, continuing the Aldon quality-construction, are priced at $9495 each. They are available for down payments of $1095, plus impounds, and monthly terms of $48.91 for principal, interest and FHA mortgage insurance.

Identical terms prevail for non-veterans, veterans and veterans who have used their GI benefits, and Korea veterans.

Eight furnished model homes, completely outfitted by the Aaron Schutts furniture stores of Long Beach, are on display every day from 10 a. m. to 8 p. m., daily and Sunday.

The "Non-Vet" unit program involves construction of 1500 homes to "put the non-vet into the home-buying picture," Aldon officials announced.

Philco Introduces New TV, Radio Receivers to Long Beach Dealers

Through the magic of a coast-to-coast "Closed Circuit" television broadcast, Philco Corp. recently dramatically introduced the new 1953 Philco television and radio receivers to Philco dealers of the Long Beach area at a meeting held at the Capitol Theater.

The Long Beach area dealers, who were guests of H. T. Waller, distributor, saw on Philco television screens a broadcast, originating from Philco headquarters in Philadelphia, the latest engineering achievement from the world's largest laboratories devoted exclusively to home television research, and the company that has enjoyed leadership in the radio industry for 22 straight years. Philco showed 37 television receivers and 22 radios in its 1953 line. Philco, last year, was the first company to use the "Closed Circuit" to inform its dealers simultaneously of its new merchandise.

High light of the new Philco television line is the Philco-developed 27-inch picture tube that is powered by the famous Golden Grid chassis. Once again introducing new electron-optic principles, Philco scientists have developed a giant tube, of 400 square inches, that achieves picture quality heretofore unattainable in this size. The new Philco 27-inch receiver will be offered in one model—a full-door, bowed-front mahogany console, complete with the Philco Golden Grid tuner, exclusive Philco all-channel UHF tuner and built-in directional and electronic UHF-VHF antenna.

Featured also is the Philco all-channel UHF tuner which will be available with all receivers. The Philco-developed all-channel UHF tuner will enable the owner to

Kendall to Be Seated by Realty

Frank Kendall will be installed as president of the Long Beach Board of Realtors at the 48th annual banquet of that organization Friday night in the Wilton Hotel's Marine Room, according to Clive Graham, outgoing president.

Other officers to be inducted include I. N. Page, first vice president; Arnold Berg, second vice president; and Harold Steele, treasurer. New directors are George Ditson Jones, George Massey, Glen Gerken, Steele, John Webster, Dick Hamilton, Tenny Moore, O. L. Michael, and C. O. (Doc) Givens, salesman director.

Dignitaries in attendance include Charles B. Shattuck, president-elect of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, who will be guest speaker and installing officer; Mayor Burton Chace, who will give the address of welcome; Eugene Conser, executive secretary of CREA; Edward Callaghan, regional vice president, and Reg Dupuy, and Fred Mitchell, national directors of the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

Entertainment will be furnished by the Title Insurance & Trust Co. with Vice President Dan Rosencrans as master of ceremonies.

Mountain View Tract Going Fast

The Pride of Orange County! That's what the R. Netherby Construction Corp., developers of Mountain View Terrace, are saying about this new development, which is located in Orange Grove. Their sales office is at the corner of Euclid and Allen Dr. in that community.

Residents may walk to schools, shopping district and churches. Their homes are but a short drive to beaches and mountain resorts. Model homes are open from 10 a. m. to 7 p. m. Houses are priced from $10,950 to $15,500. Down payments start at $1,000.

Features include three bedrooms, large two-car garages, forced air heating, real fireplaces, garbage disposals and exhaust fans, one and three-quarter baths, complete landscaping, orange trees, architecturally controlled designs, large patios, sliding glass doors, insulation and weather-stripped metal sash windows, sewers, sidewalks and soft water; oak floors and two-inch tongue-and-groove subflooring.

Low Priced Homes Offered Now in Mahogany Manor

Homes may be purchased by veterans for as low as $375 down plus impounds at Mahogany Manor, it was announced last week by Henry C. Cox and affiliated companies, the developers.

Mahogany Manor may be reached from Long Beach by driving east on Seventh St. (which becomes Garden Grove Blvd.), then proceeding to Brookhurst Ave., left to Chapman Ave., then right or east one-half mile to U. S. tract.

The homes contain three bedrooms, two baths, a two-car garage, and a lanai. The model home is furnished by the Santa Ana Furniture Co.

Non-Vet Unit Proves Popular

MOST SUCCESSFUL addition to popular Lakewood Plaza, Aldon Construction Co. residential development north of Spring St., a half-mile east of Bellflower Blvd., in the Lakewood district, is the "Non-Vet" unit, typified by the above three-bedroom dwelling. Priced at $9495, the new seventh unit's homes are available to both non-veterans and veterans on equal FHA terms comparable with low GI financing.

World of Wheels

By DICK KLINE

YESTERDAY'S AUTOMOBILE was a far cry from the modern machine marvel which is seen on today's highways and in the dealers show rooms. The National Automobile Club recalls some of the cars of yesterday, many of which are too well remembered by quite a few, including this writer.

Nameplates, in bygone days, were things of real beauty and a collector of them would have something of value as well as intricate art. For example, the Dagmar had 25 animal figures and other intricate patterns worked in five colors; the exquisite wild goose design of the Wills-Jr. Claire; the clever "hat-in-thering" of the Rickenbacker; the chaste and lovely cameo of the Diana, and the golden bronze bas-relief of Sir Galahad that embraced the Yellow Knight.

Many readers would recognize names which would review memories of the days when motor cars were called horseless carriages. At the 1933 Columbian Exposition in Chicago, four or five of horseless carriages were shown. Since then more than 1000 American cars have come into existence but less than 30 remain on the market today.

PLYMOUTH NAMES NEW LOS ANGELES PLANT MANAGER—Appointment of Dan A. Ringis as plant manager of the Chrysler Motors, Los Angeles plant, was announced by J. P. Mansfield, president of the Plymouth Division of Chrysler Corp.

Ringis succeeds C. C. Rowles, who is assigned special duties on the staff of F. DeCautelle, operating manager of the entire Plymouth Division.

With the Chrysler Corp. for more than 24 years, he has held many positions with them, including chief tool engineer of the Plymouth Division, general master mechanic of the Dodge Division, and, until his new assignment, was a special representative on the staff of the vice president and general manager of Dodge, assigned to defense projects.

CONGRATULATIONS are in order for a number of the salesmen from the Belmont J. Sanchez Studebaker sales force. First to Salesmanager Hugh Knox on his recent wedding. Second, to the winners of December's $4500 sales contest, with first place going to Carl Olson, second place to Bill Rousell, third to Jerry Goodwin and fourth to Bill Stradford. Sanchez announced another contest for January worth $2000, so go get 'em men!

CHEVROLET QUIZ CONTEST—The Lakewood Country Club was the scene for a quiz contest on the features of the 1953 Chevrolet, for all salesmen in the zone from Santa Monica east to Santa Ana. In the preliminary exam the salesmen took a written test of 75 questions. The top five competed in the oral speldown finals. E. P. Billings, salesman for Harbor Chevrolet, was one of the finalists.

Vote Registration Roster Being Cut

Cancellation of approximately 233,000 names of registered voters throughout Los Angeles County was in progress today in the office of County Registrar of Voters Ben S. Hite.

Hite said that he expects his Nov. 4 general election registration total of 2,510,666 will be pared down to around 2,277,000 after he removes the names of all persons who did not vote at either the primary or general elections of 1952.

Hite is required under Section 295 of the Elections Code to remove the names of nonvoters from his official roster after each general election. Each person will be sent a post-card notice of such cancellation.

If the person is still residing in this county, he may reregister at once to re-establish his voting privileges for future elections.

The cancellations will also apply to names of persons shown by vital statistics records to have died within the past two years.

Heaviest cancellations will be in the Long Beach and Signal Hill areas, where the percentage of registered voters going to the polls at the general election was the lowest throughout the county. Hite said he will announce his new registration totals by cities, by Assembly, Congressional and Supervisorial districts late this month.

He said he had been handicapped by a budget shortage and a personal problem in expediting the removal of registration slips from his active files.

County Hearing on Regulation of Billboards Reset

Another attempt to hold a public hearing on the prohibiting of large billboards adjacent to Los Angeles County's existing and proposed system of freeways will be made by the Board of Supervisors at 10 a. m. Thursday.

The first hearing, set for last Wednesday morning, failed to materialize after some 100 interested persons gathered in meeting chambers of the supervisors. They waited from 9:30 to 11 o'clock, when Chairman John Anson Ford explained there would be no hearing due to the absence of Supervisor Kenneth Hahn.

Supervisor Hahn claimed he had previously notified his colleagues he would not be present because he was to attend the funeral of a close friend. He was indignant that he had been blamed for the calling off of the Wednesday hearing.

However, Supervisor Hahn's vote is said to be the pivotal ballot among the supervisors which will tip the scales either against the billboards, or to allow them to be built.

The board now is said to stand two to two on the issue, with Supervisors Herbert C. Legg and Roger W. Jessup backing the use of billboards under certain restrictive rules, while Supervisors Ford and Raymond V. Darby are known to be out-and-out opponents of the boards.

Mrs. Samuel Ayres Jr., of La Canada, clubwoman and civic leader, active against the boards, declares her groups will ask the supervisors to abolish billboards entirely from sight. The proposal pending before the supervisors is to place them at least 500 feet away from the freeways.

Supervisors have jurisdiction only over the freeways situated outside of city limits in the county.

Minneapolis Lad Loses Second Eye

MINNEAPOLIS — (AP) A year ago Robert Drewicke, 9, ran a pitchfork into one of his eyes and lost sight in it.

Now Roger is in Abbott Hospital here with his other eye injured, and doctors say there is little hope he will see again.

Roger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Drewicke, farmers near Graceville, Minn., went sledding New Year's Day. A sharp runner struck Roger's good eye. A Minneapolis surgeon had to make a row of 10 stitches across the eye, passing directly through the pupil.

Mrs. Drewicke said her son hasn't been told he may never see again, but "we think he senses it. He's been awfully brave."

Lynwood C. of C. Asks Hookup to Santa Fe Ave.

Request of the Lynwood Chamber of Commerce that Los Angeles County expedite obtaining of right-of-way for the extension of Santa Fe Ave. through the Compton, South Gate and Lynwood area will be considered by the Board of Supervisors Tuesday.

Herbert Halliday, secretary of the Lynwood booster group, said his organization wants the county road department to "appropriate the necessary funds for the preparation of acquisition maps, the making of appraisals and the acquisition of rights-of-way" for the portion of Santa Fe Ave. which must be acquired under the county's master plan of highways.

The master plan calls for Santa Fe Ave. to extend all the way from Long Beach Harbor for connection with Santa Fe Ave. in South Gate, thus assuring a continued thoroughfare all the way into Los Angeles through the city of Vernon.

Baja Calif. to Vote

MEXICO CITY — (AP) Baja California, Mexico's new state, will have its first elections March 29. The voters will choose delegates to a convention to write a new constitution for the nation's 29th state created a year ago. It was formerly the territory of Baja (Lower) California.

DR. CHAN SAYS: NO LONGER MUST YOU SUFFER FROM

ASTHMA-DIABETES

HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE

For the past two generations, the offices of Dr. Chan, D. C., located at 928 American Ave., have had outstanding results in treating chronic ailments such as ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, ARTHRITIS, NEURITIS, RHEUMATISM, HIGH OR LOW BLOOD PRESSURE, HEART TROUBLE, STOMACH OR LIVER DISORDERS, KIDNEY OR BLADDER AILMENTS, OR A GENERAL RUNDOWN CONDITION. Men and women from all walks of life come to take these treatments because other methods of healing have failed to help them. Many have spent a fortune in seeking cure before they try this simple, effective natural method of Dr. Chan. Our patients tell us that they wish they had known of our wonderful treatments sooner so that their suffering could have been avoided.

READ THESE AMAZING TESTIMONIALS!

Dear Dr. Chan: "The day I came to your office with my mother and brother I was about to give up hope of getting rid of my asthma attacks. I spent hundreds of dollars for shots and pills, but yet found no results. After reading your advertisement, I tried you for my last resort and was thrilled to find that I responded wonderfully. After the first treatment, I was able to breathe normally and could sleep better for the first time in months. Now I am feeling fine and hoping others will benefit from my experience with Dr. Chan's Natural Method."

Signed: Mrs. Vivian Murray.

To Whom It May Concern: "For over 30 years I have been sold from one doctor's office to another hoping to find someone to help me with my asthma and stomach condition. No one knows how much I had suffered until I came to Dr. Chan. Night after night I had to sit up because I wasn't able to lie down to sleep. I was coughing and wheezing most of the night. Inside my stomach was full of gas. After taking Dr. Chan's Herbal Therapy for one week, I began to improve. Now, after five months of continuous treatment, my asthma and stomach troubles are just about over. I wish to recommend this treatment to anyone who is anxious to get well. I am sure that Dr. Chan will do all he can to help you as he has helped me."

Signed: Mrs. Tina Smith.

Medical Group Dines, Dances at Gala Coast Club Banquet

By BETTY CAREY
Independent Women's Editor

There was definitely a doctor in the house last night; in fact dozens and dozens of them, since it was the formal installation banquet at the Pacific Coast Club of the Long Beach Medical Association. Several distinguished guests were present, including Dr. Lewis A. Aleson, president of the California Medical Assn.; Drs. Paul D. Foster and Ewing L. Turner, incoming president and secretary-treasurer of the Los Angeles County group.

Dr. Malcolm C. Todd, incoming president of the Long Beach branch and his attractive blonde wife, Ruth, as well as Dr. Hubert J. Prichard, outgoing president, and his equally lovely wife, Frieda, were in the limelight at the head table.

Installing officer was Dr. Ralph E. Eusden and as one of the evening's surprises he and Mrs. Eusden were presented with an elegant silver tray from the Long Beach Branch. Dr. Eusden has been a national delegate to the American Medical Association and Mrs. Eusden is serving, at the present time, as national president of the AMA Auxiliary.

Dr. Aleson paid warm tribute to Drs. George D. Sulton, Fred B. Clarke and Horace McCoy, retired members of the association who have worked long and faithfully in its service.

Bill (Dr. William G.) Rhorer, chairman of the entertainment committee, was responsible for the vastly successful evening, and was assisted by his committee members and by Mrs. Leslie Esposito, hospitality chairman of the Medical Auxiliary. She planned the clever and effective table decor consisting of bright yellow Italian straw hats tied with chartreuse ribbons out of which spilled gaily hued spring blossoms.

There were lots of cocktail parties in various members' homes before the banquet, one at the home of Genie and Dr. Lyle Murphy at 4480 Myrtle Ave. for 70 guests. Assisting were Beverly and Dick Matlock, Ruth and Mac Todd, Sue and Art Buell, Florence and Orville Cole and Frieda and Hugh Prichard.

Carrying out a family tradition observed since she was a little girl, in New Orleans, Anne Lang and her husband, Dr. Maurice Lang, will entertain at a cocktail party heralding the opening of the Mardi Gras season which begins officially on Twelfth Night with a huge ball in the southern city.

The Langs have invited 150 friends to help them greet the gay season and their home at 3858 Myrtle Ave., will be decorated tonight in the rich tones of the Mardi Gras colors, purple, gold and green.

Assisting in greeting the guests will be Doris Richards, Bea and Bob Pettefer, Georgia and Lorin Nelson, Helen and Saul Savitz and Anne's parents, the Ervan Webbs.

Pat and Bill Jellick feel decidedly more a part of the community since their warm welcoming party given last eve at George and Evelyn Reeves' ocean-view home on Seaside Walk. Russell and Virginia Graham of Arcadia were co-hosts and others assisting were Bea and Paul Graham and Betty and "Bix" Bixby. The Jellicks and their two small children have just said goodbye to Monterey and the address on their new mailbox is 4715 Ben-tree Ave.

Comparing notes on their respective holiday fun and settling down to an evening at the bridge tables on Friday eve at Maxine and Bill Clemo's were Marje and John Clarke, Kay and Don Erb, Dorothy and Bill Macrate, Dottie and Willie Chapman and Curtyne and Gene Driscoll.

Piling into their station wagon and driving off to spend a day at Snow Valley one day last week were Clarice and Burton Pike and their small fry, Gregory and Francine, the latter reveling in making the first snowballs in their young lives.

Two Entertain at Luncheon for Dr. Beatty

Dr. Dorothy Hewitt and Dr. Mary F. Callaghan will be co-hostesses today for a buffet luncheon in the home of the former at 511 Los Altos Ave. in compliment to Dr. Geneva K. Beatty, who recently returned from a four-month tour of Africa, where she and her husband, Dr. F. Harriman Jones, visited many of the medical missions and hospitals.

Bidden are Dr. Georgia Johnson, Mmes. ## Approaching Vows Incentive for Parties

With the approach of Beverly Nyman's wedding to Kenneth S. Wing Jr., on Jan. 21, numerous lovely shower courtesies have been planned in her honor. On Thursday Mrs. Clare Hamman and her daughter, Mrs. Robert Ivey, were hostesses at a dessert luncheon and kitchen shower in the Hamman home at 4285 Country Club Dr.

Pale pink stock and white carnations were used to decorate the table.

Guests bidden were Mrs. Archie Nyman, mother of the honoree; Mrs. Kenneth Wing, mother of the future bridegroom; Mmes. Marshall G. Stone, Freeland C. Putnam, Herbert L. Fielding, Robert Avery, Frank Richey, Arthur B. Green, George Chubb, Charles Taylor, Rufus A. Davis, Ward G. DeWitt, Joseph Fellows Jr., Edward A. Killingsworth and Esli H. Daniels of Rolling Hills.

Friday evening Mrs. M. B. Harple entertained at a linen shower for the bride-elect in her home, 3288 Lewis Ave. The dessert table was centered with an elaborate bride doll from Korea, all handmade of cloth. White wedding bells and white chrysanthemums completed the festive setting.

Invited were mothers of the bridal pair and Mmes. Robert Hall, Walter Anderson, Henry Anderson, Martin Jenkin, Robert Berryman, Norman Beard, Thomas Beard, James Farragh Sr., James Farragh Jr., Harold Perry, Theodore Nyman, Lionel Gately, Ernest Dollinger, George Calderwood, David McCrea, Amos Edsall, George McDonald, Leland Ortt, Al Ortt, William Fortesman, Clark Wing, George Winters, Leroy Winters, Evelyn Jones, Misses Carol Nyman, Mary Lou and Nancy Lee Dollinger.

A mother-daughter luncheon in honor of the bride-to-be is slated Thursday at 12:30 o'clock by Mrs. Marshall G. Stone and her daughter, Mrs. W. W. Rollo. About 20 guests will attend and bring blue, gray and pink linens for the bath. The fete will be in the Stone home, 4311 Olive Ave.

Mrs. Esli H. Daniels has also issued invitations to a luncheon shower, which will be Tuesday in her home, 3003 Palos Verdes Dr. East, San Pedro.

Unique Serbian Holiday Noted

Recelebrating Christmas Wednesday evening were more than 200 persons who gathered with the Steve Krals, 3839 Linden Ave. The gala fete noted the Serbian Christmas which is commemorated Jan. 7 according to the Julian calendar, instead of the Gregorian calendar used in most parts of the western world.

Essence of the Serbian Christmas spirit is that anyone who knocks at the door is welcomed and treated to a large feast. Mrs. Kral prepared a huge meal for the large gathering including traditional pastries and chicken.

Mrs. Bixby, Dr. Belt to Be Honored at Reception Sunday

Honoring Mrs. Fred Bixby of Long Beach and Dr. Elmer Belt of Los Angeles, leading authority on Leonardo da Vinci of the City of Long Beach is having a reception next Sunday from 3 to 5 o'clock at the Art Center, 2300 E. Ocean Blvd.

Mrs. Bixby is lending several items to the Center for display. Dr. Belt will give an informal address at 4 o'clock on "Leonardo da Vinci—Scientist and Anatomist." Dr. Belt also is lending many articles and items to the Center from his library, mainly drawings of inventions and machines by da Vinci.

Romantic News Told at College

Passing chocolates at the Pi Beta Phi Sorority house at San Diego State College, Janice Lorraine Murdy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Murdy, 12372 Pine St., Garden Grove, announced her engagement to Carl Hoff, son of Mrs. Petrina Hoff, 121 Eighth St., Huntington Beach.

A graduate of Huntington Beach High School, Miss Murdy attended Whittier College prior to enrolling at San Diego. Hoff is a graduate of a Chicago high school, Orange Coast College and is presently attending San Diego State, where he is a member of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity.

The young couple plan a summer wedding.

Ebell Juniors to Assist in Residential Cancer Drive

Again rising to the need in the community for help in a major fund-raising drive, the Ebell Juniors of Long Beach are undertaking the residential portion of the local Cancer Drive this year in April. Mrs. Walter C. Yaisli, president of Ebell Juniors, will direct their efforts. Last year the group directed the Mothers' March on Polio.

After being approached by Harold Smith, local chairman, a poll was made of the 260 members of the club, and an overwhelming majority desired to take part in the drive, first because it is one of the most dreaded of all diseases today, and second, as Smith pointed out, 85 per cent of the money collected will be available to the local community either through treatment or research.

Mrs. Yaisli remarked, "The Ebell Juniors are proud to have been chosen for this job. We feel that one of the most important duties of our club is being of service to our community. We also feel that this will add to the prestige of the club, and we are going to try our best to make it a successful drive."

Miss Ployhart Engaged to John Lynde

At a gathering in their home, 152-A Ximeno Ave., Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Ployhart announced the engagement of their daughter, Patricia, to John F. Lynde, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Lynde, 216-17th St., Seal Beach.

The couple both were graduated from Wilson High and attended City College where she was affiliated with TNT and he with Junior Exchange. No definite date has been set for their wedding.

Dinner Hosts

The younger set outnumbered adults at a dinner a few days ago with Dr. and Mrs. Frank Stanton Jr. of Rolling Hills as hosts. Attending were Dr. and Mrs. Orville Cole and their children, Billy, Tommy, Gloria and "V. V." and the Stanton children, Tony, Ellen, David and Tim. After the off-spring put on an amateur show for the grownups, all went to Portuguese Bend Club for dinner.

Couple Sets Wedding Date

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Ross of 6480 Brayton Ave. are announcing the betrothal of their daughter, Christine M. Breillein, to Daniel Tolman, son of Mrs. Irma Hill, 915 Stanley Ave.

The bride-elect, a senior at Jordan High School, told the news to her Alpha Sigma Rho sorority sisters at a recent meeting by traditionally passing a box of chocolates. Her fiancé attended Polytechnic High School, served in the Naval Air Force and now is a member of Long Beach Motor Patrol.

The wedding will take place Feb. 10 in Lakewood Village Church.

Shower, Buffet

Antique cut-glass bowls held pink carnations as decorative appointments for a shower and buffet luncheon, Mrs. M. S. Yunker and Mrs. C. Ellsworth Brown gave Thursday. The fete, in honor of Mrs. Harold Willhoit, was in the home of Mrs. Yunker, 1540 Ramallo Ave. Guests played bridge during the afternoon.

Nightingales Gather

Nightingales, junior organization of Auxiliary to Children's Memorial Hospital, were guests of Miss Irmela Witke, Seaside Hospital administrator, when they met for a business session a few days ago in the Blue Room of the hospital.

After luncheon Mrs. G. D. Brock gave a final report on the sale of Auxiliary calendars, and tickets for the Have a Heart Bazaar were distributed to members. Mrs. Wayne P. Frederick, president, was in charge of the meeting.

Hospitality for Houseguests

Driftwood Room of the Virginia Country Club was the setting for a dinner party given by Mr. and Mrs. Leland Irish, 4269 Country Club Drive, for their houseguests, from Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Toblitz. The couple traveled out by train and spent Christmas with friends in San Diego before coming to Long Beach.

Manzanita branches wired with red gladiol blossoms and combined with red carnations formed the table arrangement, and red ribbons extended down the center of the table. The party of 10 couples gathered first at the Irish home for cocktails.

McDuffee, vice chairman, and Mrs. Alfred H. Durfee, president of the club. Entertainers will be Wille Lou Lowder, James Jay, Delphia Comer Knowles and Frances Bowling. The program is the first of a series of two in the contemporary vein.—(Staff photo.)

"Echoes of Spain" will be the theme of the program which has been arranged by the program chairman, Mrs. Will H. Winston, for Ebell Club at 1:30 p. m. Monday in Ebell Auditorium. Mrs. Wilbur Lee Candy will preside.

Colorful costumes, sprightly music and talented entertainers will combine to make the presentation a delightful one. Participating will be Tony Ferrell, baritone and guitarist, who appears often in motion pictures in the roles of Latin characters and singing troubadours; Anita, dancing star of a number of Broadway musical productions, who does Spanish and Mexican dances and is a ballet dancer as well; Tavo and Esperanza, Spanish song and dance artists, who appear every year at the Ramona Bowl pageant at the annual fiesta at Santa Barbara; and Francine Fay, accordionist, one of the fine instrumentalists on the Pacific Coast.

The luncheon at 12:15 p. m. will be in charge of Group K. Mrs. J. S. Popham, chairman.

Mrs. H. P. Dunlop, program chairman of Gaviota Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, has arranged an interesting afternoon for the chapter meeting at 2 p. m. Tuesday in Municipal Art Center, with the regent, Mrs. Arthur S. Phillips, presiding.

Following a report by Mrs. Rupert McCook on the Valley Forge Memorial Tower, the film, "Cargoes for Peace," will be shown, through courtesy of the American President Lines. Assisting Mrs. Henry Crane, tea hostess, will be Mmes. Frank Reid, J. L. Parker, H. L. Dodge, A. W. Vasey, Edwin Lee, C. L. Carpenter, A. E. McCartney, William Q. Sword, Otto Bayer, Frank Gray and Lee Marty.

Mrs. Alfred Durfee will preside at the luncheon and program of Woman's Music Club Wednesday in Ebell auditorium. As usual, members of this talented club have come up with another of their original program arrangements. The theme is entitled "Contemporary Music in Their Time," with Mrs. Sybil Reed as narrator. She will draw upon the actual comments of music critics of the time to show how composers now considered great masters of music were controversial subjects in the period in which they lived.

Appearing on the program will be Willa Lou Lowder, organist; Bach; James Jay, vocalist; Mozart and Schubert; Delphia Comer Knowles, pianist; Scarlotti, and Frances Bowling, formal and folk ballet dancer; Rameau and Beethoven.

Mrs. Laura Killingsworth will present the program from continuity prepared by Geneva Chronister and presentation will be in the concert manner. Luncheon will be served at 12 o'clock.

Wives of the Painting and Decorating Contractors, together with members of the auxiliaries of the PDCA chapters of Los Angeles County who are working on committees to arrange activities for the state convention of the organization, will meet for luncheon at 11:30 a. m. Friday at the Lafayette Hotel to co-ordinate final plans.

Members of the Long Beach auxiliary will be hostesses for the luncheon, with Mrs. Frank L. Kamp, chairman. The convention is set for Jan. 21-24 at the Statler Hotel.

Mmes. D. O. Snodgrass, Claude Carey and Carl Smith will be hostesses for the luncheon meeting of Los Cerritos Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, Tuesday noon at the Lafayette Hotel, with Mrs. Robert S. MacGregor, regent, presiding.

Delegates will be chosen to various conventions for the coming year, after which Mrs. MacGregor, former national defense chairman, will address the group on national defense. Guests are welcome.

Ladies' Auxiliary to the Long Beach Retail Druggists Association will meet Tuesday at the home of the president, Mrs. E. J. Gavin, 3865 Rose Ave. Cohostesses will be Mmes. Keith Drew, August Dugas, Charles Bleivins and George Schnelger.

The home of Dr. and Mrs. John Harris, 320 W. Bixby Rd., will be the setting Jan. 27 for a meeting of the Women's Auxilitary to the Long Beach Optometric Association, at which time Mrs. Harris will entertain members with pictures and an account of her recent trip to South Africa and Europe.

The annual holiday dinner for the group was held in the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Spencer, 4312 Blackthorne Ave. New officers to serve this year are Mrs. R. K. Melton, president; Mrs. J. V. North, vice president; Mrs. R. T. Blowers, secretary, and Mrs. Spencer, treasurer.

Story League of Long Beach will meet Monday at the home of Mrs. A. H. Lyon, 2103 Linden Ave. A program of stories will be told by Mmes. Helen Lee Beebe, M. L. Runner and H. A. Zelsdorf.

Members of the Presidents' Club will be honor guests at a reciprocity tea to which invitations have been mailed by the California Retired Teachers' Association. The time is 2 p. m. Friday and the setting is the Second Presbyterian Church at Third St. and Molino Ave.

RECIPROCITY EVENT for the Study Club of Long Beach is being announced for Wednesday in Municipal Art Center, starting with a coffee hour at 9:45 a. m. In charge is the trio pictured, who are (from left) Mrs. A. L. Murray, program chairman; Mrs. Cora M. Cassill, junior past president, and Mrs. James G. Garth, president. Mrs. Murray will present at speaker Dr. Shao-Er Ong, member of the faculty of the Department of Asiatic Studies at USC. ## Concert Music, Good Theater, Home Entertainment for Bellflowerites

By GERTRUDE STOFFELS

Indicative of the midwinter season, social events in the Bellflower and Artesia area this past week centered around concert music, a community play and home entertainment.

Music lovers enjoyed the unexcelled performance Tuesday evening of the talented Teischik brothers, Alfred and Herbert, a piano duo who were featured by the Bellflower Community Concert Association in the second of a series of concerts to be presented this season in the John Simms Park auditorium. The affair was followed by a reception hosted by the Bellflower Music Guild.

Preceding the presentation, a smorgasbord dinner for concert-goers was served at the Woman's Clubhouse by members of the club's ways and means committee which is composed of Mmes. Newell Crowley, chairman, Walter Killman and Kenneth Voss.

First presentation of the "Glass Menagerie" by the Bellflower Community Players Friday evening in the John Simms Park Auditorium was witnessed by an appreciative audience. The production, which will again be presented on Jan. 16 and 17, is directed by Bud Shields. Playing the lead is Leona Lazarus, who carries out the part of a former southern belle in an intense drama which involves a son and a daughter played by Phil Schedlwy and Dorothy Dayton. Playing the part of a friend is Frank Holt.

Rust and yellow-colored chrysanthemums arranged on a lace-covered table served as decor for an open house held in the new home of Mr. and Mrs. George Sutton of 11615 185th St., Artesia. The event was attended by 50 guests from surrounding cities. Presiding at the silver coffee-urns were Mrs. W. C. Spiering of Bellflower and Mrs. E. A. Sutton of Whittier. Returning from a week's stay in Banning with Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Head Sr. were Mr. and Mrs. Lou Head of Artesia. The couple were called away by the sudden illness of Mr. Head's father.

Entertaining at their home with a buffet dinner in honor of their son Charles who has been home on vacation from the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md., were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gahr of 20742 Arilien Ave. Completing the family were the Gahr's other children, Linda, Phillip and Laura Lee. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Melton of Compton, Robert Melton of Travis Air Force Base, Douglas Melton of Los Alamitos Air Base, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Gahr and children, Teddy, Larry and Jeanette.

Visiting here from Iowa to participate in honoring their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Boer of Artesia, in observing their 40th wedding anniversary were three of the couple's children with their families. Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Boer, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Boer and Mr. and Mrs. James Moun. They were joined here by the couple's other children, Mr. Mrs. Adrian Boer, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Kuyper and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Miersma. While here the group attended the Rose Parade in Pasadena.

Bellflowerites enjoying a week-end vacation together in San Jacinto Mountains were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bowen, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Perry, Mr. and Mrs. Hans Menger, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Scott, Mr. and Mrs. John Ravera and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Traw.

Spending three days in the snow last week and at Gresham Mountain Lodge were 34 members of the Christian Youth Fellowship of the First Christian Church in Bellflower. Their director, Normar Leavell, led the young people through a busy schedule each day which included planning sessions, outdoor sports, camp fire singing and vespers.

Rev. and Mrs. Harry E. Berg served as advisers for the commissions with Rival Hawkins as resource leader. President of the group is Bob Allen, a Bellflower High senior, who is assisted by Kenneth Benson as vice president. Norma Smith is their secre-

Eleanor Burch Lovely Bride of T. S. Maxwell

Wearing a gown of white satin and lace, Miss Eleanor Joyce Burch became the bride of Thomas S. Maxwell, son of Mrs. Aida Maxwell of 6913 Beechly Ave. The ceremony took place in the Church of Christ with Rev. W. S. Irvine officiating.

The bride, a daughter of Mrs. Moncella Burch of Bellflower, was given in marriage by her brother Perry Burch. Completing her attire was a fingertip veil which fell from a tiara of seeded pearls. Her bouquet was composed of white carnations and orchids.

Attending the bride were Mrs. Pauline Kinzie as matron of honor; Mmes. Betty Miller, Sue Randall, Sue Lehman and Beverly Massie, bridesmaids, and Diane Kinzie as flower girl.

Bob Jackson attended the bridegroom as best man. Guests were seated by Don Tolle, Floyd Randall, Dick Sink and Don Saunders. Candelights were June Burch and Billy Jackson.

Hostessing a reception which followed the ceremony were Mmes. Jerry Aldridge, Opal Kirk, Doris Barabick, Theima Lehman and Cole Perry. The bride is a graduate from Excelsior High School. Her husband, a graduate from Jordan High, is stationed in Denver, Colo., with the U. S. Air Force.

Taoleon Club

Fourth lecture in a series being sponsored by Taoleon Club is set for 9:30 a. m. Sunday, Jan. 18, at Linden Hall. Annah Laurie House will speak on "New Labels."

Wedding Trip to Las Vegas

Now at home at 2201 Pine Ave. are Mr. and Mrs. William L. Edwards, who have returned from a honeymoon to Las Vegas, Nev. They were married at Assumption of the Virgin Mary Catholic Church.

The former Miss Kathryn Ann Cunningham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Cunningham of 2225 Euclid Ave., was attired in white Chantilly lace, ankle-length. Her headdress was of matching lace and trimmed with rhinestones. The bridal veil of net was fingertip-length. Miss Cunningham carried a bouquet of roses, stephanotis and carnations.

Members of the wedding party were Mrs. Dorothy Belli, matron of honor; Nick Edwards, best man; Lois Rasner, Marilyn Monk, Marilyn Lundstead, Mary Lou Ruffis, Judy Walker, bridesmaids; Ed Schertz, John Callard, Anthony Belli, Tom Cunningham, Neil Feldman, ushers; Mike Cunningham and Johnny Chland, ringbearers; Kathy Belli, flower girl.

The wedding reception was at Sam's Seafood Restaurant. The bride attended Wilson High where she was a song-leader and a member of SFO and a capella choir. Her husband, son of Mr. and Mrs. Aleck Edwards of 863 W. 27th St., attended Poly High and City College where he was affiliated with Cirgonians.

Selfish Youngsters

They're Imbued With Healthy, Strong Sense of Possession

By ANGELO PATRI

If a 3-year-old child is expected for a visit with another child of about the same age, it would be the better part of discretion to make sure that there would be two toys of equal attraction at the service of host and guest.

To say sweetly, "Now Donald, listen dear, Tommy is coming this afternoon with his mother to see you and me. You must remember to be a little gentleman and let him play with your things. You always have them and he will be here only for a few hours. Understand? You'll be a good boy and let him have your things to play with."

"What things? Not my wagon. Not my cars."

Better let it go at that. Children of tender years have no conception of what sharing and being unselfish means. And words won't teach them. They are self-centered and trying to force them beyond their stage of mental growth will end only in failure and ill-feeling.

In my experience a child under 6 years, roughly measured, who willingly hands over his belongings to other children is not as far along in mental development as we would expect him to be. Little ones cling to their things. They make them part of themselves and won't part with them. Let them alone. Set an example of kindness and generosity and wait for the time when they can understand the joy there is in being able to make someone happy. Wait until they have grown to the point when they can think away from themselves out toward others with satisfaction.

Growth of any worth in any field of life is slow, and must be given its own rate of growth. Some children grow fast in many directions. In between is a big group of children whose growth varies from field to field, so that they are strong in some kind of growth, betwixt and between some and way behind in others. All need time. All need the wise, affectionate and patient watchfulness of devoted mothers and fathers and teachers.

Children will not develop fine character traits to pattern. They come in their time, according to the power in the child and his opportunity for growth and experience. What we must guard against is the forcing of any stage of development in a very young child. (This column runs daily in Long Beach Independent.)

Installation of Dames Club Next Sunday

An installation breakfast at Virginia Country Club next Sunday will honor new officers of Dames Club, a philanthropic organization interested in contributing to civic causes as well as individual needy families during the year. New president is Mrs. Charles Chandler who will preside at her first meeting of the year Jan. 19 in the home of Mrs. Kenneth Berkaw, 5520 El Prague.

To serve with her during the term are Mrs. Harold Hall, vice president; Mrs. Edward Rittenhouse, secretary, and Mrs. Myron Brooks Jr., treasurer.

In addition, committee chairmen appointed by the new president include Mrs. Harry Hunt, flowers; Mrs. Kenneth Berkaw, welfare; Mrs. Gene Dreckman, sergeant-at-arms; Mrs. Maurice Anderson and Mrs. George Powell, telephone; Mrs. James La Grets and Mrs. Dan E. Budnick, hospitality; Mrs. Jack Dilday, publicity.

Most recent donation by the club was the Long Beach Chapter, National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, at the March of Dimes kick-off luncheon when a check for $630 was presented to that group by Mrs. Warren Eckert and Mrs. Harold Hall, representing Dames.

Louise Havekors Beautiful Winter Bride

Mrs. James Gerard Neuner

The sanctity of St. Anthony's Church, aglow with myriad tapers in candelabra, was chosen by Miss Louise Havekors for her wedding Saturday to James Gerard Neuner of Kansas City, Mo. The 11 o'clock nuptial mass was witnessed by a host of friends of the popular bride-elect who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. Havekors of 730 Terraine Ave., Long Beach. Father Gerald T. Cahill officiated.

Beautifully gowned in a Cahill original of deustered satin with all-over Chantilly lace fashioned with cathedral-length train and portrait neckline, the bride walked to the altar escorted by her father. Her bouquet was a cascade of orchids, stephanotis and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Charles Copeland of Marysville, sister of the bride, gowned in ice-blue pleated satin, attended her as matron of honor and Peggy Havekors, another sister, dressed in mauve rose silk shantung, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Crayford Sneddon of Los Angeles, Mrs. Walter B. Reinhold of Pasadena and Miss Carol Wood of West Los Angeles.

Joseph Neuner of Kansas City served his brother as best man. Guests were seated prior to the ceremony by Donald Berger, Richard O'Leary, Walter B. Reinhold and Walter Havekors Jr.

The bridal entourage proceeded to the altar past 18 tall flower standards bedecked in an all-white arrangement of white chrysanthemums, stock and gladioli.

A profusion of violets graced Virginia Country Club for the champagne brunch at 1 o'clock when friends gathered to offer congratulations and best wishes to the young pair and to meet the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gerard J. Neuner of Kansas City, Mo., who arrived Thursday to take part in wedding festivities. For the occasion Mrs. Havekors wore a hunter's green satin ensemble with a green orchid corsage and Mrs. Neuner was in a rose beige taffeta ensemble wearing orchids.

Also here for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Boston of Independence, Mo., uncle and aunt of the bride.

The former Miss Havekors attended Kansas University, as did her husband, where she was affiliated with Delta Gamma. She received her degree from USC.

After a wedding trip through the south, Mr. and Mrs. Neuner will make their home in Kansas City, Mo.

Colorado Visitors

After spending a week with Bellflower relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Jess McCord of Rocky Ford, Colo., have returned home. They were houseguests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Oranhood, 11610 Ardmore Ave., and Mr. and Mrs. Keith Garton, 9852 E. Palm.

Miss Arlise Grant Marries D.R. Charleville by Candlelight

Mrs. Denver R. Charleville

Candles lighted First Methodist Church of Huntington Park for the marriage of Miss Arlise E. Grant, 5445 Sorrento Dr., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Colin Grant of Huntington Park, and Denver R. Charleville, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Charleville, 3653 Lewis Ave.

Rev. Keith Kanaga solemnized the double ring ceremony in the presence of 250 guests. A reception followed the service, after which the newlyweds left on an undisclosed wedding trip. They will reside at the Sorrento Dr. address.

Skinner satin, Chantilly lace, tulle and pearl trim were combined for Miss Grant's bridal array. A headdress of satin and pearls held her veil of tulle and lace. She carried her mother's Bible, topped by a white orchid and hyacinths.

The bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Phillip Sperry, was matron of honor, and best man was Evan Davidson. Bridesmaids were Miss Gayle Hawken and Miss Evelyn Wake, and Charlee Lavrakas, flower girl. Ushering were Phillip Sperry, Clarence Gieck, L. Q. Lavrakas.

A captain in the Air Force during World War II, the bridegroom is a graduate of LBCC and a member of Pacific Coast Club. His father is former city manager of Long Beach. The bride is a graduate of USC.

Poise Reflected by Modulated Voice

By HELEN JAMESON

Europeans seem to follow the same formula when speaking of Uncle Sam's daughters. They say that American girls are appealing to the eye, have slender figures, wear chic clothes, have nice feet, but—and there's the rub! They say that they have shrill voices or are inclined to shout. That, of course, is true of a certain type. It does not apply to all of us, by any means.

The woman who has a pleasing voice and who speaks in softly modulated tones, enunciating clearly and concisely, is usually a woman of poise and self-control. It is characteristic of her nature and upbringing.

Shouting is something that a nice woman doesn't do. She doesn't bawl out her children in a loud voice. That sort of thing is not in accord with good manners. If you yell at the kids, the first thing you know they'll be yelling at their playmates, even yelling at you.

There are homes in which loud talking goes on all the time. You'd think the members of the family were all hard of hearing. It makes for confusion, a disturbed atmosphere, and nervous tension.

Few voices are unpleasant by nature. If they are not pleasant, it is because there is too much volume used or the tone is pitched too high.

Some individuals talk too fast, running their words together and causing the listener to be on the alert to understand what they are saying. Others twang away on a single note. Then there are mumblers, who seem disinclined to open their lips and permit their words to sound out clearly and concisely. Words should be carefully enunciated.

A pleasing voice is gentle, yet vibrant and expressive. We are judged by our voices, to a certain extent. The high-strung, nervous girl is likely to speak in a jerky manner, with a sort of breathlessness. Or she puts unnecessary emphasis on certain words.

If one is in doubt about one's speaking voice, professional training can be had, and it is worth the investment.

Mrs. Bill Franklin Brandom

Miss Gayle Penrose, Gowned in Chantilly Lace, Becomes Bride of Bill F. Brandom

After a honeymoon in Palm Springs, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Franklin Brandom will make their home in Palo Alto. They were married in an evening nuptial service, performed by Dr. Grover C. Bagby, at Belmont Heights Methodist Church.

The former Miss Gayle Penrose approached the altar in a ballerina-length gown of white Chantilly lace and nylon tulle. Her veil and gown were trimmed with seed pearls. Atop a white Bible the bride carried were orchids and lilies of the valley.

In the entourage were Mrs. Jack Carroll, matron of honor; Jim Brandom, best man; Mrs. Ray Henderson, attending matron; Philip Chauvin, Jack Brandom and Joe Brandom, ushers. A church reception followed the ceremony of the popular pair, after which they

The former Miss Penrose attended Wilson High, LBCC and USC. Before her marriage she was active in Bachelorettes, and was affiliated with TNT at City College and Delta Gamma at USC. Her husband attended Poly High, LBCC and Stanford where he will receive his master's degree this spring. He was a Cirgonian at City College, and a member of Kappa Alpha at Stanford.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Wilson of 225 Corona Ave., and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Eva Brandom of 1124 Bennett Ave.

By DONNA RAY HALE

With the opening of the new year, Downey residents are turning their attention to home entertaining, family gatherings, weddings and similar events.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Barrett entertained Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Hill of Santa Cruz as their house guests recently. The Hills are Mrs. Barrett's parents.

One of the events of the winter season was the wedding of Miss Bula Marie (Bitsey) Spier to Raymond Ralph Wrightsman in candlelight ceremonies at First Presbyterian Church with Rev. Rodney V. Cogswell reading the marriage lines. Escorted down the aisle by her father, Robert C. Spier, the bride was gowned in white net over taffeta with lace bodice. Her fingertip veil was of illusion net. She carried white roses.

Miss Diane Veatch, maid of honor, was gowned in blue over taffeta and carried yellow roses. Little Sandra Wrightsman wore yellow net over taffeta and carried white flowers. Ring bearer was Robert C. Spier Jr. Ronald Long attended the bridegroom as best man with Ross Craig, Lawrence Carter, and Robert Webb as ushers. A reception for 125 guests in the church social hall followed the ceremony.

The wedding party was entertained later at the home of the bridegroom's parents for a buffet supper and the opening of gifts.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Spier, 9512 Horley Ave., and a Downey High graduate. The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wrightsman Sr., 7303 Pellet St., is a graduate of Fremont High, Los Angeles. The couple will reside in Lynwood.

Mrs. S. C. Barlow has had as her house guests Mr. and Mrs. Russell Barlow and four children of Lemore and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Barlow and two sons also of Lemore.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Love have returned from a desert motor trip following celebration of their silver wedding anniversary when nearly 200 life-long friends attended open house at their home here.

Among those gathering to greet the couple were many who formed the wedding party when they were married in Downey Christian Church 25 years ago, were Miss Mabel Mayes, maid of honor and sister of Mrs. Love; Mmes. Barton, Meier, John Anderson, Dorothy Gingrich, and Helen Jordan, bridesmaids; Donald Slocumb, best man, and John Anderson, usher. Mrs. J. L. Myers and Mrs. E. W. Sewall, widows of the ministers. Rev. J. I. Myers and Rev. E. W. Sewall, who jointly officiated at the marriage, were present.

Also attending were friends made by Mrs. Love during her many years as a teacher in Downey schools. Before her recent retirement she was principal of Spencer V. Williams School and later of Rio San Gabriel. The guest book used at their wedding reception also was signed by those attending the silver celebration.

Hostesses assisting were four cousins, Mmes. Ivan Hofmann, Robert Yager, Armin Schreiber, Robert Krueger and longtime friends, Mrs. John Blaney and Mrs. Glenwood Pipkin and Mrs. Phillip Robinson, who also was observing her wedding anniversary that day. Mrs. Love is a third generation Downey resident and a member of the Mayes family, who commemorated their hundredth anniversary of California residence in October. Mr. Mayes is associated with Continental Oil Co., Seal Beach, a position which he has held since before their marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. Gale D. King and family have returned from Phoenix, Ariz., where they traveled over the New Year holiday to visit relatives.

Visiting at the home of Mrs. Melvern Fergus is her sister-in-law, Mrs. Josephine Snyder of Portage, Wis., who will remain in Southern California for several weeks.

Music Club Notes

Church music section of Woman's Music Club will meet at 11 a. m. Wednesday in Room One, Ebell Clubhouse, with Mrs. Stanley J. Curtis presiding. The subject, "The Holy City," will be musically illustrated.

Music study section will meet at 11 a. m. Friday at Municipal Art Center. Subject will be "Music of the Baroque Period" musically illustrated, with Mrs. George C. Morgan as speaker. Music will be Bach's Double Concerto for violin, played by Edwina Smith and Pauline Shoup, with Nadyne Gibson at the piano. Mrs. Horace Knowles is chairman.

Pair Say Vows in Wedding Chapel

Exchanging wedding vows in the Gretna Green Wedding Chapel were Miss Joann Lee Stephenson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth O. Stephenson, 9551 Mandale Ave., Bellflower, and Roger John DeJongh, son of Mrs. Elda DeJongh of Norwalk.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attended by her sister, Miss Kay Stephenson, as maid of honor. For her wedding attire the new bride wore an aqua colored dress with white accessories. She carried a bouquet of white carnations. Serving the bridegroom as best man was Lloyd DeJongh. Guests were seated by Ricky Jeffredo and Keith Canfield.

The ceremony was followed by a reception with Mrs. Lloyd DeJongh attending the guest book. Serving as hostesses were Miss Janet Berchtold and Miss Joanne Ryan. Both the couple are graduates from Excelsior High School.

'Why Grow Old' Clubs Make Figure Care More Enjoyable

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

The following letter came to me recently:

"Last spring I formed a 'Why Grow Old' Club and you sent me numerous leaflets at my request. I want to tell you how the club turned out.

"We had a wonderful time! We did exercises together to record music. We started in slowly and worked up gradually as you had advised, and our doctors had told all of us we could exercise. We lost inches and inches and had more fun. I honestly think the benefits of the hearty laughs we had together were as beneficial to our health and personalities as the exercises were to our figures.

"Not one of us would have been faithful had it not been for this weekly meeting we had. We kept scores, that is, when a member had missed daily exercising between our class she had to admit it. Then, when we discontinued for the summer, we gave a prize to the one who had missed fewest days, and the one who had missed the most had to have us for luncheon at her home. "We did not get organized as soon this fall as we meant to but we are beginning, again now. Thank you for suggesting this idea.

"P. S. We took turns keeping the children. One of us would do it each week.

I cannot help passing this on to you because it would be so much fun if more of you started "Why Grow Old?" clubs. It is true that even a weekly meeting keeps the determination for self-improvement alive and stimulates one to persevere. Then too, it solves the problem of the woman who is tied to her home because of young children. This exercise class turned into a social occasion, too, as you can see from the above letter.

Society to Elect New Officers

Third annual meeting of the city will take place at 8 p. m. Long Beach Philosophical Society in the home of Mrs. Irma Venable, 2215 E. Ocean Blvd., Apt. 3, when new officers will be elected. Dr. Stephen C. Tornay, director of the society, will outline the program for the new year.

The philosophic workshop will meet at 8 p. m. Tuesday at 5275 E. Second St. Readings from the Republic of Plato will comprise the next program.

Mrs. Donald Samuel Fowler

'Ann Darnell, Donald Fowler Newly Wed

Now residing in Tucson, Ariz., are the newly married Mr. and Mrs. Donald Samuel Fowler. The former Ann Marie Darnell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Raleigh Darnell, 4200 Lakewood Dr., and her bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Fowler of 4102 Pine Ave., were married in First Methodist Church in Yuma, Ariz., early in December. Rev. Clarence B. Holland officiated.

Attending the pair were Mr. and Mrs. William G. Crist of San Diego, and Frank R. Penrod of Oceanside, who served as best man.

Mrs. Fowler is a graduate of Wilson High School and attended the University of Arizona. Her husband attended Wilson High School where he was a member of Lambda Sigma and was graduated from Menlo High School. He is now a student at University of Arizona.

Reciprocity

Dr. Margaret Clark Sunshine Circle has issued invitations to members of the Presidents Club for a reciprocity coffee hour at 9:45 a. m. Thursday in Municipal Art Center. Bess Gearhart Morrison will entertain in costume. Mrs. Peggy Lowery, president, will welcome guests.

Nuptials Spoken in Evening Ceremony

An evening ceremony, performed by Rev. Bertil von Norman, united in marriage Annemarie Ecke and Kimball Lee Hamberger in Wylie Chapel, First Presbyterian Church of Hollywood.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Werner Ecke of Los Angeles, and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Hamberger of this city.

Maid of honor was Eileen Mary Fuge, and bridesmaids were Barbara Rauwolf, Betty Sperry and Lynn La Ree Hamberger, sister of the bridegroom. Also in the entourage were Donald Emerson, Howard Shugart, Edward Gable and Stanley Davidson, ushers; Wendell Greenlee, best man.

The bride wore a Cahill original of imported white Chantilly lace and accordion pleated nylon net. Her veil was attached to a crown of seed pearls, and she carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley.

The double ring ceremony was witnessed by 200 guests after which a reception took place.

A graduate of Fairfax High in Los Angeles, the bride is now a student at Los Angeles City College. The bridegroom is an honor graduate of Poly High and is at present a senior, majoring in biology, at Cal Tech.

Following a holiday honeymoon to Palm Springs the couple will continue their studies at their respective schools.

French-German Situation Discussed at AAUW Forum

"There must be a wedding between France and Germany, but it will be a marriage of convenience with a reluctant bridegroom and a fearful bride, and the United States in the role of the anxious mother," was the composite opinion of Dr. Rene Belle and Dr. Harold von Hofe as they expressed the opinions and problems of the French and German people during a forum discussion at the January meeting of the University Women's Club.

Topic of the discussion was "Our Stake in France and Germany." The viewpoints of the French and German people were made clear by the respective speakers, heads of the French and German departments at USC, and authorities on their subjects.

Dr. Belle interpreted the French feelings thus: "The French have a deep appreciation of German culture which is a real part of their lives as lovers of great music, poetry and art. However, because of the many wars and occupations, the French fear the rearmament of Germany. Nevertheless, there is a strong group favoring the Schumann plan but they feel adequate economic co-operation must precede political unity. Most Frenchmen are confident that there is no immediate threat of war with Russia and they would rather spend their francs for peacetime projects than for war supplies and preparations."

Dr. von Hofe feels that the French attitude is a major stumbling block in the way of a United Europe. "Although the French fear domination by Germany, the Germans in the West Zone have been educated away from and against militarism. They would never revert to the atrocities of Hitlerism." Von Hofe admits that there is no great love for America among the Germans as a whole but believes that we are the lesser of two evils, Russia being the closer and more terrible. Concerning progress toward unity in Europe, both speakers were agreed that co-operation between France and Germany is essential, and that the United States has the power to enforce harmony. Tribute was paid to Dwight Eisenhower as the Europeans see him, not as a politician but as a man of modesty, honesty and talent who has done much toward the realization of European unity.

A skit cleverly portraying the dual purposes of the coming fashion show for fellowship study grants and the building fund was presented by Meses. K. L. Robinson, Joseph R. McCleskey and Lawrence E. Stewart. Mrs. Frank J. Hardesty presided.

A refreshment period followed the program, with Miss Lucille Webb, financial secretary, pouring hot chocolate

Pilot Club Lives Up to Its Reputation as Service Group

Pilot Club members had every reason to be proud Wednesday night when they held first business dinner meeting of the new year at the Pacific Coast Club. At that time they heard final reports on the many fine and charitable activities engaged in by the club throughout the holiday season.

While President Mildred Morris presided, Margery Procter told of Pilot assistance given the Navy annually for its Christmas party for underprivileged children. Helen Murphy was asked to report on the Christmas party the club hosted for the elderly women at the Hondo Home. Sally Gregory reported on the wholehearted co-operation given the United Nations by local Pilot Club for its far-flung Christmas activities. And finally, Peggy Finley told of Pilot's co-operation with three Cub Scout packs in delivering hundreds of toys (collected and repaired by the Scouts) to equal numbers of underprivileged children in this area.

Yes, as a service club, Pilot lived up to its enviable reputation this year by bringing help and good cheer to countless numbers of less fortunate people.

Queen Beach Chapter of National Secretaries has been invited for the third year to hold a joint meeting with NOMA (National Office Management Association). The meeting will take place Tuesday in the Supper Room of the Lafayette. Frank G. MacIlroy, Pacific Coast manager of Commercial Controls Corp., will be main speaker of the evening and has been chosen as his topic, "Co-operation Between Office Employees." Mrs. Lillian Steers, secretary to J. S. Farra, service manager of Santa Monica National Secretaries Club, will give a history of NSA.

NOMA President "Barney" Bailey will preside, and Queen Beach president, Madeleine Ferguson, will be seated at the head table with him. Lloyd Stanley will serve as chairman of the evening.

Service Set Plans Ahead for Spring

By VIRGINIA NEWTON

Suggestions of spring keep popping up like early gay blossoms. The many busy service groups of our city are making wonderful plans for a brilliant spring season. One of the first groups to greet the New Year and early spring with an installation luncheon party will be Wives of Navy Doctors Club which will install new officers at the Wednesday noon, Jan. 14 luncheon event at Officers Club, Allen Center.

Mrs. Fred Rohow, a charter member of the club, will be senior hostess for the party.

Mrs. Everett Taylor of Lakewood will take over the gavel from Mrs. H. L. Delmore.

Following luncheon, cards will be arranged for those who wish to remain to play.

Reservations may be made with Mrs. Joseph Kelly of 19 Paloma Ave. by Monday noon.

Comdr. and Mrs. E. Hermanson and daughters have moved from their Lakewood Village home to quarters aboard the Long Beach Naval Station, where the naval officer is attached to the Long Beach Group, Pacific Reserve Fleet.

Lt. and Mrs. William Paulick were among the guests enjoying a recent dinner party given at the Officers Club, Allen Center, by Lt. and Mrs. McKell of San Diego.

On Jan. 19 the personnel of the USS Juneau is planning a port and starboard buffet supper and dance at Lakewood Country Club.

Tuesday may have been rainy and gloomy but there was plenty of friendliness and good cheer at Mrs. H. J. Campbell's home in Lakewood when the wives of the staff officers of the USS St. Paul gathered for a coffee party.

Houseguest of Comdr. and Mrs. E. W. Sweezy is the commander's mother, Mrs. W. W. Sweezy Sr., of Wilton, N. H. Mrs. Sweezy spent several days recently at Palm Springs.

Lt. Comdr. and Mrs. Robert Slach have been in Tucson, Ariz. the past several weeks visiting with Mrs. Slach's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. T. Weitz.

Happy birthday to Mike Tooke, son of Capt. and Mrs. C. M. Tooke, who had a real rootin' tootin' birthday party at his home yesterday with his classmates and neighbors of the space control age who live at the Naval Station were present to wish him a happy nine years.

The no-host party of the Coast Guard officers and their ladies has been set ahead to the evening of Jan. 16 at Officers Club, Allen Center, in the television room. Dinner and dancing will be the order of the evening.

Reservations should be in by Monday and may be made in this area with Mrs. H. E. Peters or in the San Pedro group with Mrs. C. J. Hahn or Mrs. W. J. Edwards.

In town seeing friends and enjoying his family was Comdr. E. C. Folger. He has taken off again now for far-off ports.

Wednesday will find that pleasant group of ladies from the Long Beach Group, Pacific Reserve Fleet, gathering at the Officers Club, Allen Center, for their first luncheon meeting of the new year. Hostess for the party will be Mrs. Anthony Mack.

Gerard Mull, who has been visiting with Capt. and Mrs. C. M. Tooke and family, has left for duty at the Lackland Air Base in Texas.

Comdr. and Mrs. F. G. Springer entertained Comdr. and Mrs. Souza from Brazil last Tuesday evening at the cocktail hour. It had been quite a few years since the Brazilian naval officer and Comdr. Springer had been together at MIT.

Another item of fun from the Springer household was a happy trip to Snow Summit at Big Bear where "all hands" including youngsters Tommy and Sigie went skiing.

Officers wives of NAS, Los Alamitos, will enjoy an early spring luncheon party Jan. 22 at Officers Club at the Air Base. Senior hostesses for the event will be Mmes. John Drew, Orrin Keffer and Jesse Taylor.

Capt. and Mrs. Wayne Gamet entertained at the cocktail hour recently at a welcome aboard to Comdr. and Mrs. E. Hermanson.

Rear Adm. and Mrs. Walter E. Moore were guests of Norm and Judy Durkin at the Officers' Town Club, recently when they were entertained at a cocktail event with other high ranking officers and their ladies. The Moores are now residing in Coronado. The Admiral will leave shortly for Korea.

Group 13, Wednesday, noon luncheon with Mrs. B. Johnston, 1329 Cedar Ave., with Mmes. J. M. Gladfelter and Geneva Brown, cohostesses.

Group 14, Wednesday, noon luncheon at Town Hall; hostesses, Mmes. Tyrone Richardson, Maud McCarty, Robert A. Martin and Cora Barnum.

Group 20, Wednesday, noon luncheon at Colonial Hall; hostesses, Mmes. Alva Doll, Frank J. Jekel, Lois T. Fisher and Sadie E. Given.

Group 10, Thursday, noon luncheon at home of Mrs. Frank Green, 5365 Daggett St., Mrs. Sylvia Buffum, cohostesses.

Group 17, Tuesday, noon luncheon at Colonial Hall; hostesses, Mmes. Alice Knapp, Mary Kendig, Daisy Joy, Blanche Wallace and Miss Ruth Manchester.

Group 23, Tuesday, dessert luncheon at Town Hall; hostesses, Mmes. R. L. Townsend, Anna Showalter, A. B. Murphy and Bertha Fosher.

Membership committee, Monday, noon luncheon at home of Mrs. H. T. Taylor, 2622 E. 10th St., with Mrs. George H. Forster Jr., presiding; cohostesses, Mmes. Herbert Bromley and Bertha Kinnison.

Representative chairmen, Tuesday, noon luncheon at Britany Kitchen, 90 Atlantic Ave.

Marolyn Mills Is Bride-Elect Of R. A. Perry

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel A. Mills of 3339 Orange Ave. are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Marolyn Jean, to Robert Allan Perry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude A. Perry, 6030 Falcon Ave.

The bride-elect, a graduate of St. Anthony's High School, attended LBCC where she was affiliated with Entre Nous, and is now a student at a business college. She is a member of Long Beach Spinners.

Her fiancé, a graduate of Jordan High School, attended LBCC, and is now serving with the Navy aboard the USS Yorktown.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Auxiliary Session

Commander Edwina McCoy will talk on the membership drive, the volunteer hospital program, legislative, Americanism and child welfare programs, during her term of office, at the Monday evening meeting of Long Beach No. 17, Disabled American Veterans Auxiliary in Veterans Memorial Bldg. Announcement will be made at the 8 p. m. session of the Seventh District meeting to take place Jan. 19 in Florence.

Betrothal of Couple Is Revealed at Family Dinner

The engagement of Miss Kathye Van Ruiten to William A. Jakle was announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter S. Van Ruiten, 3750 Bloomfield, Artesia, at a family dinner.

The bride-elect is a graduate of St. Anthony's High School and a past president of Philatheneas. She attended Immaculate Heart College in Hollywood and is now a business college student.

Parish to Present Show, Tea Tuesday

A house beautiful show and tea will be staged by St. Barnabas Parish Council at 1 p. m. Tuesday in the parish hall when Miss Margo Grahame, color stylist and decorating consultant from Hollywood, and Mrs. Pearl McInnis, floral arranger, will be guest speakers.

Serving on the committee with chairman Mrs. Charles Lane are Mmes. F. M. Lowry, Alex Napier, Mary L. Mayfield, William Fearon, Richard Lake and James McGanney.

Luncheon Monday

Anna Etheridge Tent, Daughters of Union Veterans, will meet at 11:30 a. m. Monday for sandwich luncheon and to make plans for the installation of new officers. Mrs. Hattie Wagner will preside.

Miss Kathryn Ann McOsker

Engagement of College Pair Is Told

An engagement linking the names of a prominent Long Beach State College couple is being announced by Mr. and Mrs. William P. McOsker, whose daughter, Kathryn Ann, is the bride-elect of James T. Boxx, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Boxx, 4722 Lomina Ave.

The McOskers revealed the romantic news to friends in their home in San Pedro recently, and the surprise announcement was made by Miss McOsker at a recent open house in her home in Long Beach. State College friends of the couple attended.

No definite date has been set for the wedding.

Now teaching in the Compton city school system, the bride-elect was graduated from St. Anthony's High School, Compton Junior College and Long Beach State College. She was a Delta Kappa Phi at Compton and Kappa Phi Gamma at State College.

Philatelic Gathering

Coast Philatelic Club will gather at the Pacific Coast Club, Friday, at 7 p. m. for dinner and a meeting. C. W. Christian, president, will preside. Don Groaton will speak on the stamps of Japan and tell of his experiences while teaching, traveling and stamp collecting in that country. There will be many other interesting features highlighting the evening's program.

'Bargain Box,' Alumni Plans, New Citizens, Occupy Socialites

By IOLA MASTERSON

Poor little Master New Year can't figure out why everyone is so slow and pokey, especially in the parties and hoop-la department. Don't worry, fella, we'll perk up. You weren't around to see the 12th round beating we took from '52! Takes time to recover.

Looking forward to February 20, we see the Junior League's rummage sale par excellence which will be known as "The Bargain Box." Copied after the annual San Diego affair that Diegans wouldn't miss for the world, this one will find Long Beach folks from "soup to nuts" rummaging and loving it. Carolyn Raney is chairman, and those helping are legion. Among the hardest workers (so far) have been Jane Heppes, Freda Prichard, and Roberta Fast.

City College students were looking over their shoulders Thursday wondering where the sudden influx of "old-timers" were coming from! We can tell 'em! There's a big movement afoot to start a really rip-roarin' City College Alumni Association and some of the "oldsters" who are key people in the campaign were on campus to confer with Dean Russ Johnson and Ella Lewis. Among them, seen through the eyes of youth, were Bob Rope, Jerry Desmond, Jack Grisham, Barbara Gracely, Bill Harris, Margaret Hanson, Loren Procter, Lois Wright and John Johnston.

Jackie and Dean Lucas' little tad decided he'd rather be able to say "I was born in 1953"—and so he was, waiting as he did until Jan. 3 to make his arrival. Delighted parents have named him Kurt and he and Jackie are undoubtedly home from Harri-man Jones by now.

Looks like this will be a great month in the new citizens division. Ann and Lynn Evans welcomed their third son Jan. 2 over at Seaside.

And then the jackpot of baby news—Doris and Jack Warnock's twin girls, Anne Elizabeth and Mary Kathleen, who arrived Dec. 20 but who didn't all get together as a family at home until Mary K. was released last Saturday from Seaside. The little lovelies weighed 4 pounds 8 ounces and 4 pounds, 3 ounces at birth.

It happened so fast, Dorothy Wiltse is wondering if it was all a dream or was her brother, Jerry Stenehjem, really here for the briefest of visits from home in North Dakota. He arrived in Southern Cal last Saturday, arriving here Tuesday from Redlands for a leisurely visit with Dorothy but up pops business and Wednesday morning at a very early hour he left by plane for the cold, cold country again.

On explicit orders from her doctor on just what to do, when, and how is Linda Fisher, who was released from the hospital first of the week and has returned to studies at UCLA. It was virus but Linda calls it just plain "ugh!"

The University Club is whipping up a really worthwhile and fun trip for members, their children (of a proper age) and guests. They are going to a special and privately conducted visit and tour of the Los Angeles County Museum on the night of Jan. 30. "Vic" Mingers is chairman in charge and tells us the trip to and from will be made by chartered bus and sure to be aboard are such people as "Vic's" wife, Suzanne and their guests: Thurlayne Waite, Zephra Bates and Barbara Freeman as well as such other University Club members Tom and Virginia Russell, Julian and Peg Davis, president "Cec" and Gerry Willis, Mary Jane and Paul Hull, Ray and Peg Webb, Comdr. and Mrs. Forrest Phippeny, and a host of others. Buffet dinner at the club rooms before leaving and a stop for hamburgers and the like en route home.

Margaret and Harvey Hitchcock's home would have been mobbed by an admiring throng of young people had they but known of the open house Margaret and her daughter, Jo Ann, gave recently for Nina Bara. Recognize that name, kids? She's none other than the sultry "Tonga" of "Space Patrol" fame. Jo Ann, you see, is national president of the Nina Bara Fan Club and as such it was her pleasure to entertain the TV star.

Norma and Bill Harris are all moved to their delightful new home at 640 Santiago—but don't mention that word "settled" because, as yet, they're not. Part of the reason for the latter is that they didn't miss a party all through the moving procedure which coincided with the holidays. And for this popular pair that means they were on the go every night!

Didn't find out until this week that Irma and Bob Leeblick whipped back into town New Year's Eve from a Christmas visit with daughter and son-in-law, Hattie and Maj. Dick Pullen in Kennewick, Wash. Like the faithful men in gray, "not snow, nor rain" stayed them from their trip up nor their return in time to root in the Rose Bowl.

Glimpsed Dr. Harry Jacob and Lyman Berg in jocular conversation in front of the Lafayette one noon this week.

Jane and Gil Brown New Yeared in Palm Springs, returning this past week end after sunny, calm, and lovely days in the desert.

Friday night high potentate of the local New York Life office, Willard Campbell, and his wife, Frances, were honored by the staff and agents at cocktails and dinner at the Greenbrier at the regular annual office party.

Doris Holmes Is Lovely in Chantilly Lace Bridal Gown

Miss Doris Joanne Holmes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph A. Holmes, 13172 Newland St., Garden Grove, and William Jay Kennedy of Bakersfield, son of Mrs. Ollie Kennedy of Turlock were united in marriage at the Garden Wedding Chapel in Long Beach. Officiating at the rites was Dr. Reuben L. Anderson.

Gowned in white Chantilly lace and nylon net over satin, the bride was given in marriage by her father. Her veil extended from a lace Dutch cap trimmed with seed pearls and she carried a shower bouquet of white roses and pink rosebuds.

Diane Holmes attended her sister as maid of honor. Sandra Kay Brooks was flower girl. LeRoy H. Kennedy served as best man and the guests were seated by Harry Williamson and Charlie Russell. Candles were lighted by Dale Warren Holmes.

The reception, held in the Holmes residence, was attended

Cisar-Smola Betrothal Told

The engagement of her daughter, Miss Marieanna Smola, is being announced by Mrs. Frank Smola of 261 Quincey Ave. Miss Smola is betrothed to Walter Cisar, son of Mrs. Harold Cisar of North Hollywood.

The bride-elect, a graduate of Wilson High, attended City College where she was active in music organizations and is now a senior student nurse at Los Angeles General Hospital.

The future bridegroom is a graduate of North Hollywood High and is attending East Los Angeles Junior College and has lately returned from Germany where he served in the Army.

March 28 is the date set for the wedding.

Flowers-Jones Wedding Highlights Norwalk Notes

By ELEANOR ZIMMERMAN

One of the loveliest recent evening weddings was that of Doris Jones and S-Sgt. Eugene Flowers, USAF, at First Baptist Church in Montebello. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Jones, 13612 Longworth, and the bridegroom the son of Mrs. I. M. Flowers of Ludowick, Ga.

Rev. Malcolm Long performed the ceremony, and the bride, given in marriage by her father, wore white satin styled en train with a net yoke and fitted bodice. A white seed pearl cap held her illusion veil and she carried white orchids and carnations.

Mrs. Rosemarie McAllister served her sister as matron of honor, and Connie Hall was best man. Ushers were Victor Tullies and J. T. McAllister.

A reception followed at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. M. C. Hall, 10727 Rosecrans. After a honeymoon trip to Georgia, the couple will reside at Albuquerque, N. M. The bride attended high school at Excelsior until her marriage.

Gloom has descended on the D. D. Johnston PTA with the news that their charming and capable charter president, Dorothy Andersen, is moving soon to Louisiana. Her husband, Norm, has been transferred to a district managership at the New Orleans office of Gillette Co. and leaves this week to find a new home for the Andersen family. Dorothy and Kiddle, Dian and Barry, will follow in March. They had just returned from a vacation with their families in San Francisco and Berkeley and are reluctant to start packing again.

Very surprised but pleased was 12-year-old Lorna Davis of the Fairfield Ave. Davises, who with her escort, Rodney Krukberg, won the waltz contest at Kalie's music party this week.

Mrs. Sally McComb, March of Mothers chairman, has issued a call for volunteers to join the porchlight brigade on Thursday, Feb. 5. Volunteers may write Sally at 14521 Horst.

Mr. and Mrs. Lou Stockton, 11507 E. Firestone, will represent the 51st Congressional District at the inauguration ceremonies in Washington next week. Mrs. Stockton is a member of the Republican State Central Committee and the pair will attend the inaugural banquet at Uline Arena on the 19th and the inauguration at noon on Jan. 20. Tickets were issued by the joint inaugural committees of Congress, and the Stocktons will be among the 132 official representatives from California.

Expecting to attend a bridge luncheon next door, Mrs. Bert Frazer walked unsuspectingly into a surprise shower given by Mrs. Warren Hastings, 11007 Benfield.

Bingo was the chief diversion of the afternoon for Mmes. James Ferges, Melvin Ferges, Wayne Bruckner, Paul Albright, Robert Grundon, Jack Midgett, Bill Irvine, Harvey Smith, B. Thow and Harvey Patterson.

Miss Jo Kee is expected home this week from Oakland, where she has been recuperating from an illness at the home of relatives. She will return to her sixth grade class at Morfitt School.

Mrs. Helen Rasher has been named new mother of Den 6, Pack 307-C, and will entertain mothers of the den at her home, 12104 Lindale, Thursday at 2 p. m.

Mrs. J. S. McKown of Long

Navy Wives Club

Navy Wives Club of America, No. 1, will meet at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday at the Savannah Gardens Naval Housing, with Mrs. William R. Eddins as hostess. Tickets will be distributed for the spaghetti dinner being planned for 6:30 p. m. Jan. 27 at the above address, to which the public is invited. Proceeds will be used for the Navy Wives' welfare projects. Mrs. Irvin Pierce is president of the club.

INSTRUMENTAL in arranging an outstanding series of chamber music concerts at the Municipal Art Center beginning today at 4 p. m. and the second, and fourth Sunday afternoons of each month thereafter, are Samuel Heinrich, director of the center, left; Mrs. George Waldvogel Jr., and Mrs. Herbert Waite, right. This afternoon the Pacific Art Trio will perform works by Brahms and Shostakovitch. The second art mart also will open today and both events are open to the public. —(Staff photo.)

College Club Plans Events

University Women's Club announces the following meetings for this week:

Monday, Zone 4, 7:30 p. m. at home of Mrs. Melba Neft, 1651 Termino Ave.; Zones 6 and 10, 7:30 p. m. at home of Mrs. G. W. Maxfield, 1942 Magnolia.

Tuesday, travel section, 7:30 p. m., Municipal Art Center; Zone 7, at 7:30 p. m. at home of Mrs. A. G. Maspero, 700 Cartagena.

Wednesday, music section, 7:45 p. m., Municipal Art Center; Junior Group, 8 p. m., Municipal Art Center; Recent Graduates, 7:30 p. m. at home of Mrs. G. J. Gissberg, 3944 Elm Ave.; Zone 13, 7:30 p. m. at home of Dr. Margaret Moore, 701 Pacific Ave.; Zone 3E, 1 p. m. at home of Mrs. H. I. Sargent, 600 Ocean Ave., Seal Beach; Zones 2, 12 and 13, 1 p. m. at home of Mrs. Grace Henry, 755 Elm Ave.

Thursday, liberal arts section, 7:45 p. m. at home of Mrs. Hilda Donaldson, 714 E. 37th; parliamentary law section, 10 a. m., Municipal Art Center; Zone 8.

Shirley Pugh Is Married

Miss Shirley Pugh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Pugh, was united in marriage with Fred Duncan Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Duncan Sr., at the home of her parents, 11102 Woodbury Rd., Garden Grove, Jan. 1.

Performing the double ring ceremony was James Wheeler, minister of the Church of Christ, Orange.

A gray suit with red accessories was worn by the bride, while the matron of honor, Mrs. George Horton, sister of the bride, wore a green suit with brown accessories. George Horton, brother-in-law of the groom, served as best man.

Welcoming the guests at the reception were Mr. and Mrs. Pugh. Duncan is stationed at Bremerton, Wash., with the Navy and his bride will reside at the home of her parents until he returns from overseas duty.

A HOBBY that turned into a profession . . . Andy's Hotcake House. "Andy" is really Chef of the Week Anderson L. Gassaway, and his venture in the food world is as natural as life itself. Fate seemed to play it that way. His friends and customers are happy with fate . . . you may be sure.—[Photo by Jasper Nutter.]

Chef of the Week

'Andy' Ventures Into Food World, Perfects Hotcakes

By MILDRED K. FLANARY
Press-Telegram Home Economics Editor

"Particular Food for Particular People" . . . one time a dream but now an actuality . . . and particular people from the north, south, east and the west trek to Andy's Hotcake House, 643½ Pine Ave., to partake of those hotcakes and everything else that's good. The atmosphere is informal and gracious, yet elegant, and one is treated as a friend, not just a customer. You may make your own "breakfast" change—pour your own breakfast coffee or chat with "Andy" in the kitchen.

Chef of the Week, Anderson L. Gassaway seemed destined to become a "chef" for each path which he followed in his business career seemingly led to the gourmet department. After completing two years of high school (which was all that his home town of Hulbert, Okla., had to offer) he entered business college in Tulsa. He enhanced the exchequer in those days by working for a very successful restaurateur. There he saw the finest foods prepared and served, and his magic dream began to take form.

From Tulsa he came to Long Beach, but was unable to continue his business course without four years of high school, so finish he did. The food bug caught up with him again, and several years with Manning's Coffee Cafe taught him much from the food quality and business angle. Banking was his next vocation, then World War II, and a four-year "hitch." 'Twas then his second chance to get a business degree materialized, and he entered Long Beach College of Commerce. This "degree" was interspersed with rare books on cookery and his hobby for preparing tasty dishes for his friends at home. He was a natural, and it was fun for him to plan and execute a complete dinner for a group of neighbors. The day came when his course was finished, but with it came the plea of two very good friends to take over their cafe business. The urge was so great he succumbed and began again to express himself through the medium of food. Though still young in his restaurant undertaking, his heart is in his work . . . he continues his study of food lore . . . and he serves for the sheer joy of serving.

Oh, yes! Here's how he does those hotcakes:

- 3 Extra large eggs
- 1 quart Fresh Churned Butter-milk
- 1. 14 oz. Flour
- 2. 3 oz. Sugar
- 3. 1½ tablespoons baking powder
- 4. 1½ teaspoons soda
- 5. 1 teaspoon salt

1½ cup melted butter

Weigh 1-2-3-4-5 and mix well.

Separate eggs. Add buttermilk to yolks. Add dry mix. Add melted butter. Beat egg whites, fold in batter. This makes 8 servings.

Civic Group Aids in Construction of Community Center

By NORTH STAR TREADWAY

The last thank you note has been written, reciprocal hospitality has been extended and a bright new calendar of activity looms ahead for civic, service and cultural groups in Hollywood. Intensifying their joint efforts in raising sufficient funds to begin construction of the Hollywood Community Center are officers of Hollywood Civic Council Auxiliary. Supporting the campaign currently held by council members, the auxiliary is scheduling a card party, rummage sale, breakfast and valentine dance.

Gathering at the home of their president, Mrs. Don Shetler, executive officers enthusiastically opened their annual membership drive. To serve as team captains are Mmes. Morris Solomon, Don Shetler, Sam Rodda and Benjamin Pisker.

Detailed plans were discussed in preparation for the Queen of Hearts Valentine dance, Feb. 7, at Downey Hall, when Mrs. Olin Tucker will co-chairman the event with Louis Corona Jr., council member.

Mrs. Don Pederson heads the telephone committee and official hostesses will be Mmes. Don Shetler, Olin Tucker, Al Venhous, Edward Berryman, Morris Solomon, Sam Rodda, Tom Holbert, C. L. Heusted and Thomas Blewett Jr.

Teeming with spring gardening tips and covers for possible late frost nipping of Nicholas blossoms, are members of the Hollywood Branch of the California Fuchsia Society who will meet Jan. 16 at Hollywood School to hear Mrs. Ralph E. Boggs, CFWC district garden section, cochairman, speak on "Roses."

Robert Renner will conduct a plant exchange and Mrs. Morris Solomon will present membership and birthday plants.

Volunteering their services as members of the decorating committee for the Jan. 11 installation of Loren Paulson, state president, are Lynn Ohlson, Emil Wolfberger and Don Jones.

Executive officers will convene Jan. 13 at the Pennsylvania Ave. residence of Mr. and Mrs. Al Bachman.

Journeymen to Yuma, Ariz., to spend a long week holiday with their husbands were Mrs. Wilma Pittman and Mrs. Margaret Pittman and Fauvette and Genette, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Pittman, 5777 Main St. Gene and his brother, Howard, are establishing a large concrete manufacturing firm in the Arizona city, and both families are planning on moving to Yuma next year.

Houseguests the past week of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Nelson, 6111 McKinley, were Mr. and Mrs. John J. Lovejoy of Carson City, Nev. The Lovejoys formerly made their home in Hollywood and enjoyed renewing old acquaintances with neighbors, friends and former business associates.

A nostalgic note marked the recent installation ceremonies for Worthy Adviser Guille Elkins by members of Hollywood Assembly 127, Rainbow Order for Girls, at Legion Hall.

Effectively using the "Harp of Harmony" theme in decorations and ceremonials, Fauvette Pittman addressed a tribute to the retiring officer composed of song titles.

Escort was extended to grand representative of Nevada, Nancy Griffith; past worthy advisers, Audrey Armstrong and Marvyn Hogue; past grant executive officer and charter mother adviser, Wilma Pittman and past worthy matron, Florence OES, Viola Goodman.

Accepting the presidency of the Mothers' Club was Mrs. Lesser Hanke.

Once again, Rev. Murray J. Pallett, Mrs. Pallett and daughters, Faith, Muriel and Betty, were entertained by members of the Hollywood Nazarene Church. Rev. Pallett and his family are now residing in Billings, Mont., and returned to Hollywood the past week for a short vacation. The minister and his family formerly resided at 5784 S. Main St.

Returning from Canton, O., this week, are holiday travelers, Mr. and Mrs. James Staneart, 7340 E. Cortland Ave. Moving east a month ago, the Stanearts were houseguests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ault of the midwestern city.

A day in the snow at Big Bear, was enjoyed by avid winter sportsmen, Mr. and Mrs. Vern Taylor, 11702 S. Pennsylvania, who returned tired, spent and sunburned.

Enjoying the hospitality of Mrs. Norma Bergh, 13734 S. Facade St., were dinner guests, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rankin of Inglewood, Roger Mowry, a cousin, Norman Freshwater and Mr. and Mrs. Al Rund of Belflower.

Norwegian Player Shows How to Win Tough Hand

The match for the World's Championship now ending reminds me of some of the fine hands played in the European Championship last summer. A Swedish team won that championship and earned the right to compete against the American champions for the world championship.

Today's hand was played during the European Championship between the Norwegian and the English team. In both rooms the final contract was four spades, although it was reached by somewhat different bidding in the two rooms.

In the first room, the English declarer won the first trick with the ace of spades and promptly led a low diamond from his hand. When West played low, dummy finessed the seven and East won with the jack.

East realized that South would not attempt this deep finesse unless he had three diamonds. This meant that West had started with a doubleton diamond, in which case a ruffing trick could be obtained. East therefore returned a diamond at once.

Dummy won, and declarer led a trump to knock out East's king. East then led his last diamond, and West was able to ruff. West naturally took the ace of hearts at once to defeat the contract.

In the other room a Norwegian player demonstrated a better way to play the hand. After winning the first trick with the ace of spades, he promptly led his singleton heart. This play could cost very little if East had the ace of hearts, but it would gain a great deal if West had the ace of hearts.

As it happened, West did have the ace of hearts and put it up at once. Now dummy's king of hearts could furnish a diamond discard to declarer, and South needed only the normal finesse of the queen of diamonds instead of a deep finesse.

After winning the ace of hearts, West led another trump to East's king. South was subsequently able to draw a third round of trumps and finesse the queen of diamonds. One diamond ruff then brought in the rest of dummy's suit and South made 11 tricks. Quite a difference between going down one and making an extra trick!

1953's Most Heralded Birth

By Vera Williams

ALL "I LOVE LUCY" fans—and that means practically everyone who has television or access to television—know that Lucille Ball and her husband, Desi Arnaz, are going to have a baby.

Monday night by Monday night in recent weeks as the popular comedy has come on the screen, the fact has become increasingly obvious, and for several weeks now the TV drama has centered around the blessed event which had not taken place as this goes to press, but is officially slated for the latter part of this month.

In fact, some Ball-Arnaz fans believe this is the most widely heralded heir apparent in the history of the world, royalty included (sponsors say that 32,000,000 people watch the program regularly).

The couple already have a daughter, Lucie Desiree Arnaz, born July 17, 1951.

Miss Ball, who has overcome many setbacks along the road to stardom, thus passes another milestone in her career.

At the end of her first year in dramatic school, Lucille was told that she was wasting her money. Her first four Broadway jobs, as a chorus girl, ended in four prompt dismissals. Just as she began to gain recognition as a model, she almost lost her life in an automobile accident and was told she never would walk again. It took her eight months in bed and three years of persistent, painful effort to reverse the doctor's gloomy prediction.

Born in Jamestown, N. Y., the daughter of Fred and Desiree Ball, mining engineer and concert pianist, respectively, Lucille was taken at the age of two to Wyandotte, Mich.

Mrs. Ball started her daughter's music lessons at the age of 5, then enrolled her in Chautauqua Institute of Music for two seasons. At 15, Lucille entered a dramatic school in New York and was told at the end of the first year of study that she would be better off applying her energies in some other field.

Determined to show her teacher that she could make good in show business, Miss Ball landed a chorus job in the third road company of Ziegfeld's "Rio Rita"—and lost the job after five weeks of rehearsal. Three other chorus jobs followed, none of which lasted beyond the rehearsal period. Her "first real job on Broadway" was as a soda fountain girl in a drug store.

A JOB as a $25-a-week model for a wholesale dress company led to a modeling job with Hattie Carnegie. Then came a tragic accident in Central Park, and three years and eight months of learning to walk.

Back as a model, Lucille was featured in magazine and billboard cigaret advertisements, and Hollywood scouts brought her to the film capital for a showgirl role in Eddie Cantor's

"Roman Scandals."

Columbia Pictures gave her a contract as a stock player and Lucille, convinced that her luck finally had turned, sent for her mother, grandmother and sister to join her in California. BUT the morning after she wired her family, the studio decided to dissolve its stock company. When the family arrived, Lucille was working as an extra at Paramount.

Bit parts and extra roles in a number of pictures kept Lucille busy but not prosperous, until she was cast in "Roberta." RKO officials, impressed by her work, gave her a contract. When not busy before the cameras, she was a mainstay of the studio's Little Theater.

Her performance in the second lead in "The Girl From Paris" drew Broadway's attention, and she was offered a lead in the musical, "Hey, Diddle, Diddle." After satisfying her desire to perform on the Great White Way, she returned to Hollywood for "Stage Door" and "Too Many Girls." In the latter picture she was co-starred with Desi Arnaz. They were married Nov. 30, 1940, in Greenwich, Conn.

BACK from her honeymoon, Lucille walked into her first really big break, a role in "The Big Street," based on a story by Damon Runyon. Overnight it made her a star. In it, she played a showgirl paralyzed from the waist down. Her own three and one-half years in a similar predicament enabled her to play the role so convincingly that she had every studio bidding for her services. She signed with MGM on her birthday, Aug. 6, 1942. Her first assignment at MGM was the title role in the Technicolor production, "DuBarry Was a Lady." Stellar roles followed in "Best Foot Forward" and "Meet the People." After completing "Easy to Wed" with Van Johnson, she headed for New York to be with her husband, then out of the Army, and on his way to success in the orchestra business.

Shortly after completing "Her Husband's Affairs," Miss Ball went on tour as star of Elmer Rice's play, "Dream Girl."

This scene, of Lucy and her living room, is a familiar one to the thousands who watch her television program.

Between pictures and stage appearances, Lucille and her husband live at Desilu, their five-acre ranch at Chatsworth.

The Arnazes raise cattle, chickens, dogs and cats and dabble in farming. Enthusiastic fishermen, they spend a lot of time on their boat.

Lucille, who is 5 feet 6 inches tall and weighs 120 pounds, sleeps in a bed 7 by 7 feet. She likes spicy dishes and enjoys knocking around the house in dungarees.

In her role as Lucy Ricardo in "I Love Lucy," she is starred as the feminine half of a closely knit married couple. And that's her role in real life.

If Lucy and Desi appear a trifle bored at being photographed at breakfast, perhaps you'll understand; for they're a closely-knit couple in married life, too.

Her Dolls Do All but Talk

By Jule Armin

IN A wee house at 309 W. Seventh St., elbowed by city apartments, lives a woman who makes dolls that look amazingly like the people after whom they were modelled.

A sweet-faced nun, hands demurely folded over her tiny rosary, stands between a sultry belle of the Gay 90's and a dashing senorita. Tousle-haired boys, modeled after her daughter's twin sons, stare wide-eyed at a dancing lady. Dolls in silks, dolls in homespun and dolls in costumes made of a fairylike substance their creator says once was common milk filters. Life-sized dolls, pint-sized dolls, puppets and character dolls.

"I've always loved dolls," June Marston, their creator, says. "I am a native Californian and I started my collection right here. Later I traveled over the world collecting dolls. In Long Beach Recreation Commission art and craft classes, I learned to make puppets and that led me to experiment in making dolls."

"Creating is much more fun

Gay '90s belle is in Mrs. Marston's original group.

than collecting. In the past 20 years, I must have made 100 dolls."

The character dolls are her own creation, too, from their wire "bones" to the tips of their waxed thread "eyelashes."

"I bend rather stiff wire into the general body shape first," Mrs. Marston explains. "Then pad the wire with cotton to form the body contour. Inch-wide strips of crepe paper wound over this makes the skin. I tint this 'skin' with oil paints so I can vary the color."

"Life-like hands are the hardest part to make on tiny figures." She holds up a miniature doll. Long, graceful fingers are tipped with fingernails no bigger than the head of a pin.

"I mold the head and facial contour from a mixture of fine screened sawdust mixed with paste to bread dough consistency," Mrs. Marston says. "This is covered with French crepe, pulled literally 'skin-tight.' When it is thoroughly dry, I paint the flesh color and features with oil colors. I use real hair whenever possible so I can dress it in pin curls, then comb it out or do it up in the style appropriate to the character of the doll. Eyelashes and eyebrows are of waxed thread. Then comes the fun of dressing my little people."

THE DANCING DOLL pirouettes on one ballet-slipped toe, her sequin-dotted net skirt sparkling as it swirls about her knees. A saucily plumed hat the size of a dime sets off her platinum blonde hair. She has a complete set of pearl jewelry—ring, bracelet, necklace, earrings, even tiny seed pearl buckles on the tips of her dancing shoes.

Hugh and Eric, the little boy twins, have big brown eyes and dark, curly hair. A brightly-dressed Mexican senorita commemorates friendships over the border. The long lashed, sleepy-eyed beauty in rustling, mauve taffeta, wearing a tiny cameo brooch and heavy gold earrings looks like an actress ready to step on a Gay 90's movie set.

Sometimes June Marston makes whole stage sets in miniature. A tree of apple blossoms shades a foot-square playground where a group of Tom Thumb boys and girls climb its branches, swing under its boughs and romp in its shade on the clipped paper lawn. On another plot close by, half a dozen brightly costumed girl dolls gaily wind a Maypole.

Daniel Boone--'53

Shades of Daniel Boone! Hundreds of Southern Californians are reviving the fine art of shooting the old muzzle-loading arms. In fact, they have banded into a select fraternity known as the Muzzleloaders Association, and the more than 250 members in Long Beach gather the second Thursday of each month (7 p. m. at Silverado Park Clubhouse) for gabfests. Some are real champions.

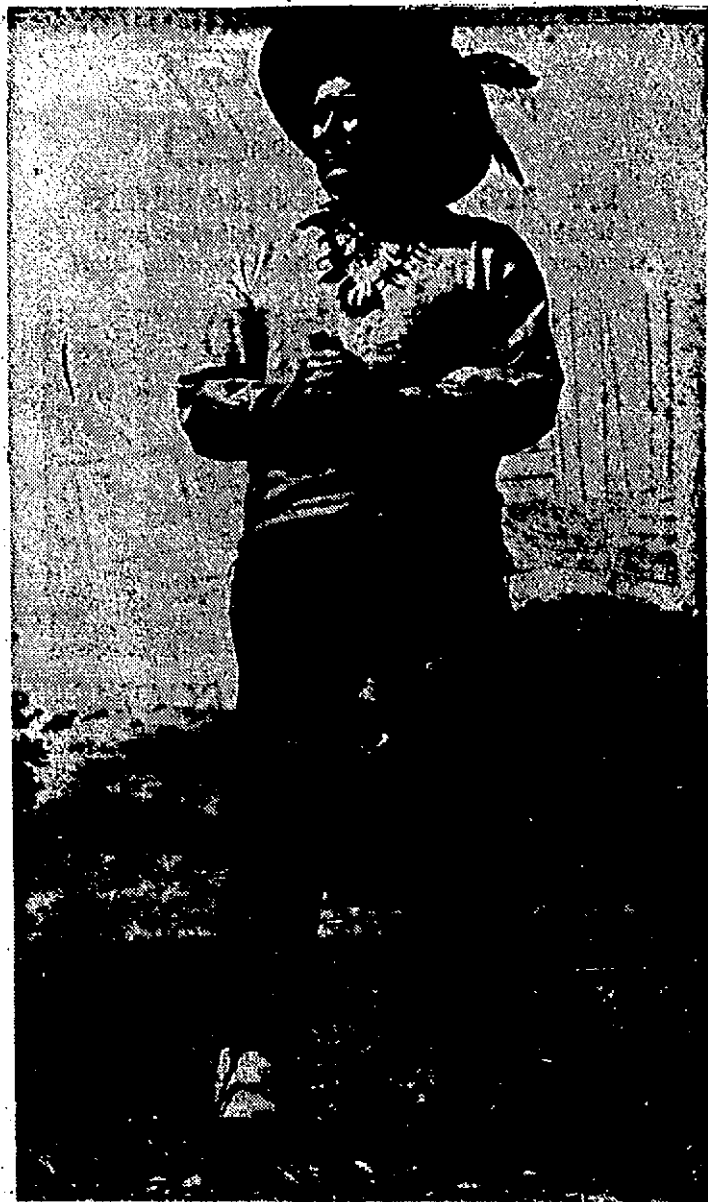

Muzzleloaders in this area meet the first and third Sundays of each month. (10 a. m. at the Long Beach Pistol Range) for real, old-fashioned shoots.

Patches, black powder, ramrods are only part of the paraphernalia it takes to load a muzzleloading gun. But these gents love everything about shooting.

This Muzzleloader checks his score through a telescope. Best marksmen at local shoots go to national meet which last year was held at Friendship, Ind.

Meet Daniel Boone of '53! Milo Taylor, Long Beach, shown in frontiersman's garb and holding his old Kentucky, is National Muzzleloading Slug Gun Champ.

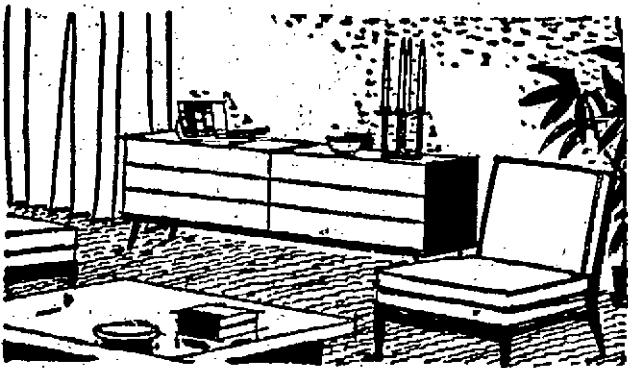

Holding antique bazooka is Verle Hull, Bell, California state muzzleloading marksmanship champion.

IN HOME DECORATION

Weekly Decorating Helps contributed by a member of the Aaron Schultz Decorating Staff

DE-CLUTTER SMALL ROOMS

Few of us have rooms as large as we think we'd like them to be. Some look larger than they are, thanks to decorating ingenuity that you can easily adapt to your own home.

Uncluttered surfaces make small rooms seem larger. The larger the smooth surface, the more effective. De-clutter small rooms by clearing table tops of useless scarves and figurines. Let something as simple as a bowl of fresh fruit be the only decoration. Clear walls of little fussy pictures, ornate brackets, mementos and hangings. Leave one or perhaps two pictures in simple frames.

Treat a series of windows like one large window. Hang draperies ceiling to floor without a break. Select monotone, rather than print fabrics, with interest supplied by texture variations.

Your furniture, too, can contribute to the airy, openness that enlarges rooms. Tops of glass, tapered frames, so called "floating" design... all these minimize bulk in their appearances.

These are but a few of the ideas you can put to work to "enlarge" your own home. Come to Aaron Schultz home consultants without charge or obligation.

Happy Garden of

By Margaret Pitcairn Strachan

THE HAROLD C. FREEMANS of 9381 S. Hillview Rd., Garden Grove, have named their home in the Orange Wood Acres section, Friendship's Garden. Freeman's hobby is growing flowers and for many years he gave away and swapped plants with his friends—when he bought his new home he decided to have a regular plan so that he always would know from whom he received his choice specimens and every time he walked around his garden he would be filled with memories of his friends. He had name tags made for each plant, tree or shrub, with the name of the donor upon it.

The Freemans feel that they have found a perfect place to live—"This neighborhood is unique," Freeman says. "The night we moved in the neighbors sent over food for our dinner so that we did not need to stop working to cook. At Christmas time one neighbor made identical decorations for the lamp posts of each house. We have get-togethers for barbecue suppers and little dinners. Nobody seems to be able to do enough for you!"

And the Freemans found their home purely by accident. A friend told Freeman he had seen the perfect house for him. Freeman wasn't interested, sounded to him as though it was at the end of the world. He was living in Long Beach and intended some day when he retired to build a house at Encinitas. Until then he would stay where he was. But his friend insisted he look at it. So he did.

The Freemans like their long living room with its air of comfort and dignity. The fireplace is large and handsomely built, definitely a point of interest.

The result? Within two weeks the Freemans had moved. And furthermore they had swapped the Encinitas land to seal the contract! No moving to Encinitas when Freeman retires—he will be right at home where he is!

As soon as Freeman bought the property he began building a pergola, a greenhouse, workshop and new garage. He set all the piers for the pergola in concrete, installed floodlights and waterproofed all the wiring. Behind the garage and greenhouse Freeman has a vegetable patch, a dichondra "starter" bed, an orchard with peach, apple, apricot, pear, plum, avocado and cherry trees. And, of course, all around the garden, in the flower beds and the lawn are trees, shrubs and plants tagged with the name of the friend who wanted to be remembered: in the Friendship Garden!

AS FOR the house itself, it is of white stucco and white brick with green shutters. Floor space totals 1800 square feet and includes a "Poker Room" which is a combination office and playroom.

Woodwork in the main portion of the house as well as some full walls is of Honduras mahogany. The poker room has a parquet floor.

Mrs. Freeman likes the long living room with the big fireplace, hooked rug (oval with a rose border) the blue and silver damask davenport, matching silver chairs, the mahogany television cabinet, brown plastic contour chair which is of "pixie" size for her. The house was furnished when they bought it, but Mrs. Freeman made the curtains. In the living room she used unbleached muslin of an open weave and curved rods, so that the white tie-backs form a prettier frame at the window than would those of conventional style. The door to the front porch is of Holland Dutch style.

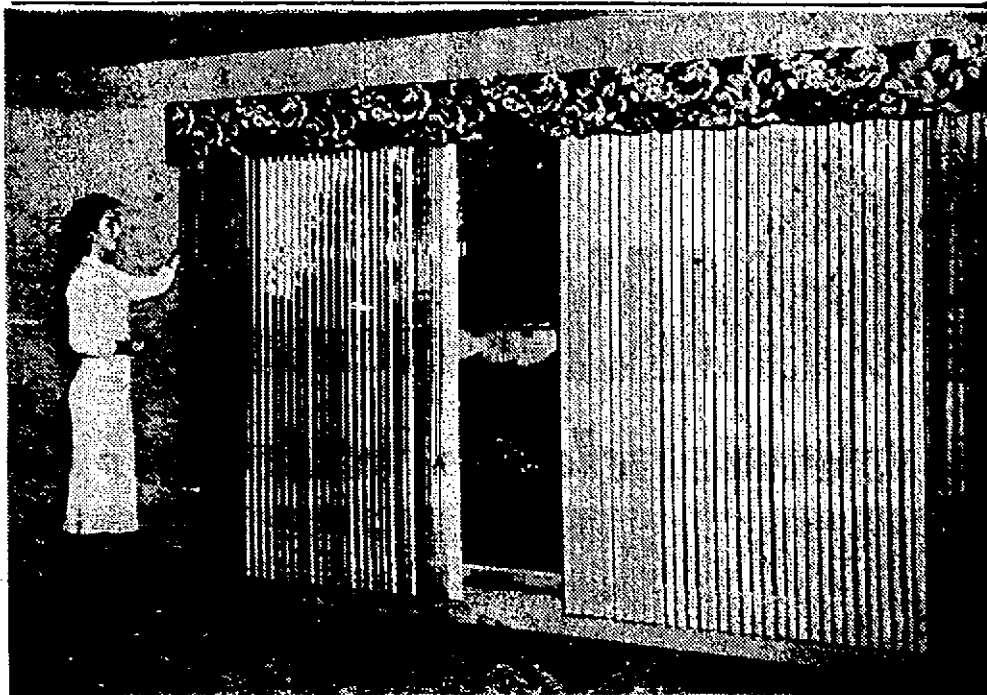

"I like my sewingroom, too," Mrs. Freeman pointed out, "and the big linen closets in the hall, all of mahogany."

The kitchen has yellow tile with a blue trim and walls papered in a country farmhouse design. A yellow formica-top table is used for the breakfast table with chrome chairs.

The dining room is furnished in mahogany with a hooked rug of blue, rose, beige and other soft colors. The chairs are upholstered with gold satin and the white ruffle tie-backs have over-drapes of pale pink damask with blue fringe.

"It isn't just the house," Freeman says, "which sold us on this place. It's the location—we are one-half mile from any busy highway and seem isolated, yet we are only minutes from Long Beach."

Rejuvenated Table

An old kitchen table, cut down, makes a low coffee table. A flour bin taken from the table is fitted with sawhorse legs and used as planter for flowers.

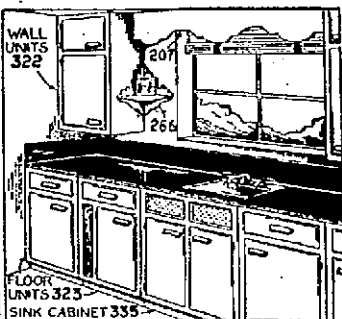

By Helen French

DO YOU remember the old-fashioned kitchen table with the flour bins built into it? There undoubtedly are many of them around today, in farmhouses, in attics (if anyone had strength enough to lug so heavy a piece up to the attic!), and in secondhand stores. With today's built-in kitchens, not to mention the small space allotted to that room in most houses, what can be done with such an old table?

It took Mrs. M. R. Peppard, of South Middleridge Lane, Rolling Hills, to come up with a something really smart in answer to that question. She had the flour bins removed and each one was placed in a sawhorse made to fit its bulk—then she filled the bins with dirt and planted vines and flowers. The resulting flower boxes make an attractive addition to the Peppard's patio!

As for the table—it's legs were shortened and it was given a high polish. Now it stands in the Peppard's place, furnished bedroom by the windows, and makes a sturdy coffee table—a perfect matching piece for the old-fashioned styling of the room.

Party Chicken

Mrs. Spawr's Chicken Almond Mousse

- 1½ tablespoons unflavored gelatin
- 2 cups chicken stock
- 3 egg yolks
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- Dash cayenne
- ½ cup finely chopped almonds
- 1 cup diced white meat of cooked chicken
- ½ cup heavy cream, whipped
- (¼ cup each sieved pimientos and minced celery may be added if desired)

Soften gelatin in ½ cup cold stock for 5 minutes. Heat remaining stock and add slowly to beaten egg yolks and seasonings. Cook in double boiler until thickened, stirring constantly. Add gelatin, stir until dissolved and mix in almonds and chicken. Chill until mixture begins to thicken and fold in whipped cream. Pour into mold and chill until firm. Serve on crisp cold lettuce leaves. Serves 6.

This mixture may be poured into tomatoes from which the centers have been removed. Chill.

CHRISTMAS may come and go... New Year's, too... but bridge parties, luncheons and committee chitchats go on forever. And for these there is always the question of what to serve? That conundrum is also eternal with the hostess.

The "what to serve" is a little involved, too, for the budget must be considered... particularly as it pertains to the main dish.

Mrs. W. L. Spawr, 3946 Lewis Ave., a popular and gracious hostess, finds from experience that chicken is not only kind to the pocketbook, but is pleasing to the eye, tempting to the taste and satisfying to the appetite. It's extremely versatile, too!

Her recipe for Chicken and Almond Mousse is perhaps her favorite when she entertains at bridge luncheons or evening buffets, and her recipe is featured today. You will find it convenient prepared for clipping, elsewhere on this page.

She also shares her recipes for Chicken Ring or Loaf,

Chicken Ring or Loaf

- 2 cups hot milk (or stock and cream)
- 2 eggs, slightly beaten
- 1 cup soft bread crumbs
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon paprika
- 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- 3 cups diced cooked chicken
- ½ cup finely chopped celery
- 1½ teaspoons grated onion
- 1 teaspoon lemon juice

Pour hot milk slowly onto eggs, stirring constantly. Add remaining ingredients; mix well and pour into buttered mold or loaf pan. Bake in slow oven (300 deg. F.) until knife inserted in center comes out clean, about 45 to 60 minutes. It will take less time in ring mold than in a loaf pan. Be careful not to overbake. Let stand 10 minutes before unmolding. Serve with mushroom sauce made from remainder of chicken stock. Garnish with parsley. If chicken ring is served cold it may be filled with a fresh combination salad. Serves six to eight).

Bridge Chicken

- 2½ cups of rich chicken stock
- 1 cup of milk
- 1 cup of cooked rice
- 3 cups of diced cooked chicken
- 1 cup of crushed pineapple, drained
- 2 cups of blanched almonds

Heat together the stock, milk and rice. When mixture begins to thicken add the chicken, pineapple, and almonds cut in large pieces. Let come to boiling point and cook about 5 minutes, stirring occasionally to keep from sticking. Large cream puff shells may also be used.

Chicken Salad

- ½ cup of walnuts
- ¼ tablespoon of butter, melted
- 2 cups of diced cooked chicken
- ¼ cup of diced celery
- ¼ cup of French dressing

Toss walnut kernels in melted butter in a saucepan until crisp; remove from fire and let cool. Break kernels, but do not chop fine. In a large bowl mix the diced chicken, celery, nuts and French dressing, with seasonings to taste; chill for 15 to 30 minutes. At serving time arrange on lettuce leaves and mask with mayonnaise. Garnish with wedges of tomato. Serve at once, very cold.

Kitchen Tip:

Your Garden Needs Care in Winter, Too

SOUTHERN California's climate is characterized by a mild winter. And yet our nights can be extremely cold, temperatures frequently dropping to frost and near-frost conditions. This condition is somewhat aggravated because so many of our ornamentals are tropicals or subtropicals and thus especially susceptible. This is the time to provide certain protective measures for your garden.

This is certainly not the time to prune any of the more tender plants. Cutting the stems immediately encourages new growth which is extremely sensitive. Should a sudden cold spell hit your garden, this new growth will suffer. Die-back undoubtedly would occur and in extreme cases you may have permanent injury, even casualties.

Top-heavy trees should be thinned out to minimize wind damage. Also, specimens that have produced a tremendous amount of growth towards the center of the plant will need a bit of pruning. Opening up the head of a tree allows the wind to blow through, there being fewer branches to offer resistance.

Young trees may be sheltered by erecting two poles on the windward side of the tree and attaching a burlap wrapping to them. Thus, the burlap will break the force of the wind, the tree suffering less directly from the force of the gale. In districts subject to prevailing winds, it will be wise to securely stake the plant to a suitable support. Set the stake in back of the tree so that the tree will be blown against the stake, rather than away from it.

If tools are put away for the winter, check to see that they are well oiled. Small hand tools may be wrapped in oiled rags to minimize danger of rusting. Another technique is to insert weedeaters, trowels and other comparable tools in oiled sand.

All sprayers should be thoroughly cleaned before being placed away for any length of time. Certain insecticides have an affinity for the metal working parts of the sprayer. Unless all particles are washed out of the sprayer, the working parts may be affected.

YOUNG seedlings may be sheltered under plant protectors that act like miniature hot houses. The protectors are made out of specially waxed paper that allows sunlight to penetrate but keeps out cold, rain, bugs and also aids in maintaining the original soil mulch. These protectors are anchored to the soil. They also hasten maturity and are widely used by commercial vegetable growers.

A mulch pays off in a number of ways. Where frost lies on the ground a mulch minimizes heaving and cracking of the soil. A mulch also helps in keeping the soil frost-free, making it possible to continue planting for a somewhat longer period than might be expected. In low temperature areas the mulch should be gradually removed the following spring, thus exposing the plant a little at a time.

Other valuable steps for protecting ornamentals during cold weather include: wrapping tree protectors around the trunks of trees to minimize damage to the bark; attaching vines to sturdy supports to keep the stem ends from being torn in heavy winds and to prevent the plant from becoming top heavy and toppling over in extreme gales; keeping heavy clippings off lawn areas as they prevent sunlight from getting through, thus inhibiting natural growth of the individual grass plants.

Garden Tips

GARDEN TIPS for the week . . . Deciduous stock should be planted in this area as soon as available at nurseries and garden supply stores. This includes rose bushes, fruit trees, berries, ornamentals and trees. The perennial vegetables such as asparagus and rhubarb should also go in as quickly as possible; nor should you delay planting berries.

Planting glads in the Southland in the middle of winter is normal procedure. Corms started now will flower about May. You can plant at intervals of every few weeks to insure a succession of bloom. Glads require lots of moisture. To provide adequate drainage each corm may be set on a cushion of sand.

Camellias are easy to grow if two fundamentals are observed: Lots of moisture and fairly shallow planting. If the shrubs die, it may be due to one or both of these factors. Failure to keep the soil moist during the summer may sacrifice the flowers for the following season.

Plant protectors shield plants from cold, rain and bugs; tend to maintain a friable mulch on surface.

Grow Gay Glads

Edwin T. Marchant Photo for Bodger Seeds

By Walter Finch

ONE OF THE first of the bulb flowers ready for spring planting is the gladiolus. In addition, the glad is certainly one of the most popular of all types of bulbous plant. Even though the next few months might be quite cool, don't worry about gladiolus. Just appreciate your good gardening fortune because Southern California is one of the few areas in this country where the gladiolus thrives during what is commonly termed the "winter months."

Gladioli are exceedingly easy to grow, making few demands on the gardener. With a little extra attention, however, you should be able to produce the same top quality flowers that are sold in the most exclusive florist shops throughout the country. The one "must," of course, is excellent drainage and this is especially important at this time of the year.

An excess of moisture in the vicinity of the root zone may spell failure. The corms rot easily if allowed to remain in standing water for any length of time. Yet the soil must not be too sandy or moisture will seep downwards too quickly and the plants may go thirsty. This is not recommended as glads are heavy drinkers. For small plantings, it is advisable to set each corm on a cushion of sand. This will provide adequate moisture and make for a healthy growing environment.

Glads are not over-sensitive to soil conditions as long as proper run-off of excess moisture is provided. Light, sandy loams as well as heavier adobes will suffice if this one main requirement is supplied. A sunny location is best for winter and early spring plantings; but later on, a somewhat shaded spot will be best. This is for plants that will flower during the warmer parts of the year. Set the corms from 8 to 12 inches apart and from 3 to 5 inches deep, depending on the texture of the soil and size of the planting material.

Perhaps the only objection

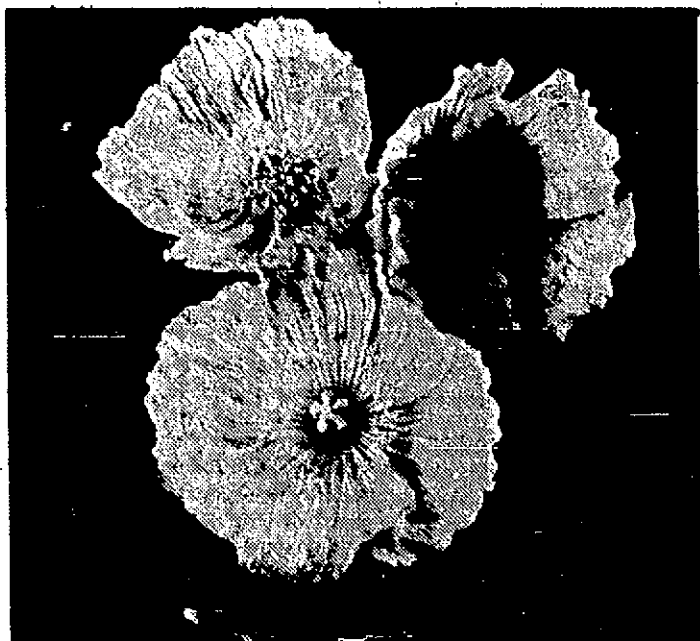

to growing gladiolus is that the plants are susceptible to attack from a tiny mite called a thrip. So make certain that the corms are clean when purchased at the nursery. Examine them carefully, especially under the folds of the skin. It is good technique to treat the corms before planting them. Several non-poisonous products are now available which may be used for this job. As the plants grow, they should be sprayed for thrip about once every 10 days.

THE CORMS should not be dug up at season's end until the plants have completed their flowering period and the foliage has turned brown. Cut the stems about one or two inches above the surface. Then clean and dry the remaining section in the sun for an hour or so and later remove the corms to a dry and airy resting place until ready for planting the following season.

Corms should be allowed to rest for a period of from three to five months before being replanted. The small bulblets that form around the main bulb or corm should be separated from the parent and stored in moist sand. Most amateurs select planting stock that is large but, from a planting viewpoint this is not advisable. The large corms with a flattened appearance are quite old, actually. The younger corms that have a high crown will produce flowers of as good or better quality. The price is also less.

The gladiolus is a splendid flower not only in the outdoor garden but also for floral decoration indoors. In fact, the shipping of glads from this district to the eastern cut flower markets is a small big business. For floral decorative purposes it is best to cut the flower when still in the bud stage, the buds gradually will open in water, finally turning into a full grown flower. In this way, you will have more time to enjoy the blooms in your home.

Iceland poppies are a free-blooming annual, easy to grow in almost any sunny spot and any soil, providing color.

By A. C. MacLeod

ICELAND poppies are an especially free-blooming annual and are easy to grow in almost any sunny spot and soil. Even beginning gardeners have good luck with them.

The crinkly-petalled flowers, sometimes three inches across, appear singly on 12 to 18-inch leafless stems which grow out of a low clump of bright green leaves. Because of the low-growing foliage, Iceland poppies can be used in the foreground as well as middle areas of flower beds. Plant them six inches apart, in a row for edging or irregular groups of a dozen or more for mass effect.

Set out plants from flats now, it is a bit late to sow seed. They should bloom by late March or April, and continue well into summer. The colors generally available, according to the Bedding Plant Advisory Board, range from deep scarlet to white and include buttercup yellow, pink, orange, salmon, rose and cream shades.

Try planting Iceland poppies around bloomless clumps of iris, whose foliage in winter looks so stiff and bare. The poppy plants soon will help to soften that appearance. Later, the bright colors of the poppies will contrast beautifully with the blues of spring blooming iris.

One solution for the problem a narrow flower bed presents is planting a row of pansies in front of Iceland poppies. The pansies' rich, velvety tones will help set off the poppies' bright, light colors.

Gartner Signs For New Book

The coaching adventures of Rock Taylor, fictional character created by John Gartner, 250 Quincy Ave., will be continued this summer when a baseball story, tentatively titled "Player of the Year," will be published by Dodd, Mead & Co.

Gartner, whose recently published novel, "Rock Taylor, Football Coach," was so successful that another story along the same line was requested, this week signed a contract for the diamond yarn. To keep up on the demand, Gartner has started yet another story about basketball. This yarn, tentatively titled "Cager's Challenge," continues Rock Taylor as hero.

Another book by Gartner, "All About Trailers," will appear late this summer from the publishing firm of Henry Holt & Co. It is a general how-to on all phases of trailering.

EXQUISITELY DONE pastels mark the exhibition of 20 paintings by J. Barry Greene which will be shown during January and February in Pacific Coast Galleria. They include landscapes, seascapes, portraits and at least one humorous picture, "Gossip Over the Linen," which, valued at $1500, is the most expensive in the show.

Although New England scenes predominate, there are pictures of Portugal and one of Mexico.

Shown are "New England Afterglow," "Adobe Houses," "Sweet Sixteen," "Opalescence," "Quarry Afterglow," "Old Garden Road," "Fishergirl of Nazare," "Shrine," "Barley-stubble Storm," "Autumn Tapestry," "Girl With Fan," "Pederneira da Nazare," "Dancing Willows," "Abandoned Smithy," "Stormy Harbor," "Ten-Pound Island," "Knitting in the Garden," "Summer Idyll," "Gloucester Pastoral" and "Gossip Over the Linen."

Greene, who was born in New York and studied at the National Academy of Design and the Art Students League, lived in Europe from 1919 to 1939. He now is a resident of Sherman Oaks in San Fernando Valley. He has had 12 one-man shows in leading galleries of New York and Boston. The catalogue for one of his exhibitions was prefaced by Edward Herriot, former premier of France. He is a member of many outstanding artists' societies.

Among his awards are the Pulitzer art scholarship and Guggenheim Fellowship. He won an honorable mention in the recent Los Angeles regional exhibition and took first and second prizes in San Fernando Valley Art Club shows. He won a prize in the 1952 Laguna Beach Festival of Arts. His biography is recorded in "Who's Who in American Art" and "Who's Who in the East."

Birthday pictures can be made in any number of ways. The other day I saw a cute set of eight pictures of baby's first birthday. In these eight snapshots was recorded practically everything the baby did during the day. The series began with baby's waking up. The second picture showed her splashing happily in the bath and in the third her mother was dressing her. You next see her father lifting her into the high chair. And then, mother presents the cake with its one shining candle. What comes next, I'm sure you can guess—baby with a handful of frosting.

FOR OLDER children, when a birthday party is a very important part of the day, most of the pictures can be devoted to this activity.

It is likely that most birthday snapshotting will be done indoors. This means that you'll certainly want to use photo-flash as your light source. You could do it with photoflood lighting, but it will be much easier if you shoot with flash right on the camera, then you can follow the action wherever it may be. Certain types of flash bulbs, used with the simplest of cameras, have a speed of 1/200th second which means you can "stop" most any action. This makes them ideal for picturing children who seldom look their best when they are compelled to be still for any length of time.

SOLUTION OF TODAY'S PUZZLE

A picture record of baby's birthdays will be a priceless adjunct of the family photo album as the years march by.

By The Shutterbug

IT SEEMS to me that in any family where there are children, birthday snapshotting is definitely a must. I think it well worthwhile planning to shoot a whole roll of film on every birthday. Then you can't miss having an interesting record of your children and how they grew for inclusion in the family album.

I've recently heard a number of people say that they would really like to have more pictures of their youngsters, but that they "just forget" to take them. I know that's something easy to do. Time just goes by in a hurry and the first thing you know a child has grown from one stage into another

10 Top Tunes

POPULAR PLATTER PARADE—Here are the 10 top tunes of the week, according to reports from Long Beach record vendors. Henceforth Southland will run the list each week.

"Why Don't You Believe Me?" Joni James.

"Don't Let the Stars Get in Your Eyes," Perry Como.

"Because You're Mine," Mario Lanza.

"You Belong to Me," Jo Stafford.

"Glow Worm," Mills Brothers.

"Lady of Spain," Eddie Fisher.

"Oh! Happy Day," Lawrence Welk, Four Knights.

"I Went to Your Wedding," Patti Page.

"Hold Me, Kiss Me," Thrill Me," Karen Chandler.

"Takes Two to Tango," Pearl Bailey.

BUNK JOHNSON came out the rice fields of southern Louisiana with a set of store-bought teeth and a new trumpet to make a comeback at the age of 62.

He had enjoyed world-wide fame as a New Orleans musician and then had known poverty as a forgotten man of music. Helped by his friends, among them Louis Armstrong, old Bunk scored new triumphs.

Columbia Records has now put the music of that last memorable session on one 12-inch LP record. Appropriately entitled "The Last Testament of a Great New Orleans Jazzman," it is a handy disk for dancers and a collector's item for jazzophiles.

Bunk's wonderful trumpet weaves throughout these melodies and in most of them are fine breaks by Garvin Bushell on the clarinet and the trombonist, Ed Cuffee, particularly in "Some of These Days" and "Out of Nowhere." Other selections include Hilarity Rag, "You're Driving Me Crazy," "Till We Meet Again" and "That Teasin' Rag."

LONG BEACH PUBLIC LIBRARY has added new LP recordings of "Charles Munch Conducts French Music"; "Encores" by Zino Francescatti, violinist, Artur Schnabel, pianist; Faure, "Nocturnes" (Eoyenet, pianist); "Guilomar Novae Encores," and Mahler, "Das Klagende Lied" (Vienna State Opera orchestra and choir).

Long Beach's favorites of the week were Beethoven, "Symphony No. 9" (Toscanini); "Ten Tenors-Ten Arias"; Shakespeare, "Othello" (Paul Robeson and cast), and Verdi, "Il Trovatore" (Warren, etc.).

SENSATIONAL GIFT OFFER TO "PARADE" READERS!

ACCEPT THIS VALUABLE DELUXE ENCYCLOPEDIA VOLUME - WORTH $4<sup>00</sup> FREE!

No Catches! No Strings! It's Yours Free For The Asking!

"PARADE" READERS! Here is the chance of a lifetime for you—your grand and glorious opportunity to own a big, beautiful set of genuine encyclopedias AT NEXT TO NO COST! Yes, the handsome and valuable book pictured here, WORTH $4.00, is OUR GIFT TO YOU—and all you need to do to receive it is simply mail in the Gift Certificate below. As soon as we receive your certificate we mail you this important book—Volume One of The Standard International Encyclopedia in the new 1953 Edition. We send it to you without charging you one cent and in addition give you the added privilege of receiving the rest of this 20-volume set AT A SPECIAL GET-ACQUAINTED PRICE!

Why We Make This Astonishing Offer!

We could write pages and pages of sales arguments about why you should own a set of The Standard International Encyclopedia, but we know it's hard to sell anything without first showing what you are getting for your money. So before we ask you to buy, we want to give you Volume One of the set to look over and examine carefully. But remember, IT'S YOURS TO KEEP WITHOUT ANY STRINGS OR OBLIGATIONS. All we ask you to do is examine it carefully from cover to cover—then, and only then decide whether you want the remaining volumes.

Now you might say "That's fair enough. I don't see how any one has anything to lose by getting this $4.00 book ABSOLUTELY FREE. But suppose I send the Free Gift Certificate for Volume One of The Standard International Encyclopedia and like it and decide to buy the rest of the set—how much will the remaining 19 volumes cost me?"

You Have An Added Privilege!

"How much will each of the remaining 19 volumes of your set cost you?" Not $4.00 or $3.50 or even $3.00. Not even $1.98. YOU PAY ONLY $1.49 per volume plus 11c postage. That's all you pay! And this is not a part payment or an installment payment but the TOTAL COST of each volume! We know it sounds unbelievable, but it's true! Do you wonder now why we want to GIVE YOU THE FIRST VOLUME FREE? We know you might not expect much of an encyclopedia for this low price, but WAIT UNTIL YOU SEE IT... YOU'LL NEVER BELIEVE YOUR EYES! You can compare it with volumes in sets selling for $100.00 and more.

You've Always Wanted To Own A Fine Encyclopedia— NOW YOU CAN AFFORD IT!

Just picture yourself as the possessor of one of the most remarkable of America's reference encyclopedias! Its comprehensive volumes, full library-size, are richly bound in double-thick buckram, exquisitely embellished in gold. It is brand new, not a revised set. Set in new easy-to-read type and written in clear, easy, precise and concise English, its unique arrangement puts any information you want on any of its 30,000 subjects at your finger tips instantly. It contains over 4,000,000 words, 5,760 pages, plus over 3,000 illustrations, pictures, photographs, diagrams and 16 PAGES OF LATEST MAPS IN FULL COLOR. Colored end-papers and twenty full-color illustrations make this up-to-the-minute set of encyclopedias America's Great Bargain in Education—a set you will be proud to own—"a college education in themselves." Top notch experts have covered every field of knowledge so simply and forcibly that a mere reading conveys exactly what is meant. This is especially valuable where children of school age will use these notable volumes as an aid in their studies.

19 More Volumes—Yours on our Book-A-Week Plan.

When you send in your coupon for your Free Volume One, we immediately reserve the other 19 volumes in your name to be sent you on our liberal book-a-week plan. However whether you desire to purchase them is entirely up to you. No salesman or agent will call. SAM STERN: The sunset glows bright . . .

He Wasn't Beaten

FARGO, N. D.

BACK IN 1920, everything looked rosy to young Sam Stern. Just back from the Army, Stern was developing a promising business—a department store—with his father.

Waiting for him at home each night was his young wife, Helen, and a bouncing baby daughter, Patricia.

But, a year later, tragedy struck. Little Patricia died of what the Sterns now believe was polio.

Sam Stern went on building up his business and using up his extra energy in civic groups—the Elks Lodge, the Chamber of Commerce and the American Legion.

Then, in 1925, a son, Thomas Alexander, was born.

'Do You Wonder . . .'

Perhaps remembering Patricia as he watched his little son grow, Stern threw himself into his civic work. He was a leader in getting the Elks to start a crippled children's program in North Dakota.

● In 1937, tragedy struck again. Thomas fell ill with polio. For nine years, he fought bravely, only to die of a kidney disease at the age of 21.

● But Sam Stern wasn't beaten. He redoubled his efforts, and became North Dakota chairman of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

● And now, as national Grand Exalted Ruler of the Elks, Sam Stern again is urging the Elks toward greater efforts to help stricken children.

"While I am walking about as a practical everyday sort of fellow," he says, "I'm contributing to the well-being, success and happiness of my fellow man. Do you wonder that this brings me contentment, as I watch the glow of each day's setting sun?"

A report on Mamie's remarkable mother. You're going to hear a lot about her . . .

Grandma's Going

● Ike's witty, little mother-in-law "Miss Min"

WASHINGTON, D. C.

IT LOOKS AS THOUGH lively times were coming to the 107-room mansion people call the White House.

For a remarkable little lady, lively as a cricket, will move in with President and Mrs. Eisenhower when they come to Washington to stay. She's Ike's "unsinkable" mother-in-law, twinkling Elivera Doud.

"Miss Min," as everyone calls her, is buoyant as a bobbing cork. She's such a charmer that people flock to her like bees to honey.

And prophets close to the Ikes say "Miss Min" is going to stir up more fun than anyone who ever lived at 1600 Pennsylvania Ave.

It looks, too, as if "Miss Min" will be a tonic for Ike in the serious days ahead.

"When my head gets bumped, I bob up like a cork," she told me the other day. She added philosophically, "Everyone has to."

At 74, "Miss Min" is gray, not silver-haired; fits size 14; has wrists, ankles, feet slim as a girl's. Alertly sixtyish in looks, her accomplishments include playing the harmonica and being the delighted "momma" of Mamie.

Her real name is Elivera M. Carlson Doud.

Named for Min Gump

THAT "M" doesn't stand for Minnie, it's for Mathilda. Her younger daughter "Mike" borrowed "Min" straight from Andy Gump.

Dependent on his wife like most men, Mamie's dad, John Sheldon Doud, was forever calling, "Oh! Mother," while Andy, paralleling real life in comic strip, hollered "Oh! Min!" So the nickname "Miss Min" evolved and stuck. Not even Mr. Doud could escape the family flair for nicknames.

The last 30 years or so of his long life he was affectionately known as "Puppah," baby talk for Grandpa, a name pinned on him by "Little Icky," the Eisenhowers' elder son, who died when he was three.

Unlike the late Mrs. David Wallace, mother of Mrs. Truman, a charming, old-fashioned lady whose presence in the White House was scarcely known, Mrs. Doud will create her own small whirlpool of attention.

It's partly the way she says things, quickly, youthfully, tossing in an occasional "By golly," partly the amusing twist she gives to almost everything she does. And "Miss Min" debunks herself neatly as she skims along, admitting, when complimented on her trim fig-

THE AUTHOR: Mary Van Rensselaer Thayer is one of Washington's best-informed writers. Like "Miss Min," she, too, has a nickname. Close friends call her "Molly."—THE EDITORS # to the White House!

(who can play a mean harmonica) will really surprise Washington . . .

ure, that she never diets, "but I'll have to stop eating soon." When someone mentions her fresh appearance: "I haven't got long to go now."

Undoubtedly the first mother-in-law in history to accompany any presidential candidate on his campaign train, "Miss Min," in her quiet way, was the life of the party.

One evening when the Eisenhowers had left the train, she decided to ask a few friends to dine.

R.S.V.P. by 'Telegram'

AS A STARTER, she tore the bottom off a card-board box, pencilled firmly: "Mrs. John Sheldon Doud requests the pleasure of Mrs. Sherman Adams' company at dinner—in car 53—at seven o'clock."

Mrs. Adams, wife of New Hampshire's Governor, now the president-elect's assistant, was riding only a few cars ahead. When a porter solemnly delivered the odd invitation, Mrs. Adams, equally deadpan, reached for a telegram blank, "wired" her pleased acceptance.

Toward the trip's end, Kansas Senator Frank Carlson, a close Eisenhower advisor, gave a farewell dinner on the train. After dinner, Mrs. Doud coaxed everyone to sing, singing right out herself, skipping from song to song. Mr. Doud had a good voice too, and with friends they used to sing hymns for hours.

● But it's on the harmonica "Miss Min" can go to town, tootling popular tunes or through an amazing repertoire of old timers ranging from a sedate "School Days, School Days" to a rousing rendition of "There'll be a Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight." She picked up harmonica playing as a child but now says ruefully, "I hate to admit I play the harmonica. It takes a lot of wind and somehow at my age it doesn't sound right."

"Miss Min" was married at 16. Brought up in strict European fashion by her parents, the Carl Carlsons who had left Sweden in 1868, she was considered too young for dances. She met John Sheldon Doud at a bicycling club. A Chicago man whose family had gone West from Rome, N. Y., he had gone on to Boone, Iowa, on business for his father's substantial meat packing concern.

He was eight years older and "most persistent," she recalls. So they were wed.

Their New Orleans honeymoon must have been really glamorous. For last summer, when the Eisenhower train reached the Louisiana capital, "Miss Min," touring the city, even remembered the restaurants where they had dined 58 years before.

The Douds moved twice before 1905. That year, they settled in Denver.

"It's so beautiful," Mrs. Doud sighs. "I'm a real landlubber and get homesick when I'm away from the mountains."

They had four daughters: Mamie the eldest, "Mike" the youngest. Two middle sisters died in their teens.

Drove an 'Electric'

WHEN the second daughter developed heart trouble, the Douds decided to winter in the warmth of Texas. And that's why Mamie Doud met Second Lieut. Dwight David Eisenhower in San Antonio. "We wintered there 30 years," says "Miss Min." "It's my second home."

● John Sheldon Doud did so well in business that he "retired" in his early thirties. He kept busy with investments, though, and daily for many years, his wife drove him to a downtown office in their electric automobile.

● Long after the Douds acquired modern gasoline buggies, they used "the electric" and it became quite a local landmark. Like most successful men, Mr. Doud was careful about money, teased his wife by refusing to shell out when he considered her unreasonable.

So, to have cash on hand when some delicious bargain presented itself, "Miss Min" saved her household allowance and, squirrel like, hid small rolls of bills under the stair carpet.

Her gift for gaiety made the Doud house a center of warm hospitality for young and old. Friends, acquaintances knew the Douds really wanted them at their house.

They flocked for summer suppers in the garden, winter fun in the basement recreation room or a hand of cards upstairs. Typical of "Miss Min's" and "Puppah's" love of company, their recreation room was probably the country's first.

Its star attraction was, and still is, a pool table. "Miss Min" has scarcely changed a thing in the 47 years since she moved in.

"The house has been Mamie's only real home," she says wistfully. Some day it will belong to Mrs. Eisenhower.

"Miss Min's" gaiety, easy-to-get-on-withness, covers a sentimental streak.

● She's a great one for remembering birthdays, anniversaries, sending funny cards to friends on every imaginable excuse. And woe betide the Eisenhower who forgets a family occasion. Her Christmas cards are famous.

● One year there'd be a tintype of Mr. and Mrs. Doud in their courting days, complete with bicycle, balloon sleeves and high collars; another was a snapshot of the Douds dressed as characters from Dickens.

She still enjoys dressing up to amuse her daughters, for instance, transforming a lampshade into a hat and trimming it with fake flowers.

At her golden wedding, she wore her original wedding gown. On her 53rd anniversary, which the Eisenhowers celebrated with a party at their Ft. Myer, Va., quarters, "Miss Min" and "Puppah" marched in arm in arm, to the strains of "Here Comes the Bride."

● The Douds have always been especially close to the Eisenhowers, traveling to every post, remaining for generous visits. Since Mr. Doud's death less than two years ago, "Miss Min" has spent most of her time with them, flying to Paris, riding along on the campaign train. The Eisenhowers want her with them, partly because they're afraid she'll be lonely and partly because she's such good company.

● Besides, "Miss Min's" a real sport. She's taken to flying like a veteran, was thrilled by the gruelling campaign trip.

Though "Miss Min" is full of fun, sometimes she shows her serious side. Her great worry is about Mamie and Ike, how their responsibilities will affect them. "They will never have a private life again!" she mourns.

OTHER IN-LAWS IN THE WHITE HOUSE

● "Miss Min" will be only the second mother-in-law to live in the White House since the war between the states. Although it was not widely known, President Truman's mother-in-law lived there for some time prior to her recent death.

● Otherwise, historians find no parents-in-law at the White House since the administration of General Grant. His father-in-law, Judge Frederick Dent, who was ruined by the war, lived in the White House. President Franklin D. Roosevelt's mother lived at Hyde Park, N. Y.

What's

Here's one answer. (Do you agree?)

● By KARL KOHRS

RALEIGH, N. C.

WHICH is more important to you—the pay your job brings you—or the prestige it gives you?

If you had your choice between two jobs, would you choose the one that gave you a high social standing or the one that paid you the most money?

A college researcher here thinks she may have found the answer—prestige comes first.

This is revealed in a fascinating study of "job prestige" made by a young graduate student in psychology at North Carolina State College.

● The student, Mrs. Vara Merritt Smith, spent a year interviewing people on what they thought of their own and other people's jobs. She talked to lawyers, bus boys, doctors, carpenters and gas station attendants.

● On the basis of what they told her, Mrs. Smith wrote a thesis for a Master of Science degree in Industrial Psychology. She worked under the direction of Dr. Key L. Barkley, of the Department of Psychology.

More than Money

NOW, FOR THE first time, psychologists and vocational guidance experts have a researcher's answer to an important question.

Translating hard statistics into every day language, it amounts to this: For most people, prestige comes first, then security (pension, duration of job), then money.

● To find out what people thought of their jobs—and why—Mrs. Smith chose a simple, direct method: she went out and asked them.

● Here is how it worked. One day, for example, she walked up to a group of burly construction

Better than Money?

Is the prestige your job gives you more important than your pay envelope?

workers, lounging during their lunch hour.

• "Could I ask a favor?" she asked one man.

"Go ahead, lady," he said.

She handed him 20 small white cards. On each was printed the name of an occupation—plumber, doctor, carpenter, teacher, and so on. (She did not try to cover all occupations.)

Mrs. Smith explained: "I'd like to have you rate these jobs according to what you think of them. Start with the one you think most of. Mark that Number One. Then go on down the line to 20."

The man nodded. "I get you, lady," he said. "I see what you mean."

He rifled through the cards and began marking rapidly, his fellow-workers craning over his shoulder.

"There you are, lady," he said, handing the cards back after about five minutes. "What's all this for?"

"I'm trying to find out what people think of their jobs," said Mrs. Smith.

"Well," said the man with a grin, "there's nothing wrong with mine."

That is how Mrs. Smith interviewed more than 400 men here in Raleigh. And on her visits to building sites, doctors' offices, restaurants and carpenter shops, she learned some eye-opening facts.

• Of the 20 jobs tested, people voted these at the top of the list: physician, school teacher, lawyer, civil engineer, nurse and farmer—in that order.

Opinions Varied

THERE were as many different opinions on top jobs as there were men who took the tests. There were only two jobs out of the 20 on which practically everybody agreed: physicians stayed consistently at the top of the list, car loaders stayed consistently at the bottom.

• Prejudice plays an important part in rating jobs. For example: If a machinist decided he had received unsatisfactory treatment from his doctor at one time or another, he would probably remember that when he rated doctors' jobs.

Again, such things as road courtesy were given as reason for rating truck drivers high.

• Mrs. Smith's first surprise was this: teachers, perhaps the lowest-paid profession, rated second only to physicians in prestige!

• Second surprise: the only people who didn't rate doctors first in prestige were lawyers. They voted first honors to—lawyers.

HERE'S HOW YOUR JOB RATES:

1. Physician. 2. Teacher. 3. Lawyer. 4. Civil engineer. 5. Nurse. 6. Farmer. 7. Stenographer. 8. Soldier. 9. Insurance agent. 10. Machinist. 11. Policeman. 12. Sales clerk. 13. Carpenter. 14. Plumber. 15. Barber. 16. Gas station attendant. 17. Printer's helper. 18. Truck driver. 19. Paint mixer. 20. Car loader.

Artist's sketch shows what Navy can do with Loon, a missile with 2,000-pound warhead.

Our Navy's 100-Mile Stinger

Now submarines can launch "robot bombs" to enemy targets 100 miles away

THE U.S.S. Cusk, a Navy submarine, pushed her nose up from the choppy waters of the Pacific Ocean near here.

Crewmen clambered onto the gleaming deck. Moving quickly, they took an object like a small plane out of a hangar on the after-deck, unfolded its wings and set it on a steel platform.

Then they went below. Someone pushed a button, and the sub shuddered and rocked as if a depth-charge had been set off.

• But it was old stuff to the crew of the Cusk. They had just launched another "Loon" — a guided missile modeled on the German V-1 buzz bomb.

• The roar and the shaking were caused by the Loon's Jato rockets which have 10,000 pounds of thrust each.

• As the Loon rose above her trailing smoke plume, sensitive electronic instruments aboard the Cusk took over, guiding her toward her distant target.

The Submarine Launched

Branch of the Navy Guided Missiles Division has been practicing with Loons for at least three years.

They won't say much about what the Loon can do. It's known, however, that the German V-1 could go more than 200 miles at a speed of more than 400 miles an hour.

The Loon herself is a modified version of the German V-1 missile. She totes a 2,000-lb. load of explosives. Her rocket boosters (which cause all the smoke) drop off as soon as they boost her to the flying speed of the "bird's" own engine.

Hard to Stop

WHAT DO submarine-launched missiles mean?

Just this. Undetected, a sub can surface briefly 100 miles from a coastal city. In less than 30 minutes, its deadly missile (perhaps armed with an atomic bomb) can hit its target. This doesn't leave much time for defense.

JATO rockets engulf sub in smoke at launching.

IN AIR, rockets drop off, Loon's pulse-jet takes over.

Pineapple Angel Cake

By Beth Merriman, PARADE'S FOOD EDITOR

WONDERFUL, these new angel food mixes! So easy, so quick, so failure-proof. And they're less costly than homemade. For delicate browning and maximum volume, be sure the tube pan is sparkling clean inside and out. Follow package directions for mixing and baking. Then fill and frost with this new, creamy pineapple frosting. ■

- |  |                                    |
|--|------------------------------------|
| 1 package angel food mix                             | 3 tablespoons confectioner's sugar |
| 1 envelope unflavored gelatin                        | $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon vanilla     |
| 1 tablespoon cold water                              | $1\frac{1}{2}$ cups heavy cream    |
| 1 14-oz can ( $1\frac{1}{2}$ cups) crushed pineapple |                                    |

Make and bake angel food as directed on package. Cool; split into two layers. Meanwhile, soften gelatin in cold water. Place in top part of double boiler. Drain pineapple, reserving syrup. Add  $\frac{1}{2}$  cup syrup and drained pineapple to gelatin. Add sugar and vanilla. Cook, stirring constantly, over hot water until gelatin is dissolved. Chill until thickened. Whip cream until stiff; fold into pineapple mixture. Spread between layers and on sides and top of cake. Chill. Makes 10 servings.

CUT CAKE into 2 layers with string. Cross ends, using saw action.

He'll Really Get a Surprise

KARSH—Ottawa

SEN. RICHARD NIXON: Teddy Roosevelt was a fresh air fiend . . .

. . . when he sits down at his new desk

I HAVE a hunch that the new veep, Sen. Richard Nixon, will be surprised by some of the history of furnishings in his new office in the Capitol.

Not that I happen to be an expert on the subject, it's just that I picked up some fine stories about the furnishings during several visits with Mr. Alben Barkley, who always conducted his Cook's tours with an emphasis on humor . . .

• Let's start with the mahogany desk. It had been bought for and used by President William McKinley until his death, after which it was stored in the basement of the White House.

• One morning, during Woodrow Wilson's second term as President, he was browsing through the storeroom when he came across the huge desk. When it was explained that it hadn't been used since McKinley was assassinated, Wilson merely smiled and said, "I like it better than mine—and since I'm not superstitious, send it up to my office!" . . .

A Big Bill

THE DESK, which was moved to Calvin Coolidge's office when he was vice-president, still looks like new, except for the right hand corner which was unintentionally marred (or improved) by Mr. Barkley. Hurriedly asked to sign a certain paper and send it to the President, Barkley grabbed the nearest pen and left his autograph imbedded in the wood.

History will record it as being one of the most expensive bits of whittling ever committed—for the paper he signed left an even deeper impression than the one he made on the desk—it was an E.C.A. bill for $3,000,000,000! . . .

The massive chandelier that hangs over the desk on which Sen. Nixon will rest his weary elbows, hides a delicious anecdote.

Comprised of 64 small chandeliers made of Bohemian crystal and sterling silver, it was purchased and placed in the White House by President Thomas Jefferson.

'Keep Awake'

O RIGINALLY illuminated by candles, the chandelier hung in the President's office at the White House until Teddy Roosevelt assumed office. A fresh air fiend, Teddy kept all windows open, and the tinkling sound, made whenever the breeze struck the crystals against each other, got on his nerves.

"The place for this," he decided, "is over the vice-president's desk. Having been a vice-president myself, I believe this tinkling sound is just what he needs to keep awake!" . . .

• The huge mirror hanging from the ceiling cost only $50 when Dolly Madison bought it in France back in the year 1811.

• However, it became the center of a Senate investigation when President James Madison listed a $30 duty item, charged by the Port of New York to bring the mirror into the States.

• After spending $2,800 to find out why $30 was squandered without specific authorization, the Senate decided to seize the mirror, and it was hung in its present location when Theodore Roosevelt became veep . . .

—NOT GOOD FOOD

Here's the secret millions of folks have discovered about FEEN-A-MINT, the modern chewing-gum laxative. Yes, here is why FEEN-A-MINT's action is so wonderfully different!

Doctors say that many other laxatives start their "flushing" action too soon . . . right in the stomach where food is being digested. Large doses of such laxatives upset digestion, flush away nourishing food you need for health and energy. You feel weak, worn out.

But gentle FEEN-A-MINT, taken as recommended, works chiefly in the lower bowel where it removes mostly waste, not good food! You avoid that typical weak, tired, run-down feeling. Use FEEN-A-MINT and feel your "peppy," energetic self — full of life! Get FEEN-A-MINT! No increase in price—still 25¢, 50¢ or only 10¢.

A LITERARY GUILD BOOK CLUB OFFER THAT MAY NEVER BE MADE AGAIN!

For 26 years the Literary Guild has been saving its members up to 50% of the retail prices of each year's best books. Almost without exception, Guild selections have been at or near the top of best-seller lists. Many, many of them have been made into great motion pictures. In almost every instance they have been the most widely-read, most frequently discussed books of their day—the exciting smash-hit books you read, or were sorry to have missed!

Why We Make This Unusual Offer

Nearly a million readers now belong to the Guild. We want you to know about its advantages—to discover from experience how convenient it is to get the books you want when you want them! We want you to realize how great your savings are—how you can get a $3.00, $3.50 and occasionally a $4.00 book for just $2.00 (plus shipping charge). We want you to know about the Bonus Books members receive FREE. Above all, we want you to be assured of the quality of the books the Literary Guild offers you—from which you select only the ones you want.

That is why, as an inducement, we offer to send you THREE of the books shown on this page on approval—two as your Gift for joining the Literary Guild and one as your first selection. If you are pleased, you pay only $2.00 and join the Guild on a trial basis; if not, you simply return the books and owe nothing.

How the Literary Guild Operates

Each month publishers submit their best books to our editors. From among them one is selected and fully described in "Wings", the illustrated magazine members receive monthly. As a member, whether or not you take a selection is up to you. If you decide you don't want a selection, you may choose an alternate or simply tell us not to send any book. It is not necessary to accept a book every month; you can take as few as four a year from the 50 or more offered. You may cancel membership at any time after you have accepted four books, but if you continue you will receive a FREE Bonus Book for each additional four Guild books you accept... a new work of fiction or non-fiction, or a beautifully printed, handsomely bound "Collector's Library" volume!

Send No Money—Just Mail Coupon

But you cannot appreciate all the advantages of membership until you try it! Why not do so now while you can have THREE books (a value up to $25.95 in the publishers' editions) on approval! You may return them within 7 days and owe nothing, or pay only $2.00 for all three and become a Guild member on a trial basis. Your sole obligation then will be to accept only three more books at $2.00 each during the coming year. So mail the coupon NOW—before you forget!

MAKES DISHES SHINE WITHOUT WASHING OR WIPING!

"VEL SOAKS DISHES CLEAN — SAVES YOU ALL THE HARD WORK!"

DON'T WASH — JUST SOAK
Dishes soak grease-free in seconds! No washing needed. If food clings, a touch of the dishcloth gets it off. There's no greasy dishwater with Vel — no ring around the pan!

DON'T WIPE — JUST RINSE
Yes! Just soak and rinse. Dishes dry streak-free without wiping! Even heavy grease in stew pots and frying pans is so completely dissolved no hard scouring is needed with Vel!

—AND YET NO 'DETERGENT BURN' TO HANDS!"

Prove it yourself!
"HAND-HEAT TEST" shows why.

Feel the heat
from laundry detergents, indicating presence of irritating alkalis and laundry chemicals that cause "Detergent Burn"!

Feel NO heat with Vel
That's because Vel contains no irritating alkalis — no harsh laundry chemicals to cause "Detergent Burn"!

Dip hands in water. Then put a tablespoonful of any leading laundry detergent in one hand — put a tablespoonful of VEL in the other.

FROM HIS FAVORITE PERCH ON A LOG OR STUMP HE ROLLS OUT HIS THUNDEROUS MUSIC

BUT HE MUST KEEP A SHARP LOOKOUT BETWEEN CHORUSES, FOR HIS DRUMMING MAY ATTRACT HIS ENEMIES

SINCE THE OWL'S EARS ARE TUNED FOR HIGH FREQUENCY SOUNDS ONLY, HE DOESN'T EVEN HEAR THE GROUSE

IN SPITE OF THE FACT THAT ONE OF HIS MOST DREADED ENEMIES, THE GREAT HORNED OWL, IS CALLING NEARBY

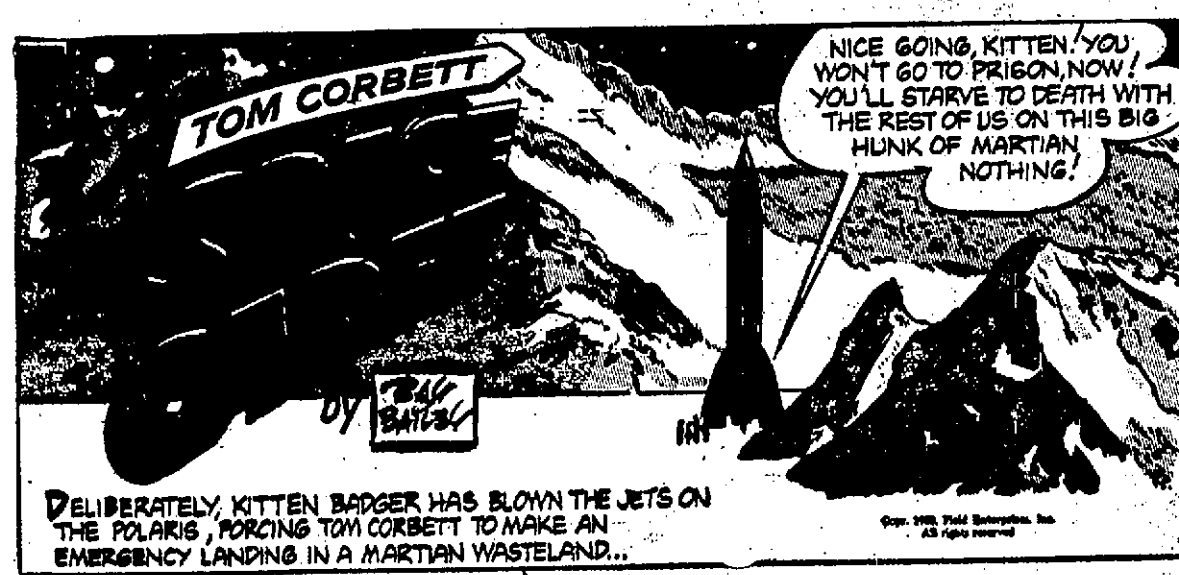

AND HIS DAYLIGHT SLEEP ISN'T INTERRUPTED, EVEN THOUGH THE GROUSE'S DRUMMING LOG IS DIRECTLY UNDER HIS BOUDOIR!

WHEN THE MALE RUFFED GROUSE SENDS HIS SOLING BOOM ECHOING THROUGH THE WOODS, IT CAN BE HEARD FOR A MILE IN ALL DIRECTIONS

ALTHOUGH IT WAS ONCE BELIEVED THAT THE GROUSE BEAT HIS WINGS AGAINST HIS 'DRUMMING LOG,' SLOW MOTION PHOTOGRAPHY HAS PROVEN THAT THE WINGS ALONE MAKE THE SOUND AS THEY RAPIDLY FAN THE AIR

DIAL SOAP removes the cause of perspiration odor!

DIAL with AT-7 (Hexachlorophene) cleans away thousands of odor-causing bacteria that ordinary soaps leave on your skin.

Just step into your daily shower or tub and lather-up with fragrant, rich-foaming DIAL Soap. It's the newest way — the most wonderful way ever — to end your worries about perspiration odor. For DIAL gives you the wondrous deodorant-action of AT-7 (hexachlorophene).

No matter how often or how thoroughly you wash, ordinary soaps cannot effectively remove the skin bacteria that cause perspiration odor. But DIAL with AT-7 does. So odor never even has a chance to get started — any place on your body. You'll stay fresh all over — all day — with DIAL!

DIAL's creamy lather and gentle bacteria-removing action really protect your complexion, too. Get DIAL — both bath and complexion sizes, today!

DIAL DAVE GARROWAY, NBC, Weekdays

Better than ordinary soap!

Doctors proved it! No ordinary soap can get you so clean as DIAL with AT-7. In surgical scrub-up tests, doctors found that AT-7 soap leaves skin 10 times freer of bacteria than even strong hospital soaps. Yet DIAL is mild and gentle as a soap can be!

Better than deodorants!

Not just underarm — but all-over protection! That's what DIAL gives you — without stopping normal healthful perspiration. Because bathing daily with DIAL removes up to 95% of the skin bacteria that cause odor. Gives you all-over freshness no deodorant can equal!
